

Apt.-167½ Whitehall St.	$35.00	R. Apt.-123 W. Peachtree St.
Apt.-110 Cooper St.	20.00	R. Apt.-156 Courtland St.
Apt.-208 Rawson St.	20.00	R. Apt.-Harrison Court (800 Peach-
Apt.-111 W. Baker St.	55.00	R. Apt.-3 Woodward Ave.

EMPIRE TRUST & SAFE DEPOSIT CO.
 7100 EMPIRE BUILDING ATLANTA

MOST DEPENDABLE ROOMERS ARE SECURED THROUGH THE JOURNAL WANTS.

Buying Movement Was Resumed On More General and Excited Scale

LIVERPOOL CABLES WERE MUCH BETTER THAN DUE October and Later Deliveries of Cotton Made New High Records for the Season--Some

[illegible]

There was much regulation at the advance by the weather, but the race was not so much affected and was great enough to offset these effects. The race was a very close one, with the leading horses being the only ones to show points over the previous high levels for the season.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

The following were the rates for the cotton to the exchange today:

	Oct.	Nov.	Dec.
Open, High, Low, Last.
10.49 10.50 10.49 10.51	10.51 10.54	10.51 10.54	10.51 10.54
10.51 10.52 10.51 10.52	10.52 10.53	10.52 10.53	10.52 10.53
10.52 10.53 10.52 10.53	10.53 10.54	10.53 10.54	10.53 10.54
10.54 10.55 10.54 10.55	10.55 10.56	10.55 10.56	10.55 10.56
10.56 10.57 10.56 10.57	10.57 10.58	10.57 10.58	10.57 10.58
10.58 10.59 10.58 10.59	10.59 10.60	10.59 10.60	10.59 10.60
10.60 10.61 10.61 10.61	10.61 10.62	10.61 10.62	10.61 10.62
10.62 10.63 10.62 10.63	10.63 10.64	10.63 10.64	10.63 10.64
10.64 10.65 10.64 10.65	10.65 10.66	10.65 10.66	10.65 10.66
10.66 10.67 10.66 10.67	10.67 10.68	10.67 10.68	10.67 10.68
10.68 10.69 10.68 10.69	10.69 10.70	10.69 10.70	10.69 10.70
10.70 10.71 10.71 10.71	10.71 10.72	10.71 10.72	10.71 10.72
10.72 10.73 10.72 10.73	10.73 10.74	10.73 10.74	10.73 10.74
10.74 10.75 10.74 10.75	10.75 10.76	10.75 10.76	10.75 10.76
10.76 10.77 10.76 10.77	10.77 10.78	10.77 10.78	10.77 10.78
10.78 10.79 10.78 10.79	10.79 10.80	10.79 10.80	10.79 10.80
10.80 10.81 10.81 10.81	10.81 10.82	10.81 10.82	10.81 10.82
10.82 10.83 10.82 10.83	10.83 10.84	10.83 10.84	10.83 10.84
10.84 10.85 10.84 10.85	10.85 10.86	10.85 10.86	10.85 10.86
10.86 10.87 10.86 10.87	10.87 10.88	10.87 10.88	10.87 10.88
10.88 10.89 10.88 10.89	10.89 10.90	10.89 10.90	10.89 10.90
10.90 10.91 10.91 10.91	10.91 10.92	10.91 10.92	10.91 10.92
10.92 10.93 10.92 10.93	10.93 10.94	10.93 10.94	10.93 10.94
10.94 10.95 10.94 10.95	10.95 10.96	10.95 10.96	10.95 10.96
10.96 10.97 10.96 10.97	10.97 10.98	10.97 10.98	10.97 10.98
10.98 10.99 10.98 10.99	10.99 11.00	10.99 11.00	10.99 11.00
11.00 11.01 11.01 11.01	11.01 11.02	11.01 11.02	11.01 11.02
11.02 11.03 11.02 11.03	11.03 11.04	11.03 11.04	11.03 11.04
11.04 11.05 11.04 11.05	11.05 11.06	11.05 11.06	11.05 11.06
11.06 11.07 11.06 11.07	11.07 11.08	11.07 11.08	11.07 11.08
11.08 11.09 11.08 11.09	11.09 11.10	11.09 11.10	11.09 11.10
11.10 11.11 11.11 11.11	11.11 11.12	11.11 11.12	11.11 11.12
11.12 11.13 11.12 11.13	11.13 11.14	11.13 11.14	11.13 11.14
11.14 11.15 11.14 11.15	11.15 11.16	11.15 11.16	11.15 11.16
11.16 11.17 11.16 11.17	11.17 11.18	11.17 11.18	11.17 11.18
11.18 11.19 11.18 11.19	11.19 11.20	11.19 11.20	11.19 11.20
11.20 11.21 11.21 11.21	11.21 11.22	11.21 11.22	11.21 11.22
11.22 11.23 11.22 11.23	11.23 11.24	11.23 11.24	11.23 11.24
11.24 11.25 11.24 11.25	11.25 11.26	11.25 11.26	11.25 11.26
11.26 11.27 11.26 11.27	11.27 11.28	11.27 11.28	11.27 11.28
11.28 11.29 11.28 11.29	11.29 11.30	11.29 11.30	11.29 11.30
11.30 11.31 11.31 11.31	11.31 11.32	11.31 11.32	11.31 11.32
11.32 11.33 11.32 11.33	11.33 11.34	11.33 11.34	11.33 11.34
11.34 11.35 11.34 11.35	11.35 11.36	11.35 11.36	11.35 11.36
11.36 11.37 11.36 11.37	11.37 11.38	11.37 11.38	11.37 11.38
11.38 11.39 11.38 11.39	11.39 11.40	11.39 11.40	11.39 11.40
11.40 11.41 11.41 11.41	11.41 11.42	11.41 11.42	11.41 11.42
11.42 11.43 11.42 11.43	11.43 11.44	11.43 11.44	11.43 11.44
11.44 11.45 11.44 11.45	11.45 11.46	11.45 11.46	11.45 11.46
11.46 11.47 11.46

1865

1915

A Pocketful of Worry

LUXURIOUS transportation, pleasant companionship and delightful resorts will fail to give the tourist his money's worth of genuine pleasure if he is constantly anxious about the money in his pocket. Settle this cash-in-pocket nuisance before you go by obtaining one of our Letters of Credit or a book of Travelers' Cheques. Either of these will afford you the convenience of having a bank account in any city you may visit. Yet the cost is very small.

ATLANTA NATIONAL BANK
THE OLDEST NATIONAL BANK IN THE COTTON STATES

1000 N. W. COR. OF 10TH & W. W. AVE. ATLANTA, GA.

EASY TO TRANSPORT!
ALL SIZES

Wherever Grain Is Grown— The “CHAMPION” Is Known!

Big money for the thresherman who runs the “Champion.”

It will also pay the big farmer to buy one for his own needs.

A SUGGESTION:

If you crave success, buy a “Champion” Thresher and operate it with a “Focs” Gasoline Engine—the best one on earth.

Write for descriptive illustrated catalogs and prices. Mailed FREE for the asking!

Write us at once for complete information regarding the “CHAMPION” THRESHER and all other type of Farm Machinery, tool, accessories or expedient. All the latest appliances for lessening labor, increasing profits and improving conditions on the farm, and the cultivation and harvesting of crops are on our floors or in our warehouses.

“EVERYTHING BUT THE HORSE”

W. L. DARNLEY IMPLEMENT CO.

JAY, BOND & CO.,
96 S. FORSYTH ST. ATLANTA, GA.

JAY, BOND & CO.,
COTTON MERCHANTS.
Members New York Cotton Exchange, New Orleans Cotton Exchange.
Associated Members Liverpool Cotton Association.
96 BEAVERS STREET, NEW YORK.

Orders solicited for purchase or sale of cotton for future delivery. Liberal advance made on spot cotton for delivery. Correspondence invited.

B. C. COTHREN, Comptroller Building, Atlanta.

CAPTAIN JAMES WHITE DIES AT HOME IN ATHENS

Widely Known Banker Succumbs to Attack From Pneumonia

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
ATHENS, Ga., April 10.—Captain James White died at his home, Prince avenue, shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon, after an illness of a few days from pneumonia. He was Athens' wealthiest citizen and was prominently identified with many of her institutions.

Captain White was in his seventy-fifth year and up to a few days ago was attending to his duties as cashier of a bank with his signal ability. When a young man he attended the University of Georgia and later was a captain of a company in F. W. Adams' battalion, Confederate army.

For more than forty years he had been cashier of the National Bank of Athens. He was a trustee of the University of Georgia for years. He was interested in the cotton manufacturing business, principally the mills at Princeton, Whitehall, High Shoals and Laurel Shoals. He was also a member of the Athens bank commission.

He was married to Miss Julia Ashton, of Waynesboro, and is survived by his wife and two children, Mrs. W. F. Bradshaw, of Paducah, Ky., and Master James White, Jr., also a brother and two sisters, John R. White, Mrs. W. J. Morton and Mrs. M. W. Welch, of Athens.

Big School Rally

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
HARTWELL, Ga., April 10.—It was a big day for Hartwell Friday, the occasion being public school rally for Hart county. The exercises were held at the fair grounds and among the prominent speakers were M. L. Duncan, state supervisor for public schools and Senator T. E. Bonner, of the thirty-first senatorial district.

Pike County Court

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
HARTSWELL, Ga., April 10.—Pike superior court will continue during next week at Zebulon and there is much criminal business to be disposed of. Judge Robert T. Daniel will preside and Solicitor General E. H. Owen will represent the state.

THE JOURNAL'S SCHOOL OF BASEBALL Hints for the Young Catcher—No. 2

BY HUGH FULLERTON

THE FOUL FLY

ATLANTA WRITERS' CLUB WILL MEET ON MONDAY

The regular semi-monthly meeting of the Atlanta Writers' club will be held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the University club. Several interesting talks will be made by members, and a number of newspaper and magazine clippings dealing with the effects of the war on short story writing will be read. There will also be a discussion of the lecture on short story writing recently delivered here under the auspices of the club by Dr. J. Berg Esenwein.

DENTAL RESEARCH AND STUDY CLUB IS FORMED

To enable its members to do such research and study work as may be necessary to keep abreast of modern thought and methods, the Atlanta Dental Research and Study club has recently been organized, with Dr. Thomas P. Hinnan as president. The club is limited in membership to seven. They are Dr. Hinnan and Drs. C. N. Hughes, M. D. Huff, Joseph D. Eby, C. B. Mott, S. L. Silverman and Joseph D. Osborne. Only upon the resignation or death of one of these will a new member be received, and then only by invitation.

E. R. HAMILTON IS HURT IN MOTORCYCLE ACCIDENT

E. R. Hamilton, of 21 Douglas street, South Kirkwood, was run down and painfully hurt last night by a motorcycle at Pryor and Hunter streets at the old city hall corner.

Hamilton got off a Decatur car and had just doled a wagon when the motorcycle came round the corner and ran him down. His knee was badly injured. The driver of the motorcycle didn't stop, and no one could see his number. Several people who saw the accident chased the driver of the machine without success.

TROUP COUNTY FARMER DROPS DEAD AT LA GRANGE

Mr. W. H. Shirey Dies Suddenly While Standing at Soda Fountain

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
LAGRANGE, Ga., April 10.—Just as he was in the act of drinking a chocolate milk which he had ordered at the fountain of one of the drug stores of LaGrange, Mr. W. H. Shirey, aged sixty-seven, a well known planter of Troup county, fell dead this morning at 11:30 o'clock. He came to town from his home, six miles west of this place, this morning, apparently in the very best of health, and his death came as quite a surprise to his many friends.

The deceased was born in Harris county and moved to Troup about thirty-two years ago, when he was thirty-five years old. Besides his second wife, he is survived by four brothers, Messrs. N. F. Shirey, of Troup county; Jeff Shirey, of Carroll; and Will Shirey, of Heard; three sons, H. F. J. and W. A. Shirey, and five daughters, Mesdames Mattie Bigby, Emma Moore, Will Newcome, Maggie Toover and Pearl McWhiney. He was the uncle of Mr. W. H. Shirey, sheriff of Troup county.

The funeral will be conducted at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Vernon Missionary Baptist church by Rev. Mr. Martin.

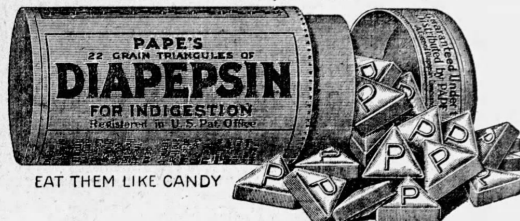

WILLARD SULLIVAN, OF ROME, SERIOUSLY HURT

(Special Dispatch to The Journal.)
ROME, Ga., April 10.—As the result it is said of a dispute over a baseball game, Willard Sullivan, a well known young man, aged nineteen, was slashed in the neck with a knife today and is at a local hospital in a critical condition. A comrade named James Duberry was arrested and is being held at the county jail pending the outcome of Sullivan's wounds.

Bankruptcy Petition
The M. C. Kiser company and other creditors, yesterday filed an involuntary bankruptcy petition against A. C. Polk, a West End dry goods and shoe merchant. Judge Newman appointed H. A. Ferris receiver.

PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN FOR INDIGESTION—IT'S FINE!

In Five Minutes! No Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sourness, Gases, Heartburn or Stomach Misery—Stops Acidity and Food Fermentation—A Pleasant, Quick, Sure Stomach Relief.

EAT THEM LIKE CANDY

You don't want a slow remedy when your stomach is bad—or an uncertain one—or a harmful one—your stomach is too valuable; you must not injure it with drastic drugs.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in giving relief; its harmlessness; its certain, unfailing action in regulating sick, sour, gassy stomachs. Its millions of cures in indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis and other stomach trouble has made it famous the world over.

Keep this perfect stomach doctor in your home—keep it handy—get a large fifty-cent case from any drug store, and then if anyone should eat something which doesn't agree with them; if what they eat lays like lead, ferments and sours and forms gas; causes headache, dizziness and nausea; eructations of acid and undigested food—remember as soon as Pape's Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach, all such distress vanishes. Its promptness, certainty and ease in overcoming the worst stomach disorders is a revelation to those who try it.

The Atlanta Journal and The New York Sun's MOTION PICTURES OF THE WAR IN EUROPE

Moving Pictures Taken on the Battlefields With Authority of the King of Belgium and Commanders of the Great Fighting Armies

The Most Vivid Record of Warfare Ever Made

SHOWN AT THE LYRIC THEATER ALL THIS WEEK

You have read in the newspapers the story of Belgian, Russian, German, English, French, East Indian, in the throes of the great struggle on the battlefields of Europe.

Now You Can See It In The Journal's Moving Pictures

You can see the Zeppelins over the outskirts of Paris—the British cruisers Cressy, Aboukir and Hogue, that were sunk by the German U-9—the panic-stricken run on the National bank at Brussels—artillery battle outside Louvain—the gallant Belgians fighting at Namur—the German army entering Brussels—the actual scene of the surrender of the capital to the Germans—the siege of Antwerp—the terror-stricken inhabitants fleeing from the doomed city.

You Can See Real Action

Secured by this daring corps of photographers. In the midst of flying bullets, bursting shrapnel, exploding shells, they coolly set up their cameras and took the pictures. It will thrill you to see the field gun in action in the south of Antwerp—engineers blowing up a bridge actually blocking the German advance at Lys—the swift, mad dash of dog-drawn mitrailleuses into a battle—the armored motor car speeding with messages of death to Sandomir—the wicked belching of long-range field guns in action—the heroic peddling of Catholic priests on bicycles to succor the wounded on the field of action.

You can see both sides—the GERMANS and ALLIES—ACTUALLY ENGAGED IN A BATTLE—the armored train at Arvin firing broadsides as it passes the daring photographer was standing on the cab of the engine, unprotected, while taking this picture—motor buses of all nations passing through Ypres on the way to Roulers—the bombardment of Ghent—and a thousand other details of life and death.

BEGINNING MONDAY APRIL 12—ALL WEEK

The Lyric Theatre
ADMISSION 15c AND 25c

FOUR PERFORMANCES
Daily, 2:30, 4, 7:30, 9 P. M.

BACK FROM THE FIRING LINE First Aid to the Wounded.

Paris, April 10.—At almost every station on the railroad you will see men scattered and wrecked for life, men who must face the future horribly mutilated, and yet their faces without a shadow of complaint or bitterness. It is the same in England, in France and in Russia, that all soldiers are learning their sufferings with the greatest fortitude.

The best aid these men have is within themselves. The human body is a machine, and it is a machine that can be broken down by infection from bullets when it is healthy, strong, active and with all of its functions fully alive and working. The best aid to this condition is a vegetable tonic and alternative that will first put the stomach and blood right, for these are dependent on one another, and stomach means good blood, and likewise good blood means good stomach.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery helps the stomach to do its work naturally and properly, stimulates the liver. The system is freed from poisons. The blood is purified. Every organ is rejuvenated. This "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce, is free from alcohol or narcotics. It is made from the roots and leaves of American forest plants, with refined glycerine, and is the best blood purifier, because it banishes from the blood all poisons and impure matter. It dissolves impure deposits and carries them out, as does all impurities, through the bowels, kidneys and skin. It has had a million cures of catarrh, untidy nerves, or a simply sick, get Dr. Pierce's Discovery today and start at once to replace your impure blood with the pure, clean energy and vigor, and you will bring back youth and vigor.

"TIZ" CURES TIRED, SORE, SWOLLEN FEET

So tired of burning, aching, calloused feet and corns?

Use "TIZ."

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

"TIZ" makes your feet glow with comfort, takes down swellings and cures the soreness and irritation of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "TIZ" makes your feet feel like corns, calluses and bunions. "TIZ" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more foot tightness—no more foot trouble.

WILL ERECT SIGN POSTS ALONG DIXIE HIGHWAY

Goodrich Company Manager Says Firm Is Greatly Interested in Proposed Road

R. J. Murphy, of Atlanta, the well known southern manager of the R. J. Goodrich company, manufacturers of automobiles here, says his company is very much interested in the proposed Dixie highway from Chicago to Miami, the route of the highway is definitely located, will erect 1,500 steel sign posts at a cost of $15.00 each, these posts to cover the entire route.

The R. J. Goodrich company is deeply interested in the Dixie highway. Eight years ago a representative of the company prepared the first detailed description of the route from Atlanta to Chattanooga, Nashville and Memphis, and practically all of the route surveyed by him in one day, and consideration as a part of the Dixie Highway.

The large attendance and the great interest at the recent meeting in Chattanooga were in themselves a sufficient guarantee that the Dixie Highway will be built. There is very little doubt that the entire route will be ready for tourists within two years, and each year the road will become better and better as the summer.

The touring bureau of the Goodrich company will make a special effort in stipulating interest in the Dixie Highway, sending a representative over the highway to make a detailed survey, compile road logs and gather other information of use to the tourist. This preliminary survey will cover all of the routes under consideration, and as soon as the finally selected route is announced the company will erect indestructible steel sign posts and issue a complete log for both directions.

The fifth Georgia regiment, headed by Col. Orville Hall, will attend church at a body at the First Methodist church on Sunday, April 11.

Rev. R. P. Baker, chaplain of the regiment has attended church as a body in a special service. It will be the first time in several years that the regiment has attended church as a body.

Mr. Eakes has taken a great interest in the regiment and has been very helpful in its movements. He has conducted open air services for the members.

Alleged Bandit Arrested
OKLAHOMA CITY, April 10.—Charles E. Eakes, one of the bandits of the Henry Starr gang of bandits, who robbed the Stroud, Okla., banks two weeks ago, was arrested today at Panchuska and taken to the jail at Muskogee, Okla., where he is being held.

General admission to the lecture will be free but those desiring best seats may reserve them for 25 cents each. They are on sale at Brown & Allen's.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Lectures Tuesday

DR. ANNA HOWARD SHAW.
FAMOUS SUFFRAGE FLAG
AT DR. SHAW'S LECTURE

Capacity Audience Expected to Hear Noted Woman Orator Tuesday Night

The city auditorium stage will be decorated for the lecture by Dr. Anna Howard Shaw Tuesday night with the first suffrage banner ever used in Georgia.

It was made in Columbus in 1895 by three ladies of that city—Mrs. H. Augusta Howard, the first president of the Georgia Woman Suffrage association, and her two sisters, Mrs. Claudia Maxwell and Mrs. Miriam Tuboe.

At that time only two states gave women the right to vote, these being Colorado and Wyoming. Today in twelve states the women participate in government and in several others constitutional amendments are before the people.

Widespread interest is manifested in Dr. Shaw's lecture, not only by members of the suffrage organization, but by others who know of her remarkable intellect and achievements. Her world-wide reputation as a suffrage advocate and public speaker will probably attract to the auditorium a capacity audience.

She will arrive in the city Tuesday morning from the suffrage headquarters at a reception committee representing the three suffrage organizations of the city. She will stop at the Winifred hotel. Tuesday afternoon a reception will be given in her honor at the hotel to which the general public is invited.

The lecture will start at 8 o'clock. General admission to the lecture will be free but those desiring best seats may reserve them for 25 cents each. They are on sale at Brown & Allen's.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

Dr. DeLoach Lectures
(Special Dispatch to The Journal)
HARRISBURG, Pa., April 10.—Dr. H. J. DeLoach, director of the 13th permanent station at Griffith, delivered his lecture on "Birds, and life and their commercial value to man" at the auditorium of Gordon Institute last night.

FOUR CANDIDATES FOR ORDINARY QUIT RACE

Taylor, Thomas, Wood and Carlos Mason Decide Not to Run

Four of the prospective candidates for ordinary of Fulton county to succeed Judge William H. Wilkinson, who has declined himself Saturday afternoon. Judge E. C. Clark, Walter C. Taylor, Thomas H. Thomas, chief judge of the municipal court of Atlanta; Henry M. Wood, chief clerk of the board of Fulton county commissioners, and Carlos M. Mason, former chairman of the board of Atlanta police commissioners.

This leaves four announced candidates and two prospective candidates. Those who have made positive announcement of their candidacy are Carlos M. Mason, former mayor of the city of Atlanta and ex-county administrator; Thomas H. Thomas, deputy clerk of the Fulton superior court; W. R. Hammond, ex-clerk of the Fulton superior court; and Paul Donohoe, Fulton county coroner. The two prospective candidates are Marcellus J. Anderson, who was chief clerk to Ordinary Wilkinson for many years and who came within fifty votes of being elected ordinary last year, and Hamilton Douglas, Jr., dean of the Atlanta Law school.

Superior Court Clerk Arnold Broyles, who will act as ex-officio ordinary until Judge Wilkinson's successor takes office, will call a special election for ordinary on April 30. But nineteen days will intervene before the election, and the various candidates will doubtless make whirlwind campaigns.

Only one of the four prospective candidates has eliminated themselves Saturday afternoon. Taylor gave out a statement. He was a clerk Taylor, and his statement follows:

TYLOR'S STATEMENT.—"Since the death of Judge John H. Wilkinson, who was my friend from my boyhood, scores of personal friends have urged me to offer as a candidate to succeed him as ordinary. This suggestion has come to me from men in nearly every walk of life, and I would not be stating all the facts if I failed to say that I deeply appreciated all they had said to do in my behalf should I enter the race. I am firmly convinced that I could make a most creditable showing for the office but I have decided not to take any part in the contest."

"The people of Atlanta only a few months ago re-elected me to the office of city clerk, a position I am proud to fill. To make the race for ordinary would necessitate my being away from the office of clerk during the campaign and that would not be fair to the public or myself. The salary of city clerk is small and the demands upon the office are great but by relations with everyone connected with the city government are of the most pleasant nature. It would be a poor trade indeed to leave these friends for another field even though the chance would bring a very material increase in salary."

Mr. Anderson, another prospective candidate, has made no public statement of his intentions. His friends, however, state that he is sure to be in the race and that his formal announcement will be forthcoming early this week. They say that fifty of Mr. Anderson's friends met Saturday afternoon in the Empire building and formed a temporary campaign organization in his behalf. A committee was appointed to arrange for the permanent organization and another meeting was called for Monday evening.

Mr. Anderson also an anonymous candidate, made the following statement to a number of his friends who presented him with a petition urging him to become a candidate:

"I had hoped that at least the Sabbath day would have intervened before a campaign for the successor of Judge Wilkinson would have been started. But I appreciate the enthusiasm you manifest in my behalf, and the large number of names you have secured to this petition urging me to run for ordinary. Your resolutions stress the fact that for twenty-five years I specialized in the administration of estates which

Mr. Anderson also an anonymous candidate, made the following statement to a number of his friends who presented him with a petition urging him to become a candidate:

"I had hoped that at least the Sabbath day would have intervened before a campaign for the successor of Judge Wilkinson would have been started. But I appreciate the enthusiasm you manifest in my behalf, and the large number of names you have secured to this petition urging me to run for ordinary. Your resolutions stress the fact that for twenty-five years I specialized in the administration of estates which

Mr. Anderson also an anonymous candidate, made the following statement to a number of his friends who presented him with a petition urging him to become a candidate:

"I had hoped that at least the Sabbath day would have intervened before a campaign for the successor of Judge Wilkinson would have been started. But I appreciate the enthusiasm you manifest in my behalf, and the large number of names you have secured to this petition urging me to run for ordinary. Your resolutions stress the fact that for twenty-five years I specialized in the administration of estates which

Mr. Anderson also an anonymous candidate, made the following statement to a number of his friends who presented him with a petition urging him to become a candidate:

"I had hoped that at least the Sabbath day would have intervened before a campaign for the successor of Judge Wilkinson would have been started. But I appreciate the enthusiasm you manifest in my behalf, and the large number of names you have secured to this petition urging me to run for ordinary. Your resolutions stress the fact that for twenty-five years I specialized in the administration of estates which

Mr. Anderson also an anonymous candidate, made the following statement to a number of his friends who presented him with a petition urging him to become a candidate:

"I had hoped that at least the Sabbath day would have intervened before a campaign for the successor of Judge Wilkinson would have been started. But I appreciate the enthusiasm you manifest in my behalf, and the large number of names you have secured to this petition urging me to run for ordinary. Your resolutions stress the fact that for twenty-five years I specialized in the administration of estates which

Mr. Anderson also an anonymous candidate, made the following statement to a number of his friends who presented him with a petition urging him to become a candidate:

"I had hoped that at least the Sabbath day would have intervened before a campaign for the successor of Judge Wilkinson would have been started. But I appreciate the enthusiasm you manifest in my behalf, and the large number of names you have secured to this petition urging me to run for ordinary. Your resolutions stress the fact that for twenty-five years I specialized in the administration of estates which

Mr. Anderson also an anonymous candidate, made the following statement to a number of his friends who presented him with a petition urging him to become a candidate:

"I had hoped that at least the Sabbath day would have intervened before a campaign for the successor of Judge Wilkinson would have been started. But I appreciate the enthusiasm you manifest in my behalf, and the large number of names you have secured to this petition urging me to run for ordinary. Your resolutions stress the fact that for twenty-five years I specialized in the administration of estates which

Mr. Anderson also an anonymous candidate, made the following statement to a number of his friends who presented him with a petition urging him to become a candidate:

"I had hoped that at least the Sabbath day would have intervened before a campaign for the successor of Judge Wilkinson would have been started. But I appreciate the enthusiasm you manifest in my behalf, and the large number of names you have secured to this petition urging me to run for ordinary. Your resolutions stress the fact that for twenty-five years I specialized in the administration of estates which

Mr. Anderson also an anonymous candidate, made the following statement to a number of his friends who presented him with a petition urging him to become a candidate:

"I had hoped that at least the Sabbath day would have intervened before a campaign for the successor of Judge Wilkinson would have been started. But I appreciate the enthusiasm you manifest in my behalf, and the large number of names you have secured to this petition urging me to run for ordinary. Your resolutions stress the fact that for twenty-five years I specialized in the administration of estates which

Mr. Anderson also an anonymous candidate, made the following statement to a number of his friends who presented him with a petition urging him to become a candidate:

"I had hoped that at least the Sabbath day would have intervened before a campaign for the successor of Judge Wilkinson would have been started. But I appreciate the enthusiasm you manifest in my behalf, and the large number of names you have secured to this petition urging me to run for ordinary. Your resolutions stress the fact that for twenty-five years I specialized in the administration of estates which

LANDSCAPE ARCHITECT NAMED FOR THE FAIR

Robert B. Cridland of Philadelphia Will Lay Out Grounds and Park Development

Robert B. Cridland, a famous Philadelphia landscape architect, who has been named as the architect for the grounds of Atlanta county homes, yesterday was selected by the directors of the Southwestern Fair association to lay out the grounds for the fair at Lakewood park. Mr. Cridland was selected on the recommendation of a committee from the Atlanta chapter of architects composed of W. T. Downing, P. Thomson, Marvin and Harrison Bleckley, and was recommended to them by Atlanta architects. Mr. Cridland will begin work this week. He will first visit the fair at Syracuse, Toronto and Columbus, O., and after studying the arrangement of those fairs, which are among the best in the world, he will then design the grounds for the fair at Lakewood park. He will then design the site of the principal buildings, indicate the driveways, paths, plantings, etc., and confer with Atlanta architects for the purpose of giving them such data as will enable them to begin active work immediately on their plans for the buildings.

Each member of the Atlanta chapter of architects will be invited to submit competitive sketches of the general plan of buildings to fit into Mr. Cridland's landscape plan, and from these sketches the fair directors will select the plan of Mr. Cridland and a committee from the chapter will make selection.

The fair association has taken rooms on the sixth floor of the chamber of commerce building for draughtsmen to begin work on these plans, and it is the purpose of the directors that actual construction of the fair shall be started at the earliest possible date.

T. J. PARKER BUYS
FORSYTH ST. PHARMACY

T. J. Parker has bought the drug store at the corner of Forsyth and Luckin, known as the Forsyth Street pharmacy, and hereafter it will be known as Parker's drug store. New fixtures and improvements will be added, and an up-to-date place will be kept. (Adv.)

LOS ANGELES POLICE
CHIEF INDICTED AGAIN

The Superiority of Jacobs' Pharmacy

BANKRUPT SALE!

16 N. Forsyth St.
(On the Windward) Phone LW 1700

ALL THE GOODS

LEO FRESH, Auctioneer

AMERICANS ASK FOR TICKETS FROM MEXICO

State Department Receives Appeal From 308 Unemployed at Tampico

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, April 10.—Three hundred unemployed Americans have appealed to the state department for transportation from Tampico to the United States. The situation there was reported officially today to be serious. Food is scarce and the fighting at El Paso and vicinity indicated an early attack on the city.

Admiral Caperton with the cruiser "Washington" went to Tampico today from Vera Cruz on his own initiative to join the gunboats Petrol and Albatross. Officially, he was on duty as commander of the United States fleet in the Gulf of Mexico. He is expected to be in Tampico for several days. The state department has no news from the Calaca district, where the forces of General Obregon and General Villa have been engaged in skirmishing for several days. It is expected to be an important battle. General Obregon's American consular agent, usually at Villa headquarters, has come to Guadalupe to make representations to the local Villa authorities concerning the American tax to be imposed on American property and to which the British government as well as the United States has taken exception.

The Villa agency here protested to the state department today that the United States government is not intended to interfere with the neutrality of the United States. The state department has not intended to interfere with the neutrality of the United States. The state department has not intended to interfere with the neutrality of the United States.

MOSE STRAUS AND A. L. RAY AT THE DAYLIGHT CORNER

Mr. Mose Straus, who is a very favorably known to the shoe buying public, is the manager of the new department store, Mr. A. L. Ray, a well known gentleman who also is very favorably known as a retail shoe salesman, is also at the Daylight corner. Both of these gentlemen have extended a hearty invitation to their many friends, to stop in and see them.

The new department has a splendid assortment of men's shoes, featuring the celebrated HERSH shoes, for which the Daylight corner is now the home in Atlanta.—(Advt.)

CANADA IS CALLED UPON FOR MORE FIGHTING MEN

Second Expeditionary Force Is Asked for by Lord Kitchener

(By Associated Press.)
OTTAWA, April 10.—Lord Kitchener has called on Canada for a second expeditionary force.

The new force was given permission to fight by Premier Sir Robert Borden, who said that the call had been expected for some time.

Three months ago, General Kitchener was informed that the force was ready in Canada to go for Europe. Premier Borden said that since that time the war effort had been so increased that the force was needed and had made suggestions for its training and had made suggestions for its training and had made suggestions for its training.

Now that the summons had come, the second expeditionary force would go forward at an unrelenting pace in the new struggle to join the first expeditionary force at the front.

The Fly Escape Screen. A REVOLUTIONARY INVENTION.

But the old style does not serve it. Each time you pass in or out of a door a few flies enter in. Old style jail screens, now in common use hold them in. Our New Fly-Escape-Screens put them out. Thoroughly tested. No Experiment.

Costs No More.

Phone Main 2351

L. C. Reeves & Co., 411 Silvey Bldg.

OUTSIDE VIEW

Fly Screens Are Made For a Purpose

But the old style does not serve it. Each time you pass in or out of a door a few flies enter in. Old style jail screens, now in common use hold them in. Our New Fly-Escape-Screens put them out. Thoroughly tested. No Experiment.

Costs No More.

Phone Main 2351

L. C. Reeves & Co., 411 Silvey Bldg.

OUTSIDE VIEW

Fly Screens Are Made For a Purpose

But the old style does not serve it. Each time you pass in or out of a door a few flies enter in. Old style jail screens, now in common use hold them in. Our New Fly-Escape-Screens put them out. Thoroughly tested. No Experiment.

Costs No More.

FESTIVAL FOR BENEFIT GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY BIG SUCCESS

Nine Hundred School Girls, Gowned in All Colors of the Rainbow, March in Beautiful Pageant

Nine hundred school girls, gowned in all the colors of the rainbow, marched and performed last night at the annual festival for the benefit of the Girls' High School library. The pageant was an allegory of Spring's triumph over Winter and was an animated replica of the glorious week outdoor which Atlanta has just enjoyed.

Between 4,000 and 5,000 persons, parents and friends of the girl players, filled the boxes and circle seats, the arena being the scene of the pageant. The spectators were as enthusiastic as the girls themselves, and the rapidly succeeding figures of the ever-changing kaleidoscope were cheered and applauded.

The students of the Girls' High School and the English Commercial High school were the designers in the pageant. The grand march from "Aida" was the procession which ushered them into the auditorium, the entire marching eight abreast and the under-graduate sixteen abreast. They wore dresses dressed to typify the Maids of Bees, May Flowers, the Dawn, Sonnets, Bees, Brethren, Raindrops, Clouds, and Spring Sprites. The central figure of the parade, among whom the most of the action revolved, were Miss Mary Flowers and Miss Helen Raindrops.

The musical program incidental to the dance was of more than ordinary beauty. Warner's orchestra played "The Morning," "Forest Sprites" and "The Dawn." The songs were "The Lullaby from 'Jocelyn,'" "Strains from 'Blue Danube,'" and a grand finale of "The Dawn." The musical program incidental to the dance was of more than ordinary beauty.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

The pageant of the girls, on the most ornate and the most artistic ever presented on such a scale in Atlanta, and the teachers who planned and carried it out were given high praise by the audience.

Mayor Likely to Be "Investigated" for Official Joy Ride

Mayor Woodward and some councilmen are being investigated by council shortly for their participation in an official joy ride.

Council recently issued some rules against the promiscuous use for social purposes of the city's official automobiles. One rule was that such cars should not be taken out of the city except on a permit.

Mayor Woodward has had a difference of opinion lately with citizens over the character of payment to be used on South Pryor street. They wanted brick, while he favored concrete. The latter, he contended, being cheaper.

He has gone deeply into an investigation of concrete, and decided recently, in conjunction with Nym Hurt, chief of construction, J. N. Rufford, of the streets committee, and A. W. Faringer, of the mayor's committee, to go to Atlanta to see the mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

Now they are going out of the city in a city automobile and breaking a joy riding rule. The mayor and his delegation decided to make the trip alone.

"THE GERMAN CAUSE" TO BE SUBJECT OF LECTURE

Atlanta Will Have Heard 27 Operas and All the Great Stars When This Season Is Over

From all indications at the ticket counters, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

The out-of-town demand for seats is heavy, and news of many opera parties from other cities is reaching the Atlanta Music Festival association. All the Georgia towns will send delegations, particularly at the end of the week, and the hotels have reservations for many guests from Nashville, Memphis, New Orleans, Birmingham and the Carolina cities.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

SEAT SALES INDICATE BIG OPERA AUDIENCES

Atlanta Will Have Heard 27 Operas and All the Great Stars When This Season Is Over

From all indications at the ticket counters, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

The out-of-town demand for seats is heavy, and news of many opera parties from other cities is reaching the Atlanta Music Festival association. All the Georgia towns will send delegations, particularly at the end of the week, and the hotels have reservations for many guests from Nashville, Memphis, New Orleans, Birmingham and the Carolina cities.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

Only two Wagnerian operas have been offered by Atlanta, "Lohengrin" and "Tannhauser," his lighter and more popular works. It is possible that "The Mastersinger," a wonderfully tuneful and beautiful opera, may be given in the future, but it is hardly likely that such typically Wagnerian works are the opera of "The Ring" will be offered here, where audiences cannot be made up of Wagnerian devotees alone.

The later works of the French school have thus far not been given in Atlanta—"Lohengrin," and others of this type. But there is interest in the announcement that Geraldine Farrar hopes to revive the part of Salome in the Strauss opera next year, and if it is given a place with the Metropolitan it may possibly be on next season's Atlanta program.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

When the approaching opera season is over, the audience at the coming opera season will be fully equal to those of the past, for there is a heavy demand for seats and hundreds who did not purchase season tickets are hurrying to obtain choice seats for their favorite performances.

Week in Atlanta Movies

Two Theaters Add New Features to Their List, While Others Announce Favorites of Film World in Comedy, Thrills and Romance

Important changes of program are announced this week by a number of local motion picture theaters, while the list of stars booked for the daily features contain some of Atlanta's greatest favorites.

Charlie Chaplin, the comedian, appears no less than four times. Monday he is at the Alamo No. 2 and the Vaudeville in a brand-new Essanay release, "The Tramp." The Alpha also has Charlie in other comedies two days, Tuesday and Saturday, and announces that by special arrangement, his future bookings will include not only the standard Universal releases, but Mutual films as well.

The Grand has practically doubled its usual offerings by procuring Paramount releases and arranging for two big features instead of one daily, the first of which will be Victor Moore, "Anna Karenina," and "Anna Karenina," with Betty Nansen, Monday and Tuesday. The usual children's pictures, under the auspices of the Atlanta Woman's club, will be shown Saturday morning.

All this week at the Lyric the war movies of The Journal and the New York Sun will appear, the first films from Belgian battlefields.

The Strand announces two Mutual Masterpieces, "A Man's Mate," Monday, and "On the Night Stage," with Robert Edison, Thursday. A two-reel Keystone is also on the Strand program. The Alpha, in West End, has the usual run of franchises Mutual films.

The Montgomery and the Alamo No. 1 advertise some new pictures. The Alamo No. 1 is having great success at its Five Points location, and will add to it with such films as "The Verdict," Monday's feature. Two famous stars, Marguerite Clark and Maclyn Arbuckle, appear at the Montgomery while the most wonderful success Belasco ever produced, "The Girl of the Golden West," is booked for Wednesday and Thursday.

BRAND NEW SHOWS TWO BIG FEATURE FILMS DAILY

Atlanta motion picture patrons have had the greatest treat prepared for them that has been recorded in the progress of the enterprise in the south. Commencing on Monday the Grand will become the home of four of the leading and most exclusive producers of high class features—the Paramount pictures; the World Film corporation; the Fox Film corporation, and the Alliance program.

The new arrangement means that there will be a double bill each day—two first run exclusive features—all for the one price of admission. In addition the Paramount service to the program, the Grand admission scale will advance to 5 cents for children and 10 cents for adults.

Opening the week on Monday and Tuesday, one of the features will be a Paramount release, the Jesse L. Lasky four reel production of the funniest society comedy ever written, the successful play "Snobs," featuring Victor Moore, one of the principal comedians of the George M. Cohan forces until the motion picture managers secured his services. The other feature on Monday and Tuesday will be the Fox release of "The Tramp," a two-reel comedy starring Charlie Chaplin.

The special feature for Wednesday and Thursday will be Jacques Tourneur's great novel, "The High Hand," which was a famous serial in the Saturday Evening Post and that was afterwards one of the "best sellers" in novel form. Jacques Tourneur was an Atlanta newspaper man before he went east and became a writer of great value. While abroad he met Henry H. Harris, the theatrical magnet, and opened negotiations for the production of "The High Hand" and booked passage with the theatrical man to return to America on the Titanic. Both went to the bottom of the ocean with that ill-fated ship.

On Friday and Saturday Daniel Frohman presents a Paramount release in David Biazon's celebrated stage success, "The Blue Bird," with all stars. Another five reel feature for Friday and Saturday will be the World Film corporation release, Clara Kimball Young in "Hearts in Exile," a picture that will create a sensation.

There is great interest in the Saturday morning children's matinee at the Grand. The Picture selected by a committee from the Atlanta Woman's club, will be "The Girl of the Golden West," a new, and have attracted thousands of children who have applauded and enjoyed the program presented by the club women.

ALPHA GETS UNIVERSAL AND MUTUAL FILMS, GRADUATES TWICE.

Charlie Chaplin twice a week, "The Black Box" every Monday, Keystone comedies a week and the riskiest, the latest releases by the Mutual and Universal companies. Sounds pretty pretty, doesn't it? Well, that's the announcement from the Alpha theater, and it will hold good for weeks to come.

By special arrangement Manager Alpha Fowler has secured the Chaplin films, and the famous funny man will be seen at the Alpha every Tuesday and Saturday. He is there on Tuesday and Saturday of this week in roaring comedies.

The Keystone comedies will be shown at the Alpha every Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Monday of this week the screen is "Beating Hearts and Carpets," and Wednesday's Keystone is "Ambrose's Little Hatchet." Friday a third Keystone will be shown.

Acquiring both Universal and Mutual bookings, the Alpha is enabled to secure the best of such dramas as "The Girl Who Might Have Been," a two-reel Kaybee Monday; "His Captive," a Laemmle film, Tuesday; "Her Buried Past," Maeland romance, Tuesday; "The Master's Model," a Bison civil war drama, Friday; "The Streets of Make-believe," Iron drama, Saturday; and "The Mysterious Contraband," Thursday. The last named is a two-reel Gold Bell drama replete with thrills and gripping situations.

The popularity of "The Black Box," at the Alpha every Monday, is increasing with every week. This week the adventure is "An Odd Grudge," and two stars, Alma Little and Herbert Rawlinson, are at their best.

"GIRL OF THE GOLDEN WEST," BIG FEATURE AT MONTGOMERY.

Stars of note are on the Montgomery bill this week: Maclyn Arbuckle Monday and Tuesday in "It's No Laughing Matter," all-star cast playing "The Girl of the Golden West" Wednesday and Thursday, and Marguerite Clark in "The Goose Girl" Friday and Saturday. All three pictures have had the Paramount brand.

Local movie fans know a good picture when they see it, and few will miss "The Girl of the Golden West." This fa-

FACES YOU WILL SEE ON LOCAL SCREENS THIS WEEK. 1. Herbert Rawlinson, "The Black Box," Alpha Monday; 2. The Girl and Her Sweetheart, from "The Girl of the Golden West," Montgomery Wednesday and Thursday; 3. scene from "Snobs," with Victor Moore, Grand Monday and Tuesday; 4. Scene from "The Verdict," with Ethel Grandin, Alamo No. 1 Monday; 5. Marguerite Clark, favorite at Alpha; 6. Charlie Chaplin, "The Tramp," Vaudeville Monday; 7. Alice Hollister, Vampire in "The Siren's Reign," Alamo No. 2 Wednesday; 8. Harry Woodruff and Gladys Brockwell in "A Man and His Mate," Strand Monday.

Maclyn Arbuckle, is one of the most roving faces ever conceived. It will be sure to attract crowds to the Montgomery Monday and Tuesday.

Marguerite Clark in "The Goose Girl" is another great drawing card. This winning little enterprise is a pure favorite with Atlanta film followers, and in the screen adaptation of Harold M. Grady's success, she exerts all her charm and wondrous witchery.

CHARLIE CHAPLIN, "THE TRAMP," AT THE ALAMO NO. 2 ON MONDAY.

Charlie Chaplin in another new Essanay release is coming to the Alamo No. 2 Monday, and Tuesday "The White Mask," a three-reel society drama released by the Lubin company, appears, with Joseph Smiley and Lillie Leslie as the stars.

Other good films are booked for the week: "The Siren's Reign" Wednesday, a three-reel "Vampire" picture starring Alice Hollister and Anne Nilsson; "The Cipher Key" Thursday, a three-reel Lubin drama; and "The Third Commandment," Friday, either of the intense dramas based on the Ten Commandments.

The Chaplin film Monday is "The Tramp" in two reels. Movie fans are high class order as "A Night Out" and "The Champion," the two recent Essanay comedies.

"The White Mask" Tuesday tells how young Duke of Granville, left penniless by the death of her husband after a life of luxury at the Belgian court, becomes a dancer in order to provide proper advantages for her son, Victor. Her identity, which she conceals always behind a white mask, is finally discovered by Prince Nordoff, a rejected suitor. On account of the recent financial ship to America, Her fifteen years later, she enters the plot as the wealthy Mrs. Dean, soon to marry John Emerson, a millionaire, while her son is engaged to Francis Blane, a heiress. Nordoff, who has come to America, tries to interfere. Emerson in a false business scheme, and receiving young Duke, tries to blackmail her into aiding him. Her jealousy of Nordoff's secretary, Mrs. Blane, former fiancée of Emerson's, wrecks Nordoff's plans and he informs Emerson that young Duke is a former dancer. Emerson breaks the engagement. Victor remembers with him, they fight and Emerson is killed. Nordoff, Victor remembers with him, they fight and Emerson is killed. Nordoff, Victor remembers with him, they fight and Emerson is killed.

DRAMA OF LOVE AND MYSTERY AT ALAMO NO. 1 ON MONDAY.

The Alamo No. 1, the popular Five Points theater, offers a crackling program daily this week, with two-reel dramas and good comedies throughout. Among the stars who will appear are Ethel Grandin, Bob Farley, Lillian Hamilton, Marion Swanson, Stuart Holmes, Otto Kruger, Sidney Gray, James Anbery, George Larkin and Vivian Prescott.

The Verdict, a two-reel drama of love and mystery Monday, starring Ethel Grandin, tells the story of Elliot Courleigh, daughter of John Courleigh, a millionaire, facing ruin unless Arthur Whitney, the man she hates, comes to his rescue. Loving his daughter above all else, Courleigh plans suicide. But she discovers it, breaks off her engagement to Carroll James and secretly and at night goes to Whitney's apartment. He tries to kiss her as she pleads with him for her father. Suddenly a bell rings and Whitney hides her in the next room. It is Carroll James, come to tell her that he is a scoundrel for at the moment to force Courleigh to let his daughter come to tell him he will never succeed. They struggle, Carroll kills him and flees. Ethel, coming from the

THE ALPHIA

MONDAY

The Black Box (An Odd Grudge)

With Herbert Rawlinson and Ann Little

FOURTH EPISODE

"The Girl Who Might Have Been"

A two-reel Kay Bee drama; also a Keystone comedy.

TUESDAY

CHARLIE CHAPLIN

The Prince of Fun Makers, also

"HIS CAPTIVE"

A Two-Reel Lamele Drama.

WEDNESDAY

ALAMO NO. 2

The House With the Clean Policy

MONDAY

Charlie Chaplin

In a screaming two-reel comedy.

"The Tramp"

TUESDAY

Jos. W. Smiley and Lillie Leslie in a great three-reel society drama—THE WHITE MASK.

WEDNESDAY

Alice Hollister and Anna Nilsson in a powerful three-reel vampire feature—"THE SIREN'S REIGN."

THURSDAY

"THE CIPHER KEY"—a three-reel Lubin drama.

FRIDAY

"THE THIRD COMMANDMENT."

Special Attraction—Olympic Quartette

The Montgomery

Presents

"The Girl of the Golden West"

In an All-Star Cast

Wednesday & Thursday

Monday & Tuesday

Maclyn Arbuckle

In

"It's No Laughing Matter"

Friday & Saturday

Margaret Clark

In

"The Goose Girl"

Admission 5c and 10c

THE STRAND

MONDAY

"The Girl and Her Sweetheart"

Mutual Master Picture in five parts, with Robert Edison, Wm. S. Hart and Rhea Mitchell.

Vaudeville

MONDAY

"The Tramp"

2-Reel Essanay

FEATURING

CHARLEY CHAPLIN

TUESDAY

"The Exploits of Elaine"

WEDNESDAY

"Janet of the Chorus"

2-Reel Vitagraph

FEATURING

NORMA TALMADGE

That Texas Quartette

THE ALSHA

84 GORDON STREET

MONDAY

The $20,000 Mine Mystery

Also a Keystone and Thana-hauser.

THURSDAY

Exploits of Elaine

Pathe Serial

FOUR KEYSTONES A WEEK

See Today's Daily Guide For Complete Program

5c admission 5c

Mutual Master Pictures

Come on Out to the Golden West

With us for an hour or so and see

A Man and His Mate

A WONDERFUL MASTER PICTURE.

Then you'll take a long breath and be glad that the world is still full of red-blooded men and good women.

Wednesday

Feature Keystone Comedy

Thursday

"On the Night Stage," Mutual Master Picture in five parts, with Robert Edison, Wm. S. Hart and Rhea Mitchell.

THE STRAND

This Week at the Theaters

In addition to the address which he is to deliver in Athens, Chairman Hunter is to speak on April 16 and again on April 17 on similar subjects before prominent southern commercial organizations.

ADULTS
10
Cts. "You"

Will Never Be Lonely at t

Committee
Club.
5 Cts.

Cts. "You'll Never Be Lonely at the Grand" Cts.

11

Convict, 26 Years At the State Farm, Refuses a Pardon

Wants a New Trial, Because He Says
He Isn't Guilty. Otherwise He Would Prefer to Live and Die as a Prisoner.

By Angus Perkerson

HE seems to have two reasons, one hard to understand. It is a willingness to die in prison, rather than be set free by a pardon which would assume he is guilty. The other is an attachment for prison because of the 26 years he has lived there.

His name is Rose Taylor, and on the charge of murder, he was committed for life in 1889. But instead of murder, he said he was guilty only of defending himself, and asked a new trial.

He entered prison a young man to remain there until he died, and now is between 55 and 60. The state farm hadn't then been established, and when it was, he became one of the first prisoners to go there.

He took with him an unusual conscience. Whatever he set to do, he worked at with infinite toil and a care to leave no detail undone. He was jealous of his prison record, as a man at liberty is jealous of his work and his reputation, with the exception that the convict worked simply for a well-earned wage.

At the prison they came, after awhile, to look on him, not as a prisoner, but as a part of the farm, as the buildings were a part of it. He seemed to have been meant to stay there, not as a punishment, but to do work that needed care and a pride in work.

All restraint, years ago, was taken from him, except that he can't leave the farm; and he was given charge of the express at the railway station, which is rather important, because all the supplies of the farm pass through his hands.

No employee could have worked as he has. To see that shipments were received properly, that nothing was lost, that bills were made out accurately, was as much his whole purpose as an absorbing undertaking with the possibility of rich reward would be the purpose of a free man.

He had no hope of reward. He was to continue to live as he was for the rest of his life, and he worked simply to work well.

At the farm, where they speak often of Rose Taylor, they spoke of him to Governor Slaton when the latter recently visited the farm to discover the forgotten prisoners there. Some have been imprisoned as long as 35 years, until all who knew them and cared about them are dead, and none remain to help them in any way, even to think of them.

The governor went, through the prison, searching for such prisoners, putting many questions to make sure which deserved his help, and hearing very often the name of Rose Taylor.

The prisoner, in the thoughts of the superintendent, wasn't a convict, but a good man. He had been brought to the farm by chance, and was doing well the work given him there.

The governor saw every man and woman at the farm and heard the story of all who could be considered for pardon and parole, and was driven to the station, where he was to return to Atlanta.

As he came in a man bent over a bale of cloth that was to be made into prison clothes.

"That's Rose," said the superintendent. The man, who was rather thick-set, straightened up, and looked at them in his friendly, smiling way. He had a stubby, white mustache, a broad kindly face, and eyes that twinkled quietly.

"You are Rose Taylor?" asked the governor.

He said yes.

"How long have you been here?"

Rose Taylor leaned against the crate of clothes, and rubbed his hand over his chin.

"Twenty-six years."

"Do you want a pardon?" asked the governor.

He thought over the question. "No," he answered, "I don't want a pardon."

He didn't raise his voice or change his position.

He said:

"I wasn't guilty of murder and I deserve a new trial. If I can't get that I'd rather stay on here. I've been here twenty-six years, and there's work to do and people to be helped. There's nothing more on the outside. Still, I'd like very well to be freed by a trial to show I wasn't guilty. But I wouldn't like to be pardoned."

He smiled, and, for a while, nothing was said. There seemed to be nothing to say. The convict moved the crate a little to show he must be about his work, and the governor offered to shake hands.

They shook hands and each other goodbye. Then, Rose Taylor went earnestly to work, as though he felt that he had been let off.

Now, at the capital is a memorandum:

"Rose Taylor—convict twenty-six years—wants a pardon—wants a new trial."

He said:

"I wasn't guilty of murder and I deserve a new trial. If I can't get that I'd rather stay on here. I've been here twenty-six years, and there's work to do and people to be helped. There's nothing more on the outside. Still, I'd like very well to be freed by a trial to show I wasn't guilty. But I wouldn't like to be pardoned."

He smiled, and, for a while, nothing was said. There seemed to be nothing to say. The convict moved the crate a little to show he must be about his work, and the governor offered to shake hands.

They shook hands and each other goodbye. Then, Rose Taylor went earnestly to work, as though he felt that he had been let off.

Now, at the capital is a memorandum:

"Rose Taylor—convict twenty-six years—wants a pardon—wants a new trial."

He said:

"I wasn't guilty of murder and I deserve a new trial. If I can't get that I'd rather stay on here. I've been here twenty-six years, and there's work to do and people to be helped. There's nothing more on the outside. Still, I'd like very well to be freed by a trial to show I wasn't guilty. But I wouldn't like to be pardoned."

He smiled, and, for a while, nothing was said. There seemed to be nothing to say. The convict moved the crate a little to show he must be about his work, and the governor offered to shake hands.

They shook hands and each other goodbye. Then, Rose Taylor went earnestly to work, as though he felt that he had been let off.

Now, at the capital is a memorandum:

"Rose Taylor—convict twenty-six years—wants a pardon—wants a new trial."

He said:

"I wasn't guilty of murder and I deserve a new trial. If I can't get that I'd rather stay on here. I've been here twenty-six years, and there's work to do and people to be helped. There's nothing more on the outside. Still, I'd like very well to be freed by a trial to show I wasn't guilty. But I wouldn't like to be pardoned."

He smiled, and, for a while, nothing was said. There seemed to be nothing to say. The convict moved the crate a little to show he must be about his work, and the governor offered to shake hands.

They shook hands and each other goodbye. Then, Rose Taylor went earnestly to work, as though he felt that he had been let off.

Now, at the capital is a memorandum:

"Rose Taylor—convict twenty-six years—wants a pardon—wants a new trial."

He said:

"I wasn't guilty of murder and I deserve a new trial. If I can't get that I'd rather stay on here. I've been here twenty-six years, and there's work to do and people to be helped. There's nothing more on the outside. Still, I'd like very well to be freed by a trial to show I wasn't guilty. But I wouldn't like to be pardoned."

He smiled, and, for a while, nothing was said. There seemed to be nothing to say. The convict moved the crate a little to show he must be about his work, and the governor offered to shake hands.

They shook hands and each other goodbye. Then, Rose Taylor went earnestly to work, as though he felt that he had been let off.

Now, at the capital is a memorandum:

"Rose Taylor—convict twenty-six years—wants a pardon—wants a new trial."

THEDA BARA, creator of the "Vampire" role in moving pictures, who will pose in Atlanta next week or the week after, in various moving picture scenes to be photographed here.

BEAUTIFUL VAMPIRE TO POSE HERE

Scenes to Be Photographed Here

THEDA BARA will pose here next week or the week after, in various moving picture scenes to be photographed here. She is starring, hasn't decided definitely the work to be done in Atlanta, but it will consist in detached scenes and not a complete play.

William Farnum and Nance O'Neil probably will pose here also. The Edison company staged several plays near Atlanta; since then, diversity of scenery in Georgia has begun to attract other companies.

Created Vampire Role Theda Bara created the "vampire" role in moving pictures, those parts like the tortured scenario from Kreutzer Sonata, in which she is a woman of many allurements. But the scenes in which she will play here probably will call for more ingenious roles in society plays. The Fox Film company, with which they will begin posing here.

Georgia Men Knew Bismarck

AUGUSTA, Ga.—The recent anniversary of the birth of Prince Bismarck, the great German statesman, recalls a friendship that existed between Bismarck and three Americans, one a resident of Augusta and another of Atlanta. Before the Civil war, Amory Coffin, a young Charlestonian, who subsequently moved to Aiken and who was the grandfather of G. R. Coffin, of Augusta, was in Germany at school. There he roomed with Mitchell King, father of Alex C. King, a distinguished member of the Atlanta bar, with John Lathrop Motley, who became author of the "Rise of the Dutch Republic," and with Otto von Bismarck.

The young Americans became much attached to the quiet and studious Bismarck and the several years they were at Goettingen the four were almost inseparable. All four of the young men became distinguished. Coffin and King as physicians, Lothrop as a historian and Bismarck as the man who welded the German states together and made the German empire.

Georgia Negro Is Turning White

THE arms and part of the body of a negro living near Alamo, Ga., in Wheeler county, have turned white. The brown coloring of his face is growing lighter, and round his nose and his eyes are distinct white lines. His nails are pink, and the skin of his hands is indistinguishable from that of a white man. His lips also have assumed a rosy hue.

Doctors at Alamo have examined the negro and say that he is suffering from no disease. They cannot account for the bleaching of his skin. In their experience it is an unheard of phenomenon. The negro's name is Jim Allen, he is about twenty-five years old, and he owns a farm near Alamo. Fifteen years ago the color of his skin began to change, and each year has grown a shade lighter. It is said now he is over one-half white. Before the bleaching of his skin began he was dark brown in color—not a mulatto, but of lighter coloring than the usual negro. First his hands began to change, then his arms and body, and now his face. On his arms remain small brown spots, but except for these his skin from his shoulders to his fingertips is perfectly white.

He is married and has several children, but they have shown no disposition to turn white. The man himself is strong and hearty, works his farm, and shows no signs of sickness.

But negroes near Alamo are afraid of him. They say he has been bewitched.

Silent Heiress at Rome, Ga. Who Is The $100,000 Girl?

Keeps Her Legacy a Secret to be Sure
She Is Not Loved for Wealth. She Doesn't Buy an Electric Coupe and Only One Spring Hat.

ROME, Ga.—S-h-h-h-h! Listen! Mystery, beauty, a legacy, all are bound up here in one delicious bit of gossip, a spoken tid-bit such as seldom comes to lighten the monotone of conversation.

Here there lives an heiress known to no one. She is young, she is beautiful. But who is she? Every one shakes his head. No one is to know till after the preacher's "Bless you my children."

The beautiful little heiress is hiding herself from false friends and faithless suitors. She wants to be valued for her sweet sake's sake, and insists that none here but her nearest and dearest shall know of her fortune.

She won't be loved for wealth, and to be sure none seeks her for fortune's sake, she keeps her inheritance a secret.

Everywhere in Rome she hears the story of the legacy girl, and that wondering question: "Who can it be?" Just so folks wondered in "Cinderella." "Who owns the glass slipper?"

Trame Rumor, says the Rome Tribune-Herald, fixes the legacy girl's fortune at $100,000 and never less than $100,000.

Dame Rumor further says this handsome legacy came from the division of an estate, and is in real money deposited in the banks of another city.

What is more, adds Rumor, the legacy girl in keeping the even tenor of her way, spends no more money than a year ago, hasn't bought an electric coupe, and only one spring hat.

If you were to meet her you wouldn't know she was the legacy girl. And what's more, continues Madame Rumor, she doesn't mean, for a long, long time, than any one shirt.

The reason? Just as we said.

She intends that no one shall love her except for herself alone. According to Rumor she won't have the wealth-inspired friendship of women; and, above all, she fees the money-prompted affection of men.

"Therefore," says the Tribune-Herald, "she resolved to adopt 'mum' as her motto, and to see how matters turned out believing this course would be conducive to her future happiness, and would prevent her any future doubts that mercenary motives and not true love actuated her husband."

"The mystery opens an attractive vista. Young men wonder if perchance their partner at the Nine O'clock German is the silent heiress. Enamored ones speculate as to the possibility of this chance, on the wedding morn, she would announce saying: 'I'm the hundred-thousand-dollar girl.'"

"Some youths, it is said, are overlooking no chances; their attentions are assiduous to every maiden under 50 who, by any remote contingency, might be the legacy girl."

Are Wedded On License Issued 21 Years Ago

SAVANNAH, Ga.—Using a marriage license issued twenty-one years ago, Henry D. Bosford and Mrs. Mary Jane Perrell were married recently in the office of Justice of the Peace Angus McCall, the justice performing the ceremony.

"There are reasons why we put off the marriage and there are reasons why we want to be married now," the bridegroom is quoted as saying when asked why the marriage had been delayed so long. Mr. and Mrs. Bosford live five miles from Savannah on the Louisville road.

She is said to be the widow of "Jim" Perrell, who was killed about twenty-three years ago. It was never definitely known who shot him. A man was tried, but was acquitted. The shooting is said to have started a feud that lasted until it claimed several other lives.

Mr. and Mrs. Bosford are about 70 years of age. They drove alone to the office of the justice of the peace in Bryan street, west.

Mr. Bosford presented the license and asked that the ceremony be performed immediately. The license was issued May 12, 1894. It was a little yellow from age, but otherwise in a perfect state of preservation.

Girl a Second in Young Men's Duel

COLD WATER, Miss.—Miss Agnes Farmer, 18, was forced to act as second for two boy friends, who fought a duel recently on the highway. Harvey Hurt, 23, was driving Miss Farmer home in a buggy. They met Ira Scott, 24, coming to town on a load of cotton.

The men had quarreled over an affair of no interest to Miss Farmer. When they met in the road the row was resumed. The girl pleaded for peace, but the men wanted to fight. The men stepped off 20 feet and opened fire. During the duel Miss Farmer was in the buggy. She was wounded three times. Hurt was hit twice in the left shoulder and once in the neck. Scott was shot twice in the left lung and is seriously injured. Another shot broke his right arm.

Diamond Safe, but They Can't Get It!

DALLAS, Texas.—Somewhere inside of James Williams, 19, under two years' sentence for diamond theft, is a $10,000 diamond. He admitted today that he swallowed it when he was captured. Lloyd Insurance company which has a $1,000 reward for the recovery of the gem, wants to operate. The boy's attorneys say no.

Whittlers Ruin Telephone Pole

SANDERSVILLE, Ga.—The whittlers have so nearly reduced the lower part of the big pole at the city drug store corner that it has been applied with another pole bolted to it to prevent it from snapping off where pocket knives have reduced its circumference, says the Sandersville Georgian.

Georgia Militia Black Kitcheners' Men Says Fork Baskerville

Former Atlanta Newspaper Man, After Service With Cavalry Regiment, Says Britishers Are Miserably Clothed, Fed and Officered. He Spent Three Wretched Months Drilling.

By Ralph Smith.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 10.—Kitcheners' new army is miserably clothed, poorly fed, and officered by mere youths whose ignorance of war and military training is appalling, says W. M. Baskerville, formerly of Atlanta, after three months' service in King Edward's Horse, a cavalry regiment mobilized at Watford, Herts, England.

"Mostly Baskerville, known through newspaper work in Atlanta, Nashville, Louisville and Washington, sailed in December from Boston on a cattle ship with Rutledge P. Gardner, another newspaper man, to join the British army, and returned ten days ago to Washington.

"It is my frank opinion," he said, "from my experience in Kitcheners' new army, and my observations of the national guard of Georgia, Tennessee and elsewhere, that in a battle the state militiamen could defeat twice their number. The average officer of the national guard is far superior in military training to the average officer in Kitcheners' army."

"Personally I don't care whether I joined the allies or the Germans. I was entirely neutral. What I wanted was to get to the front and see as much as possible of the biggest war in history."

"I saw no actual fighting, but I did see service in an organization camp. "What I observed and experienced convinced me that what Sherman said of war applies also to the preparation, or training, for it."

"A couple of days after our arrival in London we sought to enlist in the Strathcona Horse, a cavalry regiment of the first Canadian contingent, stationed at Salisbury Plain, but the enlistment had been closed."

"A desire to join the Royal Flying Corps was killed when we learned that the enlistment carried 'year's' active service and four years' reserve service."

Weighed, Measured And Accepted as British Soldiers

"At Scotland Yard, we learned they were taking men for a cavalry regiment called 'King Edward's Horse,' the king's overseas domestic regiment. We made application for enlistment, and were sent to an adjoining room, where, with about twenty other fellows, we were stripped and examined by an army physician. He weighed us, measured us, took our chest expansion, tested our eyes, examined our teeth, made us walk, jog trot and jump, gave us a pair of reins tied to a post, and put us through preliminary riding movements with the arms. It was with some trepidation that I got back into my clothes and in an adjoining room awaited the doctor's verdict."

"Both Gardner and myself passed a fraternal examination, and were detailed to the first division of King Edward's Horse. All but two others who were examined at the same time were in the second division. In still another room we had to face a battery of questions. A big fierce-looking sergeant, asked us where we were born, how old we were, if we were married, if we were British subjects and ninety-nine other questions."

"The first place that popped into my mind was Toronto, Canada, so I told him I was born there. He said, 'Can't you be a little more specific?' and fortunately, I had corresponded with a man who lived in Rosedale, a section of Toronto, and I mentioned it. Gardner followed suit. The next thing was the oath to the king."

"A few minutes later we received our first pay and our first intimation of British discipline. We marched to the paymaster's room, and had scarcely entered the door when an auto-bulldozer bawled out, 'Take your hats off, you bloody fools.' Our hats came off. As our names were called, we walked to the paymaster's desk and each man was given one shilling and nine pence (35 cents). This was a mess allowance and was supposed to buy our food until 10 o'clock the next day, when we were to entrain for Watford, Herts, England."

"We reached Watford the next day, traveling on passes, via the London and Northwestern railroad, to remind me of Atlanta, Louisville and Nashville, in all of which cities I have worked, to see the 'L. & N. R.' re-ported at once to headquarters. We were forced to wait six hours outside the building. Then we were given mental numbers in the reserve squadron, and turned over to a corporal of the same squadron who remanded us five miles to a vacant house. We didn't get any supper that night, and we slept on the floor of an attic room."

"About 6 o'clock the following morning, the same corporal came up and told us we had ten minutes in which to get dressed and get to the stables. "The name of our billet was 'Derby House.' From the house we went to a stable several hundred yards to some stables in the rear of a 'pub' (British for saloon) named the 'Derby.' The stables were in civilian clothes, (muffs, as the English call it), we were each given three horses to groom, water, feed and groom. The stables had a half and a half, and we were both roundly cursed for the condition of our horses at the end of that time. We doubled up to the billet, where a breakfast of two pieces of bacon and two pieces of bread was served in the hall. "At 8 o'clock we turned out for parade. This means that we reported to the headquarters of the reserve squadron and stood at attention in the rain until the sergeant major, Metcalf, came out and called the roll. Immediately after roll call, guards were posted. One man was picked to guard each stable, to prevent the horses being poisoned or being stolen. One man was picked to serve as cook in each billet; one man was picked to sweep the rooms in each billet; and four men were picked to groom and saddle the officers' horses."

"Each guard was given an old Lee-Modford rifle, an antiquated English weapon. The rest of us, mostly in civilian clothes, were sent to the various stables to exercise and ride horses. Sixteen of us were picked for riding and the remainder led horses. There was scarcely a man of the sixteen who knew how to saddle a horse properly, and it took something over an hour to get us ready for our ride. Finally, the order: 'Stand to your horses' came. Each man gripped the reins under his horse's chin with his right hand and stood with his feet in line with the fork feet of the horse, facing Sergeant Major Metcalf."

"Although we knew there were only sixteen of the present, and he himself knew it, he bawled out: 'From the right number, and we numbered 'one, two, three, four, five,' etc. Then came the order: 'From the right, tell off by sections, and we numbered again by fours. Then: 'Flanks of sections proved,' and numbers 'one' and 'four' of each section shot their left arms straight out."

"As you were," again commanded the sergeant major, and we were again standing to our horses. On the order, 'prepare to mount,' the odd numbers advanced to horse's length, and turning, gripped the reins with the left hand, gripped the horse's neck and facing to the rear, inserted the left stirrup and stood that way until the order to 'mount' was given."

"That order was the signal for pandemonium. The recruits scrambled on the horses as best they could. The animals, all of which were remounted and unbroken for cavalry work, began plunging, rearing and kicking."

"Four corporals, the sergeant major and the line guard on duty in the stable went to the rescue of the recruits in distress, and after a time a zigzag line was formed. On the command 'advance from the right by half sections at the walk, March!' all the horses were turned to the right and the troop rode away in pairs."

"The civilians on the streets of Watford rushed into stores, shops and all other available shelter as soon as the troop appeared. I was somewhat shocked at the scattering flight, until an automobile passed. The ranks of the troop were immediately broken. Some of the horses jumped on the sidewalks; others decided to go in the opposite direction. Three or four fellows were thrown."

"After some difficulty we got under way again and proceeded to Cassiobury Park, the estate of the Earl of Essex, and there we put in the most miserable three hours that I have ever experienced. In single file we were taken over by our riding master, who made our horses trot continuously for two hours."

"It was some time before my teeth were shaken out and the back of my head felt as if my spinal column had been rammed into my brain. There were numerous spills and as our feet were shoved home in the stirrups two or three fellows were dragged a considerable distance by their horses. When the orders to 'halt,' 'prepare to dismount,' and 'dismount' were given, we were indeed thankful, but we little knew what was in store for us."

"After five minutes' rest we mounted again and rode into a section of the park where tree trunks were arranged in a large circle. They were piled up on top of each other to a height of about three feet and a half and about thirty yards apart, with a box jump at the end."

"With our right hands on the horse's neck, the snapper rein held by a sergeant, and mounted, and our arms folded, we were taken over the jump. We were told in forcible terms to keep our arms folded and to fall off rather than grab hold of either the horse or the saddle for support. No one who hasn't been through this experience can imagine the mental and physical torture it occasioned. My legs were so tired from gripping the horse in a two hours' trot that they trembled when I attempted to grip the horse. I understood later that the same feeling was general among the other fellows. Since the horse was so tired and injured they were sent to the hospital. In some manner I managed to stick on."

Next Day He Was Thrown Three Times Landed in the Mud

"The next day the same course of training was observed. Additional recruits took the places of those injured on the previous day. My luck had deserted me. I was thrown three times. We dashed around the jumping stage, and Gardner reached the top. On the first jump my horse balked and I shot over his head and over the jump, landing on my back in the mud."

"Who he hell told you to dismount?" yelled Lieutenant Buxton, the riding master and I clattered astride the horse as quickly as possible and we dashed away for the other jumps."

"I was thrown three times on the horse's neck when he cleared the first bar and he went over the second bar without me. Again I had to mount and take the box. This time I was landed by my teeth, but just in time Buxton yelled, 'All right, dismount!' I fell on my back and the torture continued. Each day we were getting sorer and sorer and the training was increasing in pain, stunts, and including regular troop drill in the daily program. On the tenth day we were ordered to the regular regiment. We were marched two miles and a half to Grove Mill, the head-

Millinaire Tells Stories of Atlanta Federal Prison

Mountaineers Expected Hyde to Form a Moonshine Trust. Visionary Convict Believed He Had a Formula for Making Gold. Rewards Were Offered to Cure Cussers.

By Ward Greene.

STORIES of prison life that are full of human interest and sunshine, were told by Frederick L. Hyde on his release two weeks ago from the Atlanta Federal penitentiary.

Hyde is the California millionaire who was convicted in the famous and fraud indictment under the Roosevelt administration. He spent $100,000 fighting his case through all the courts for eight years; and when he was finally sentenced, spent between three and four thousand at the Atlanta pen on sports and amusements for his fellow prisoners. He was known as "the angel of the prison" for these deeds, and from the make-believe man "because he determined to play as if he were there just to study prison conditions."

He told me these stories the day after he was released on the order of President Wilson. He was just before his departure for San Francisco, and he sat in the grill room of the Piedmont hotel, eating an enormous bowl of bread and milk, his chief diet for weeks past.

Bet His Eggs 24 Times

THE prison, according to Hyde, is a lazy place. He said there are three men to every one man's job and that any talk about overwork is nonsense. The real trouble is not enough work to occupy the men's time.

"Many of them get so lazy," he said, "that they won't exercise. Lots of times I've gone around the cells and dragged them out and made them come to baseball or the playground."

In his dormitory Hyde had a gymnasium class. There were twelve inmates and each morning Hyde led them in "setting up" exercises. From his conversation it was evident this dormitory was almost a little club.

He exhibited a cartoon showing a typical inmate scene, "sweeping out day." It was drawn by one of his comrades. Hyde is shown sitting up in bed smoking a cigar and waiting to know who in the hall got his tooth brush. Barron, the editor of Good Words, is searching frantically for a copy of "Sartor Resartus." Others are sketched in various attitudes of stretched-out ease or hurried search for lost articles.

Hyde said that often he and his dormitory comrades would have a spread, consisting of "data" he had "swiped" from the hospital tables. The guards, however, closed one eye when he passed them with a butter knife in his pocket, carried out three omelets in his pockets, he said.

Hyde would turn to the next man at the hospital table and say, "You're not going to eat those rotten eggs, are you? Shockin'!" Or, "That bacon will ruin your digestion, man, leave it alone." And he would chuckle to himself as the fellow left the eggs and bacon untouched for Hyde to slip under his coat.

The prisoners, it seemed, were allowed two eggs every morning. One day Hyde saw Jim, a negro, carrying fourteen eggs. "Where in thunder did you get all those eggs, Jim?" he asked him. "Won't you bettin' on the ball game, Mister Hyde?" replied Jim. "But you had only two eggs; you couldn't have won more than two more." "Well, Mister Hyde, I grinnin' Jim," I bet my two eggs twenty-four times would various pussers."

Had he been very hot, said Jim, there would have been an absent nigger at breakfast the next day.

Hyde Wrote Everybody's Letters

LETTER writing was one of Hyde's principal occupations in the pen, letter writing for others.

When he first got there, all the negro prisoners used a formula to write home. It was taken out of an old book on "How to Write Letters" and was filled with grandiloquent words and phrases. Hyde was puzzled.

"Why do you use this letter?" he asked one of the darkies. "It's exactly the same as Tom's, except we've changed the names." "Dat's scuse a fine letter, Mister Hyde, we all wants to use it," replied the prisoner.

And so, until Hyde came, over fifty letters, all alike, went home to the negroes' families every week.

Hyde, however, agreed to write each negro's letter for him, real personal letters which got better than the formula replies and to know about the people he was writing to.

"It was great fun," he said, "especially the love letters. I used to spread myself on letters to the girls, and those darkies would say, 'Mister Hyde, you suttin' do write grand!'"

One of the moonshiners who could not read or write was boozed footed by a comrade, Hyde discovered. The friend was putting all sorts of stuff into the moonshiner's letters were coming back and read out much that was untrue when an answer arrived. As a result, considerable coolness arose between the Moonshiner and Mrs. Moonshiner.

"Let me write your letters for you," Hyde said, and the moonshiner agreed. Hyde began to insert tender passages in Mrs. Moonshiner's letters and soon correspondence between his wife and read out much that was untrue when an answer arrived. As a result, considerable coolness arose between the Moonshiner and Mrs. Moonshiner.

"Let me write your letters for you," Hyde said, and the moonshiner agreed. Hyde began to insert tender passages in Mrs. Moonshiner's letters and soon correspondence between his wife and read out much that was untrue when an answer arrived. As a result, considerable coolness arose between the Moonshiner and Mrs. Moonshiner.

"Let me write your letters for you," Hyde said, and the moonshiner agreed. Hyde began to insert tender passages in Mrs. Moonshiner's letters and soon correspondence between his wife and read out much that was untrue when an answer arrived. As a result, considerable coolness arose between the Moonshiner and Mrs. Moonshiner.

them good jobs. The negroes didn't matter much, you know, so I had those darkies everything from bookbakes to mayors."

Childish Ways of the Moonshiners

HYDE said that few of the convicts manifest any interest in the crime that sent a man to prison. Among most of them it is a genuine feeling of pity to try to pry into another's past. So there is not much talk of why they were sentenced.

The moonshiners are the exception. In their great, childish way, says Hyde, they have three good questions which they put to every newcomer: "How old are you?" "What are you in for?" how long do you stay?"

Hyde considers them the most ignorant lot of folk he ever met, although he loved them for their simplicity.

"What time is it in New York now, Mister Hyde?" said a moonshiner, approaching him with a canny look in his eyes.

"Twelve o'clock," said Hyde. "Just an hour later than it is here."

The moonshiner struck his big palms together excitedly. "I knowed it!" he cried. "Bull over there said it was the same time all over the world. But I knowed better."

They are a hard-working, lot, too; he says Hyde. They wanted to lay out the ball diamond for the prisoners, it was two moonshiners he hired at a dollar a day to grade it with their mules. And they finished the job in no time.

Prizes for Reformed Cussers

WHILE Hyde was not allowed to give away money to individuals in the prison, he could donate such things as baseball uniforms to all the teams, and he was allowed to give away as much as he wanted to when the cussers were reformed.

He had a reward list four feet long. One of the beneficiaries was a negro Hyde had tried to cure of swarting. He promised him fifteen cents a day for every twenty-four hours he went without a curse. The negro, who was tall and fat and was utterly honest about it.

"How'd you come out yesterday, George?" Hyde would ask him. "The negro would shake his head. "Cussin' all day, Mister Hyde," he would reply."

But on the mornings following a reformed cusser would be coming a hundred yards away, shouting laughing and grinning all over. He would mark up one day on the tally list. Thus he earned $4.15 during Hyde's stay in prison, an amount which was presented to him when Hyde left. Hyde would now buy tobacco, chewing gum and the like from the supply store at the prison.

Hyde agreed with another inveterate "cusser" to give him $100 if he went a whole consecutive month without swearing. It took the man about six months to complete his thirty days, and by that time he was almost cured of the habit. Once he went 29 days without swearing, but somebody stepped on his corn on the thirtieth day and he had to start all over again.

Queer Dreams of the Prisoners

THERE are dreamers in the federal prison. To the men behind the walls they promised land, money, and when I get out, and many are the plans and hopes and fears they have when they come to the dreams sometimes are wild dreams.

It was given to Hyde to know them. The men behind the walls thought of a millionaire. One man had spoken with authority. He said he knew Hyde. Hyde was worth seven millions. While he had a million dollars in his statement, it came rooted in the minds of men, as rumors do.

Many came to Hyde. "I am a musician," said one. "I've written a song that's the greatest ever. I saw an advertisement which says they will take my song and put it on the market for thirty dollars. You lend me a hundred dollars and I'll reap a fortune when I get out."

Hyde told the man that the advertisement was a fact, but he would not give him the money. He said he would give him the money for his thirty dollars and get in return a few copies of the song, knowing that these were the only ones he could get. One of thousands duped by a flashy offer.

Another man came to Hyde secretly one day at the baseball field. He said he had discovered a formula, the ingredients of which were known only to himself, a formula for making gold. He wanted Hyde to incorporate the gold-making company for $250,000 when they got out, and he agreed to go fifty-fifty with him on the profits. It was a madman's idea, and of course Hyde refused.

Moonshine Trust Was Hyde's Joke

THE moonshine trust was for a long time one of the jokes of the penitentiary. Hyde liked the tall, thin moonshiners and he used to sit and talk to them.

Once, his eyes twinkling, he said: "You fellows seem to make a lot of liquor up in north Georgia, but you don't know how to market it. Why don't you fellows get a scheme for selling moonshine that would make us all rich?"

When he saw they were drinking in his words in all seriousness, he warned them. "You fellows are drinking in my words in all seriousness, he warned them."

(Continued on Page Eight.)

Swimming Season Will Start Shortly After May 15. Chairman of Park Board Wants Lib- eral Rules.

THE first splash at Piedmont park will be shortly after May 15, though the park board hasn't decided or discussed the opening of the swimming season.

Neither the length of bathing alleys. But Ben Lee Crew, new chairman of the park board, in talking recently of the park board, was emphatically in favor of a liberality of rules governing swimming. In fact, he wants as few rules as possible.

"My idea," he said, "is to use common sense and no restrictions. Have someone in charge at the park who will see that everything is orderly and leave the matter of conduct largely to the supervision."

He left the impression that short-sleeved bathing suits, if they are sensible, will be as welcome at Piedmont park as though they came down to the thighs.

"The photograph here is of 'Ideal,' the professional swimmer, who has been in Atlanta last year. Her bathing suit is not a model of what the park board will approve. But skirts were too confining for the many swimming strokes he used."

"Ideal" not only appeared here in theatrical exhibitions, but also at the Adair pool, where she imparted some of her skill to Atlanta swimmers.

quarters of C. Squadron, last King Edward's Horse and assigned to the third troop under Hon. H. S. Pieling, youngest son of the Earl of Denby.

Our troop was billeted in a farm house about two miles from Grove Hill, just off the estate of the Earl of Clarendon.

At Grove Mill we were issued second-hand riding breeches, gaiters, second-hand tunics or coats, forage caps, shoes, army stockings, three fannel shirts, a Lee-Knifed rifle, 303 caliber, bayonets, sabres, bandoliers, cartridge bags, haversacks, water bottles, cloaks, two blankets, and a pelisse. The pelisse was a long, quilted with straw upon arrival at the billet and used for a mattress on the floor.

We walked the two miles from Grove Mill to Gammon's farm, our billet, carrying all this equipment. At Gammon's farm we learned that the life of a trooper is even worse in the regulars than in the reserve. Thirty-two men composed the troop. Six of us slept in a room in which there was no furniture at all, no carpet, and no window panes. The weather was bitterly cold and always damp.

"IDEAL" swimmer who is popular here.

"Each Saturday was devoted to trench digging. The trenches were placed in strategic positions for use in the event of the invasion of England. They were constructed with the greatest care. The front or marksmen trenches were only five feet deep but sufficient and was piled in from enable a man to shoot standing, using

(Continued on Page Three.)

By Fritz Zaustrop.

Members of the Metropolitan Opera company heard her sing during their

"We had to wait two hours, but nothing moves on time in this country. Finally, we heard the military band and

Dr. Winn's letters were not written for publication, and are hastily jotted down impressions, in which he avoids frequent mention of the horrors of war. But their very simplicity gives them unusual interest.

(Continued from Page Two.)

"The general public in England appeared to show very little interest in the war. I saw one football game between professional teams, at which there were thousands of young men. At the conclusion of the game a band marched around the enclosure and speeches were made in an effort to get recruits. I did not see a single man volunteer."

Dr. Winn's letters were not written for publication, and are hastily jotted down impressions, in which he avoids frequent mention of the horrors of war. But their very simplicity gives them unusual interest.

COMMON SENSE in the HOME

EDITED by MARION HARLAND

WHEN DAININESS IS APT TO FLAC.

Do you recollect that when you began housekeeping you had all sorts of ideas about having everything shiny? The china and glass and silver and table linen were new; it was a joy to use your pretty belongings; you made up your mind to have them in daily service and never to relax in your standards of living.

Then fresh tasks forced themselves upon you. The babies came and duties were piled upon you. Much of the time you were not quite up to the mark physically and you slipped into the habit of doing things in the easiest way. You permitted defects which would have shocked you in the early years of your married life. A spotted and tarnished tablecloth ceased to be a horror to you; the silver became dull and was not brightened; chipped china was the rule rather than the exception.

A general air of distaste marked the house, the table stood half set from breakfast until dinner; nothing possessed the look of shining cheer which pervaded everything when you started the new home.

It does not mean to say that this is the case in every house, but I have noticed it in a lamentable number of instances. I speak of it now because I wish to beg the newly married couples not to fall into this mistake and to impress upon themselves that daintiness is not so difficult a business as one might think, to judge from appearances.

I make ample allowance for the hindrances to which I have already referred. It is hard to keep everything trim and dainty when you are half sick and over-worked and tired all the time. There is a great deal of drifting into carelessness and letting things go as they are. You lose your sense of values and of the importance of holding your banner high for the benefit of yourself as well as of your household.

Suppose we look at the matter quietly for a little while and try to determine if there is not some method of managing daintiness without wearing yourself out to a frazzle "in the process."

We have spoken of the table as one of the places where carelessness is prone to creep in. Personally, I know of nothing which to my mind makes a table look less attractive and more disheartening than a soiled or tumbled tablecloth. Why do you permit one to have your table?

To this your answer may come promptly: "I would love to have fresh linen all the time, but I can't afford it. Our laundry went to enormous new, and the children drop spot the tablecloths after one or two meals. Do you expect me to have three or four tablecloths in the wash every week?" By no means! But why do you use cloths for constant wear? Why not dress them with them except perhaps at dinner and resort to a centerpiece and doilies for most or all of the meals?

This is the confusion of poverty or incompetency in such a course. At one of the handsomest houses in which I have ever been entertained I was much interested to observe that no cloths covering the entire table were used, even at dinner. In place of the stereotyped cloth were beautiful drawnwork centerpieces and place doilies. Few of us can indulge in such expensive napery for daily service, but simple substitutes may be employed and the gain in appearance as well as the saving in washing is immense.

For example, the baby upon his mug of milk and the doily at his place is drenched, even though you check the flood before it does more than moisten the edge of the centerpiece. What is it in the way of work to throw the doily into a basin of water and run it out when you wash the dishes, presorting it off with an iron? It does not take two minutes to do this. Even if the centerpiece has been dampened the edge can be dried out and pressed smooth. Compare this with the extra work that would be yours if the tablecloth had been flooded.

More than this, the tablecloth is by way of getting more spots than doilies, because it covers the entire table. When a drop of fluid or a bit of fat falls on the bare board it is easily wiped off; if it lands on the tablecloth it makes a mark which must either be concealed by a stain or by an arrangement of dishes.

"Selling the table to humor the spot," heard a woman call this once or left to Lafayette, but I have no doubt some of the use until the spot goes into the tub. Only now and then can a spot be washed out in such a way that the trace of it is not visible.

So dainties your tablecloths except for dinner on special occasions and resort to the centerpiece and doilies. When you do use a tablecloth, never shake it—brush off the crumbs and fold the cloth in the pure creases in which was done. This will prevent the tumbled and untidy look which is so unpleasant.

Take from the fire, set aside to cool. In the morning when I was dressing, I saw any reason for having it dull or dirty. In the first place, silver should always be washed in water which is almost boiling hot, using a little ammonia should be at hand, and for fulling in hot water and drying them the moment they come out of the pan. They should never be allowed to drain. If there is a stain on a fork or spoon the silver powder should be at hand, and for fulling in hot water and drying them the moment they come out of the pan. They should never be allowed to drain. If there is a is properly washed after each meal. The added care of doing this is hardly worth considering, though sometimes it may seem as though the vermin trace became a burden.

There are legitimate ways, however, of lightening the task of silver cleaning. If you have been given large pieces of silver as presents, put them away rather than have them on view in all their lack of brightness. I know they look well on the sideboard and help to furnish the room, but they do this attractively only when they are in the right condition. Better a have sideboard or serving table than one cluttered with uncleaned pieces or with those whose brightness has been purchased at the cost of overtaxing.

Purposely the same course with your brasses if you have them. A collection of these is undeniably pleasing to the eye when they are well polished, but when they are tarnished and neglected they are not good to look upon. If you can have them brushed and lacquered, well and good; if their cleaning must be an additional item in your list, consign them to the attic or the store closet until you have more time or more money for keeping them up to the standard.

Try to have china that will not chip. Better to use a heavier quality which will stand occasional hard usage than the more delicate varieties which will nick and crack readily. For my own part I have never seen any properly cared for china should be chipped, and if you do your own dishwashing you can probably save your delicate pieces without damage to their lustre. Should they fall into the hands of a careless maid get something for her touch is less likely to damage and keep your best for special occasions. This will not interfere with daintiness.

In this day cheap china comes in pretty patterns that look well on any table. Keep up to the mark in other ways. You have your table laid with the pleasing centerpiece and doilies, the attractive china and shining silver, give it the finishing touch by a few flowers or a plant in the middle of the table. If you have only a fern in a pot it brightens and refines the board. Do not fall into a habit of putting everything on the table at once and abating the service of food in courses. It makes little extra work to put it in the right way and you must always bear in mind that you are establishing a precedent by which your children will judge other homes and methods one of these days.

"Cut it at your table I never saw food served properly," confessed a young man one day to a former hostess. "I came from the country where we always lived in the plainest kind of way. When I dined at your home and the soup was served and the plates taken off before the meat and vegetables were brought on it seemed wonderful to me. I was in a kind of a dream all through the meal, with the candles, the quiet handling of plates and dishes, the flowers on the table, the clearing away of the solid food before the sweets and coffee were brought in. I made up my mind then and there that if ever I had a home of my own it should be just like yours!"

Yet the household he took as an example was simple and modest. The head of the house was a man of small means, but daintiness reigned in the establishment and its presence made its mark on the visitor.

It is not necessary to have a trained servant to secure an orderly room. A side table will hold needed plates, etc. The meat and the vegetables may be put on the dinner table instead of on the sideboard, and the service is done by members of the household instead of by a waitress or butler.

Under these conditions a few of the courses the dishes belonging to it may be removed and their places taken by fresh plates and finger bowls. After the crutche have been brushed from the table. An much nicety of serving is possible under these conditions as in a home where high priced service is kept. I know where I speak, for I have eaten meals in such homes and have found daintiness as conspicuous there as it could possibly be in the dwellings of the wealthy who had many domestics at their command.

And so I say to the beginners in housekeeping, to start as they may, but not burdening themselves with the care of much burnishing and cleaning and scouring, but never making the blunder of thinking that cleanliness and beauty. If the beginning is not too ambitious, the worker will be less tempted to lower standards and to let the law take its course.

As a matter of course you will get tired early in the action if you attempt to keep up a measure of living which is beyond your means. In much of my own experience I find that the best way to keep up what you will hold and what remain; but never make the blunder of thinking that so long as your family is fed it makes no difference how the food is served, how the house is kept.

Another helpful Cornette who has evidently done her part to brighten the life of one slattern in much of my own experience I find that the best way to keep up what you will hold and what remain; but never make the blunder of thinking that so long as your family is fed it makes no difference how the food is served, how the house is kept.

"MAY I suggest to my fellow readers what I think is a good plan? Make a scrapbook of the Cornettes who have written interesting cards, etc. Now, I want to write and get the address, and then paste the address in the scrapbook under the request. Many times I have seen a Cornette who has often done the very thing I wish to turn up after. I hope a few readers will try this plan and see if they will like it. It is the first time I have written to the Corner, but I hope you will my suggestion. I am sure it will be of some of the readers."

READER: Come again early and often if you have such much useful and practical suggestions. I am sure it will be of some of the readers."

Some again early and often if you have such much useful and practical suggestions. I am sure it will be of some of the readers."

Knows to Earn Pin Money. Can you tell me or can some of the Cornettes advise me as to any way to make some pin money by writing editorial for the papers, or will you offer suggestions of any way of money making at home? I have had a good education, but have been where I find no avail. I can do embroidery, tatting, and crocheting of all kinds. How can I get orders for such work? Let me send in a little contribution in the shape of a recipe for gingerbread, which is both cheap and good. Stir one cup of molasses and one cup of baking soda together, add one cup of milk, one cup of sugar, one cup of flour, and half a cup of boiling water. Pour into a greased pan and bake for about twenty minutes.

Mrs. F. E. D. I wish I could help you with some valuable advice about making money at home and I will gladly give your address to any one who has suggestions to offer. So far as the writing of editorials is concerned, that is done by those retained on the staff of the paper and is rarely put in the hands of outsiders. I do not know of paragraphs of news such as you refer to are required on the paper you mention; your best plan would be to write and inquire of individual stamp for which I have nothing at all to do with that section of the paper. So far as your fancy work is concerned, it might be worth while to enter it in a woman's exchange and see if you cannot make a little in that way, or secure a client from among friends and acquaintances. I have known of women who earned a neat sum by making dainty things, like lace, blouses, and socks or awnters, caps for babies and for old ladies, and similar special articles for which the makers won a reputation. Many a big business has been built from just such small beginnings. It will give me pleasure to print her suggestions which may be of value to other home workers as well as yourself.

Cream Puffs and Filling. Will some one please send me a recipe for cream puffs? I have tried many, but none half a pound of butter in a pint of scalding water; when this boils stir in one cup of sugar and one cup of flour steadily for a minute, or until the flour ceases to stick to the sides of the saucepan. Take from the fire, set aside to cool. When cold, beat the butter in a mixer until it is light and fluffy. Add the sugar and beat again. Add the flour and beat again. Drop the paste upon a greased paper and bake in a moderate oven for ten minutes. Turn out on a plate and fill with a filling of your choice.

Song to Lafayette. I may appear to have much the nature of a sponge in absorbing and making no return for the many delightful things I receive from the Corner. May I urge my inexperience as a housekeeper to extend to me in some degree the extensive courtesy of the Corner? I have no other suggestions to those of much greater knowledge and ability along these lines. The request I wish published in the Corner is for the words and music of a song dedicated to Gen. Lafayette. One stanza of it is something like the following:

Welcome, welcome, Lafayette! These we never can forget: Friend of mine, lover of the just, Friend of mine, lover of the just.

Thank you for the pleasant things you say about the Corner. I do not feel however, that your lack of experience excuses you from contributing suggestions. My own observation has led me to believe that the young housekeeper often distrusts her own judgment just because of her inexperience which is not perceived by the older women who have come to the point where she takes many details for granted and does not look for methods of changing them. I do not know the song to Lafayette, but I have no doubt some of the Cornettes are familiar with it and will either be able to give it to me or to tell you where to procure it. I will supply your address to any one who asks for it.

Had an Imaginary Playmate. I am much interested in what you wrote about imaginary playmates. My childhood I, too, had and mine was not a playmate but a helpmate, too. In the morning when I was dressing, she always helped me to button my shoes, pretending that my right hand was myself and my left hand some one else. I never had a name for her or him, but after I was nearly grown I became stronger and at 18 one day I was told that I was no longer a child and my standing was among the highest, and so

I agree with Mrs. A. M. N. that such a companionship is not injurious in any way to a child's health. I have a little child of my own now, who is about 3, and if he wants imaginary playmates he certainly shall have them.

Wants Collapsible Coat. I am expecting to be confined in a month or so and would much appreciate the gift of a collapsible coat from some one who has no further use for such an article and could send it to me. I will pay the expressage if it is not heavy. My husband has not had regular work for some time and has not the money to spend for a coat. I wish I myself had some things to give to Cornettes. We are renters and have nothing to depend upon but my husband's wages and they are not much. As I am a young housekeeper I am afraid I can't even give much advice. I got my mother only about a year ago. Only those who have had such loss can know how hard it is to give up a mother. I feel like saying to all those who still have their mothers with them, be kind and obedient to her, so that in after years when she is taken from your side it will be easier for you to bear the painful parting.

Wants Collapsible Coat. I am expecting to be confined in a month or so and would much appreciate the gift of a collapsible coat from some one who has no further use for such an article and could send it to me. I will pay the expressage if it is not heavy. My husband has not had regular work for some time and has not the money to spend for a coat. I wish I myself had some things to give to parting with either father or mother are always severe enough making them worse by the remembrance of kind words or careless and inconsiderate actions.

Scrap for Quilt. I would be glad to get scraps for quilt. I have a worsted quilt partly made, but am now out of material. I would like pieces of calico or gingham. Also if any one has box flower cuttings to spare they would be greatly appreciated. I also have seeds of the umbrellia tree to send in return to those who will pay postage upon them. The trees which grow from these seeds make a beautiful shade.

Along the same line as the preceding are the two letters following: "I saw in the Corner that some one who signed herself Elsie had quilt scraps to give away. Will that please send me her address? I would like to have the scraps and will be glad to pay the cost of parcel post upon them."

The friend referred to in the latter letter has given any and all the pieces offered before this request came to hand. Will not those who are planning for making over and summer dressmaking bear such appeals as these in mind and write to me for the full address of those who wish pieces for quilts? It is always a satisfaction to know that scraps and odds and ends are being of real service to some one when you can make no special use of them for yourself.

Offers Air Cushion. I saw in the Helping Hand Corner that Mrs. C. P. W. wished an air cushion. I have one and would be glad to give it to her. Mrs. C. P. W. has already been supplied with the air cushion she asked for and to I print this letter here, confident that some other sufferer will see it and be glad to avail herself of the kindly offer.

Invalid Wants Chair. I received the name and address of Mrs. L. E. B. who desired an embroidery stool. I have one and would be glad to give it to her. Mrs. L. E. B. has already been supplied with the embroidery stool she asked for and to I print this letter here, confident that some other sufferer will see it and be glad to avail herself of the kindly offer.

Offers an Abdominal Support. Please send me the address of Mrs. G. L. E. who desired an abdominal support. I have one in good condition which I can send her. Mrs. G. L. E. has already been supplied with the abdominal support she asked for and to I print this letter here, confident that some other sufferer will see it and be glad to avail herself of the kindly offer.

a rolling chair. She is 60 years old and her initials are Mrs. H. H. G.

Another helpful Cornette who has evidently done her part to brighten the life of one slattern in much of my own experience I find that the best way to keep up what you will hold and what remain; but never make the blunder of thinking that so long as your family is fed it makes no difference how the food is served, how the house is kept.

Another helpful Cornette who has evidently done her part to brighten the life of one slattern in much of my own experience I find that the best way to keep up what you will hold and what remain; but never make the blunder of thinking that so long as your family is fed it makes no difference how the food is served, how the house is kept.

Another helpful Cornette who has evidently done her part to brighten the life of one slattern in much of my own experience I find that the best way to keep up what you will hold and what remain; but never make the blunder of thinking that so long as your family is fed it makes no difference how the food is served, how the house is kept.

Another helpful Cornette who has evidently done her part to brighten the life of one slattern in much of my own experience I find that the best way to keep up what you will hold and what remain; but never make the blunder of thinking that so long as your family is fed it makes no difference how the food is served, how the house is kept.

Another helpful Cornette who has evidently done her part to brighten the life of one slattern in much of my own experience I find that the best way to keep up what you will hold and what remain; but never make the blunder of thinking that so long as your family is fed it makes no difference how the food is served, how the house is kept.

Another helpful Cornette who has evidently done her part to brighten the life of one slattern in much of my own experience I find that the best way to keep up what you will hold and what remain; but never make the blunder of thinking that so long as your family is fed it makes no difference how the food is served, how the house is kept.

HARLAND'S HELPING HAND.

parting with either father or mother are always severe enough making them worse by the remembrance of kind words or careless and inconsiderate actions.

FAMILY MEALS FOR A WEEK.

SUNDAY. BREAKFAST. Grapefruit. Cereal. Fried potatoes with butter sauce. Coffee. LUNCHEON. Cereal. Pudding with butter sauce. Coffee. DINNER. Chicken. Baked potatoes. Canned peas. Coffin. Tea. DINNER. Turkey legs. Baked potatoes. Canned peas. Coffin. Tea.	MONDAY. BREAKFAST. Grapefruit. Cereal. Fried potatoes with butter sauce. Coffee. LUNCHEON. Cereal. Pudding with butter sauce. Coffee. DINNER. Chicken. Baked potatoes. Canned peas. Coffin. Tea. DINNER. Turkey legs. Baked potatoes. Canned peas. Coffin. Tea.	TUESDAY. BREAKFAST. Grapefruit. Cereal. Fried potatoes with butter sauce. Coffee. LUNCHEON. Cereal. Pudding with butter sauce. Coffee. DINNER. Chicken. Baked potatoes. Canned peas. Coffin. Tea. DINNER. Turkey legs. Baked potatoes. Canned peas. Coffin. Tea.	WEDNESDAY. BREAKFAST. Grapefruit. Cereal. Fried potatoes with butter sauce. Coffee. LUNCHEON. Cereal. Pudding with butter sauce. Coffee. DINNER. Chicken. Baked potatoes. Canned peas. Coffin. Tea. DINNER. Turkey legs. Baked potatoes. Canned peas. Coffin. Tea.	THURSDAY. BREAKFAST. Grapefruit. Cereal. Fried potatoes with butter sauce. Coffee. LUNCHEON. Cereal. Pudding with butter sauce. Coffee. DINNER. Chicken. Baked potatoes. Canned peas. Coffin. Tea. DINNER. Turkey legs. Baked potatoes. Canned peas. Coffin. Tea.	FRIDAY. BREAKFAST. Grapefruit. Cereal. Fried potatoes with butter sauce. Coffee. LUNCHEON. Cereal. Pudding with butter sauce. Coffee. DINNER. Chicken. Baked potatoes. Canned peas. Coffin. Tea. DINNER. Turkey legs. Baked potatoes. Canned peas. Coffin. Tea.	SATURDAY. BREAKFAST. Grapefruit. Cereal. Fried potatoes with butter sauce. Coffee. LUNCHEON. Cereal. Pudding with butter sauce. Coffee. DINNER. Chicken. Baked potatoes. Canned peas. Coffin. Tea. DINNER. Turkey legs. Baked potatoes. Canned peas. Coffin. Tea.
---	---	--	--	---	---	---

Runaway

By George Randolph Chester and Lillian Chester

By special arrangement for this paper a photo-drama corresponding to the installments of "Runaway Jane" may now be seen at the leading moving picture theaters. By arrangement made with the Mutual Film Corporation it is not only possible to read "Runaway Jane" each week, but also afterward to see moving pictures illustrating our story.

Copyright, 1914, by Serial Publication Corporation.

SYNOPSIS.

Jane, the bride of Ned Warner, impulsively leaves her husband on their honeymoon because she begins to realize that she must be entirely dependent on him for money. She escapes from his clutches with difficulty. Ned searches frantically for Jane, and learning of Blye's designs, vows vengeance on him. After many adventures Jane is rescued from river pirates by Durban, an artist. She poses as "The Spirit of the Marsh," is driven out by Mrs. Durban and is kidnapped by Blye and Cunningham. Jane escapes, tries avenging work and is disappointed by her landlady.

FOURTEENTH EPISODE

In the Grip of Poverty

CHAPTER I.

THE cold eyes of the dumpy landlady suddenly warmed. They had caught the glimmer of a diamond on the girl's finger.

"Wait a minute," she called. "I think I'll take a chance on you, after all."

The beautiful young girl swayed in the doorway. Mrs. Waters caught her by the arm and pulled her down the heavy bundle under which the girl had bent and led her to a chair.

"You need a cup of tea," the landlady rattled on, and her eyes strayed curiously to the tapering white hand upon which glowed a sparkling solitaire.

The girl also wore a bright new wedding ring! The woman waddled away, and a morning paper the bundle of pants which she had brought with her and began to sew.

"Put 'em up!" the bustling landlady with a neck like a crease cried. She lifted the garment from Jane's lap and tossed it aside. "You can't make a living sewing pants. A pretty girl like you ought to get a nice job in an office. Here's a cup of tea I got for you from Mrs. Parsons and a morning paper I got from Mrs. Kedzie. Drink your tea while I hunt you a job."

And energetically she turned the paper inside out. My goodness! she had been about to drive away this beautiful young girl! And with that costly diamond ring on her hand and a brand new wedding ring! "I'll lend you car fare if you want it."

Within two minutes more she had her new lodger bundled out of the door and on her way "to hunt a job." Within two weeks after that a luxurious limousine had stopped in front of the new home of the runaway bride. The door opened, and a man with a white mustache sprang out, followed by a dark man with a black eye. They dashed for the entrance, but a noise halted them. The sound came from the back of the car and was made by a large round lump which clustered around the spare tires. That lump was the private detective, Bill Wolf, and the face which he turned aside was the driver of the luxurious limousine back to him was covered with dust. The driver, a wide faced Italian, grinned as he saw that the involuntary faithful sleuth was firmly attached to the tire covering by his cravat, which was entangled in a strap.

"Well, why don't you help me, you big wop?" complained the trapped detective.

"Help you? Sure!" The driver jumped behind Bill Wolf and kicked him with a sound like the beating of a car wheel.

"Scott!" called the black Vandyked man, Gilbert Blye, and the grinning Scott ran to him.

Gilbert Blye pointed up the street. There tore toward them a family car, on the front seat of which, beside the chauffeur, sat a handsome couple, June Warner's Bouncer. The black Vandyked man whistled in the car of his bride and the gleam of joy came into the Italian's narrow slitted eyes.

Beautiful June Warner, more appealing than ever in her plain little black dress and her fragile pallor, entered the door which lettered "Elizabeth Sawyer-Rear-Real Estate and Investments," and found herself in the railed off reception space of a large office which was alive with the hum of energetic business.

A thin, stiff necked young woman came out and went directly to the beautiful girl with the plain black dress.

"Will you come in?" she invited with an unexpected agreeableness, and she led the way into the very center of this web of industry.

The family car stopped at the curb with a slam, and the collie, Bouncer, was on the ground. From the car sprang the young husband of June Warner, his jaws set and his fists clenched. There followed the stern father and the gentle mother of June, her bosom friend, Iris Blethering, and Bobbie.

"They're in there!" called a dusty voice. It was the well known and justly famous private detective, Bill Wolf, still attached to the luxurious limousine by his strong cravat, but no one heard him. The party had rushed into the dim hallway.

June Warner's eyes brightened as she entered the private office of Elizabeth Sawyer. That pleasant featured woman sat at a desk piled high with a litter of papers. As she passed the desk June saw, standing amid the papers, the portrait of Elizabeth Sawyer, a tall, good looking man and three handsome children.

As Ned Warner rushed impetuously in from the street a figure sprang from the dim hallway. That figure was Scott, and, closely pursued by the party from the family car, he tore across the big vacant room which occupied the ground floor and dashed through a heavy iron door, and the pursuers piled in after him. It was then that the dark, handsome man with the black Vandyked slipped from his concealment beneath the stairway, sped lightly across the abandoned banking room and changed the iron door, slipping the heavy crossbar into its place.

Bill Wolf at last got his fingers untrammelled enough to open his pocketbook, and, with this he saved straight across the street with a strange, sidelong motion and, entering a saloon, slapped a quarter on the bar.

"Four beers!" he husked with his dusty tongue.

It was not until he had swallowed the third one that he took his nickel of change and telephoned to Honoria Blye.

A keen eyed man with bushy eyebrows came in to see Elizabeth Sawyer as June Warner sat patiently at the window. He put his hat on the corner of her desk and unbuttoned his smooth, neatly fitting overcoat.

"Well, Mrs. Sawyer, how about it?" he inquired, putting his hands on his knees.

Mrs. Sawyer had been busy sorting papers. "I couldn't think of consolidating," she said crisply, with a shake of her head.

"Sorry." The man had laid a folded document before her. "All right, you won't consolidate." And the man's tone was regretful. "You're a very business woman, Mrs. Sawyer, and I don't mind admitting that you've made a real completion in our territory. How does this idea suit you?"

"I hereby agree to sell, assign and transfer the business conducted under the name of Elizabeth Sawyer to Edward Jones for the sum of—"

Again she laughed and shook her head.

"You see I left the amount blank," he insisted. "That's the only amount I'd accept at present," decided the woman. She passed her hand for a moment over her eyes. "You see, Mr. Jones, I've given so much to make my business a success."

A tall, good looking man came into the room, the man of the picture on the desk. Mrs. Sawyer's hand had been pressed over her eyes. At the entrance of her husband she sprang up with an exclamation of pleasure, her face glowing, and turned to him.

The poor little runaway bride glanced hastily out of the window, and the tears sprang into her eyes. How she longed for Ned! Dear Ned!

Dear Ned was in a small, dim room, lighted by one high window, across which were June's father and mother and Bobbie and Iris Blethering, and standing in the corner, with his back to the wall, was the wide featured Scott.

Ned Warner confronted Scott.

"You're the man; I want to see you," he declared, his voice trembling with suppressed fury. "Now, I want some information, and I'm going to have it!" Scott leaned comfortably into the corner.

"Hold on, Ned!" Bobbie Blethering had caught that muscular arm as it was tensely drawn back. "Let me try this fellow." And little Bobbie took

They both wrote at once, sitting side by side at the desk, he a check to his wife and she a thirty day note to her husband.

"You will get in trouble once in awhile won't you, Betty?" laughed the man.

She looked at him reproachfully.

"You know why."

"Yes." He nodded sympathetically, and, patting the hand which lay on the edge of the desk, picked up the photograph. "The babies, Betty, you're a wonder! What man's business could stand such interruptions?"

She smiled fondly at the photograph and then at him, then from her desk drew a small blank book.

She turned to a page headed "Bills Payable." There were only two entries, and now she made a third. The dates of all three were about two years apart.

"That setback in my business was Harry," and with the tip of her pencil she touched the oldest child in the photograph. "And this one was Betsy. Today's note is the baby. It has taken me a year to catch up every time."

"No business can do without the boss," agreed the man. "That applies to everything, Betty. You look busy here."

"Oh, I forgot to tell you," she laughed. She picked up the two documents which Edward Jones had insisted on leaving for her consideration. Her husband read them gravely and passed them back.

"Flattering," he smiled.

"That's it!" Her eyes brightened. They had seemed rather tired. "Of course the consolidation's absurd, but Jones would pay me a good price for an outright sale." And she pointed to the line left blank.

"I'll pay you a better, Betty."

"The reason I wouldn't sell to either of you is that I want to keep the business. I'm proud of it."

"All right." He shook hands with her. "A bargain's a bargain."

A boy came in. She had rung for him as soon as she had the check. She induced it away and put it in her bank book and gave it to the boy.

"The nurse is outside with the children," the boy reported as he turned to go.

"That's so." Her brow contracted as she looked at her memorandum pad. "I gave Mary an appointment. Harry was to go to the doctor."

"Harry?" The man was instantly concerned. "Is there anything the matter with Harry?"

"He's so nervous."

The nurse came in, carrying the baby and leading

"Great Scott!"

The little girl looked up at her father with a radiant smile, but as he rushed toward her she scrambled to her feet and ran, holding something behind her back. It was an ink bottle. He took it from her, and she screamed with all the strength of her lungs. The angelic looking nurse was a sight to behold. Her face was sticky with brown chocolate candy, the purple stains from the typewriter ribbon were all over her white dress, and the blue ink was on her hands.

She sneered some of it on her face and in her curly hair as she cried.

"My oh, my!" half moaned Mrs. Sawyer. "Why is it that child is always so messy?"

"Dirt just comes natural to her, Mrs. Sawyer," confidently explained the nurse. "Harriet!" Her teeth gleamed, and she made a dash for the boy.

He was swinging on the letterpress again, and the water pan was tilting. He jumped to elude her, and the water spilled over a pile of mortgage blanks.

"You little demon!" screamed the nurse and made a clutch for him. Almost he escaped, but she caught him by the collar and shook him.

"D—n it, go to blazes!" yelled the boy in a perfect fury of temper.

There was a dead silence, in which Mrs. Sawyer felt the blood slowly leaving her face. Her husband was shocked into numbness. The quiet little figure in the corner near the window scarcely breathed.

Elizabeth Sawyer suddenly buried her face upon her arms and sobbed, but she raised her head in an instant. With a pale, set face she walked over and took the baby in her arms.

"Mary, you're discharged," she said.

Sawyer had drawn the boy to his very thoughtful, but now he thrust his hand in his pocket and produced some money. He counted out some of it and gave it to the nurse.

"You needn't blame me!" said the nurse. "I didn't teach him to say those things. The boy has a nasty temper. The doctor said so."

"That will do, Mary," said Mrs. Sawyer quietly. "You may go." She stood motionless until the nurse walked out. "Will you hold the baby, Harry?"

"I'll bet you. Come here, Bustle. And he gazed down fondly, not at the baby, but into the eyes of his wife, as he took the tiny burden.

She smiled up at him. There were tears trembling on her lashes. She caught up the curly headed little girl, took her over to the washbasin in the corner and vigorously scrubbed that chocolate begrimed countenance and kissed it; then she stooped down by the boy and put her arms around him.

"Mother doesn't want you to say naughty words like that." And there was heartbreak in her tones.

Elizabeth Sawyer was half laughing and half crying as she sat at the desk with the curly haired little girl on her lap and the boy leaning against her. She took up the telephone.

"Edward Jones, please."

"Betty." There was such a ring in the voice as neither the man nor the woman had heard for years. She held up her hand to him. Her lips were wet with tears, and her eyes were swimming, but she could not speak. She spoke clearly, however, when a tap of the telephone bell announced her call.

"This is Elizabeth Sawyer, Mr. Jones. I've been looking over your proposition of purchase. A moment of silence. She turned her eyes upon her husband. There was a new softness in them. "I might be tempted if you made the price high enough."

Another silence. "Now, Mr. Jones, you'll have to come higher than that. Make me your very best offer." Her face suddenly glowed. "I'll take it. I'll fill in the contract, sign it, and you may give the check to my secretary. I'll send it over immediately."

Her husband's arm was about her as she filed in the amount which had been agreed upon and signed it. In Harry Sawyer's other arm was the baby.

The four members of the Sawyer family were clustered in an unusually small space for them. The husband witnessed the agreement with great joy. Mrs. Sawyer's secretary signed it with her notarial seal and went away.

"Betty!" The man's face was against her cheek. "Sweetheart, something dreadful had happened."

She kissed him and rose briskly. She took the toddlers each by a hand.

"Harry, dear, let's go to the house and start a home."

The office was empty except for the forgotten little figure near the window, and from that corner there came a low moan. June Warner rose unsteadily. Something dreadful had happened. The rock to which she had clung had crumbled under her grasp. Was independence, too, a failure? Nothing could have been more perfect than the mutual esteem in which the Sawyers had held each other, and in their love had existed no taint of obligation or of bounty. Yet through all these years they had missed something which now, for the first time, they were to find.

June was dazed as she hurried to the bare little room. She had led Ned to achieve her independence, as Elizabeth Sawyer had held each other, and she had not taken motherhood into her calculations.

CHAPTER III.

SCOTTI in an awkward vault stood with his eyes lowered for a moment, while the pursuers of the little runaway bride crowded about him. Presently he lifted them to the ceiling, but they did not look into Mrs. Moore's on their way up, and he began to edge slowly along the wall again. There was a growl of anger from Ned Warner.

"I'll beat it out of him!" declared Ned and started for the extremely silent chauffeur, who jumped into the corner and lowered his head and covered his face with his arms. He was afraid of fists, though not of blows or revolvers.

Bobbie Blethering jumped in front of Ned, but was thrust aside. June's gentle face mother could not be disposed of so easily.

"Ned," she said, and her light touch upon his arm as she looked pleadingly up into his eyes was stronger than any muscular force could have been. Shivering with the revulsion of his passion, Ned put his arm around Mrs. Moore and walked away with her to the other end of the tiny room, while Iris Blethering threw her arms around Bobbie's neck and enjoyed a few good sobs. Scotti, left alone in the corner, straightened up slowly and, raising his shoulders, cocked his head and the raised at the cobwebs. Presently he poked one corner of his mouth into them, and there stole upon the peasant air, soft and low and sweet, the cooling strains of "Santa Lucia."

Down a cross street hurried the maid, Marie, her high cheek bones burning with excitement and her eyes red. On her way she had collected Officer Dowd, and he was a great comfort to her. She was a person who was particularly pleasing to policemen. A large and extremely black colored woman with a market basket caught sight of Marie from afar off and came bobbing as fast as she could waddle.

In a swift taxi came a vivacious brunette. All these were centered around the destinies of the beautiful little runaway bride.

Tired and still dazed from his disillusionment, June Warner turned into the dim hallway of Mrs. Waters' lodging house, and wearily she climbed the stairs halfway up she stopped to stifle a yawn which had been growing upon her since she had entered upon this struggle for an elusive independence.

She turned into her bare little room and sank into the chair. With numb indifference she noted that the washstand had been moved from its place in front of the door at the head of the bed, but she was too much preoccupied to wonder at it. She stopped to rest for a moment, her hand upon her chest; then mechanically she picked up a pair of pants from the table and started to sew.

The hall door slowly opened, and a young woman, an her eyes sparkling, her cheeks ruddy with the flush of health, walked in, clad in gorgeous raiment. It was Honoria Blye, the lovely daughter of the "Poor dear," cried Tommy.

"There was no place else to go," June said.

"Oh, yes, there was!" said Tommy Thomas, laughing away. She fled from the room. She returned in a moment, and with her was the white mustached Orin Cunningham.

"Bill!" June said and pointed to the door.

"You don't mean it!" laughed Cunningham.

Bill Wolf came out of the saloon across the street, wiping his lips. There was a placid expression on his round face, and he had a short, thick stub of a chin in the corner of his mouth.

A handsome couple dashed up to the well known and justly famous private detective, barked and dashed away, barked and dashed away again.

"All right, sport," said the comfortable Bill Wolf and followed the dog across the street.

Leaping and jumping and stopping at every few steps to look back, Bouncer led the way into the abandoned bank and, springing against the heavy iron door, yelled his loudest at every leap. Whirling, he crouched at the crack at the bottom of the door, and a vigorous pounding answered him.

"Bill!" cried June, and Bill Wolf joyfully and lifted from its place the heavy bar.

Instantly there dashed out Ned Warner, his jaws set and his fists clenched, and after him came June's father, Honoria Blye, and Iris Blethering.

Ned rushed across the room and sprang for the stairs as Bill Wolf grappled savagely with the Italian chauffeur. Around the corner came a thick chased by fat old black Aunt Debby, while down the street roared an electric couple, with the sharp features of Honoria Blye, a stern, cold voice.

In the narrow bedroom upstairs June Warner stood, pale and erect, looking straight into the eyes of Orin Cunningham. For a moment he resisted her clear, steady gaze, and then he dropped his eyes, abashed. Suddenly he laughed, and, pulling from his pocket a dazzling string of pearls, he took a step nearer and flaunted them before June's eyes.

"Orin Cunningham! A stern, cold voice. The door behind June had clicked. She turned. Gilbert Blye.

"Go!" he ordered.

Without a word Orin Cunningham, cowering, left the room with the sneering Tommy Thomas.

Gilbert Blye's black eyes softened as he turned, and they glowed down at June.

[TO BE CONTINUED.]

the lead with easy assurance. "Now, see here, old man," he said. "You like money, don't you?"

A gleam in the little narrow eyes.

"Now, suppose we start bidding," went on Bobbie, pleased with his progress. He extracted a long black pocketbook from somewhere inside and opened it and fluttered the canary and orange colored bills and the pale green ones.

"Say $50, say $100, for just a bit of conversation," scoldingly remarked Bobbie and separated that amount, fluttering it tantalizingly before the gleaming eyes.

Scotti shifted uneasily in his corner.

"For God's sake, man, can't you talk?" said stern John Moore. "You know where my daughter is."

CHAPTER II.

IN the bare little room upstairs stood the well groomed Orin Cunningham, twirling his white mustache and counting some money into the hand of dumpy Mrs. Waters. Gilbert Blye stood by, his black eyes gleaming. He stroked his black Vandyked with his long, lean, white fingers, and he smiled his suave smile as Mrs. Waters, tying the money in a corner of her apron, pointed to the bundle of pants in the corner; then she moved the narrow washstand from in front of a door and inquired a key in the lock. She threw open the door, closed it again and gave the key to Gilbert Blye.

In the office of Elizabeth Sawyer the tall, good looking man sat down with a smile. Neither he nor his wife noticed or thought of the quiet little figure in the corner.

"Well, Betty, what can I do for you?" asked Sawyer cordially.

"Lend me some money, Harry."

"I'd rather give it to you," he said.

"I couldn't think of it." Mrs. Sawyer reached in her desk for a block of note blanks. "I shall need $5,000 if you can spare it."

a beautiful curly haired little girl, whose face was smeared with chocolate candy. The boy, a fine, leathery little fellow, came stomping in and grinned pleasantly at his father and mother, standing with his sturdy legs outstretched and his fists jammed in his pockets.

"What did the doctor say?" asked Mrs. Sawyer anxiously, and the father leaned forward to listen.

"There's nothing the matter with him," reported the nurse, with a toss of her head, and she glared vindictively at the boy. She was a person with wispy hair, an upturned nose and small gray eyes and thin lips, and the lips had a sharp downward droop at the corners. "The doctor says he's temper."

"Temper?" Mrs. Sawyer half raised in her seat, and her eyes flashed with indignation, but the father laughed.

"That's a matter of training," he observed.

"Harry, come away from there, dear!" called the mother.

The boy grinned engagingly.

"Harry?" The nurse's voice. It rasped like a saw file, and every one, even the quiet little figure over near the window, winced. "Didn't you hear your father and mother tell you to come away from there?" she screamed, and the boy kicked at her legs, his face turning scarlet, his lips pointing in an ugly snarl, his brows lowering viciously. The curly haired little girl rose out of the corner where she had been contentedly playing with a discarded typewriter ribbon, and toddling over to the nurse, kicked at her with all her small might; then, her duty performed, she toddled back to her corner.

"Mary," expostulated Mrs. Sawyer in distress, "you should not jerk the child that way. It only excites him."

"He won't mind any other way, Mrs. Sawyer," retorted the nurse, her eyes flashing angrily. "You never see the children or you'd know how bad they are."

"Betsy?"

THE VIVACIOUS BRUNETTE TOMMY THOMAS

down fondly, not at the baby, but into the eyes of his wife, as he took the tiny burden.

She smiled up at him. There were tears trembling on her lashes. She caught up the curly headed little girl, took her over to the washbasin in the corner and vigorously scrubbed that chocolate begrimed countenance and kissed it; then she stooped down by the boy and put her arms around him.

"Mother doesn't want you to say naughty words like that." And there was heartbreak in her tones.

Elizabeth Sawyer was half laughing and half crying as she sat at the desk with the curly haired little girl on her lap and the boy leaning against her. She took up the telephone.

"Edward Jones, please."

"Betty." There was such a ring in the voice as neither the man nor the woman had heard for years. She held up her hand to him. Her lips were wet with tears, and her eyes were swimming, but she could not speak. She spoke clearly, however, when a tap of the telephone bell announced her call.

"This is Elizabeth Sawyer, Mr. Jones. I've been looking over your proposition of purchase. A moment of silence. She turned her eyes upon her husband. There was a new softness in them. "I might be tempted if you made the price high enough."

Another silence. "Now, Mr. Jones, you'll have to come higher than that. Make me your very best offer." Her face suddenly glowed. "I'll take it. I'll fill in the contract, sign it, and you may give the check to my secretary. I'll send it over immediately."

Her husband's arm was about her as she filed in the amount which had been agreed upon and signed it. In Harry Sawyer's other arm was the baby.

The four members of the Sawyer family were clustered in an unusually small space for them. The husband witnessed the agreement with great joy. Mrs. Sawyer's secretary signed it with her notarial seal and went away.

"Betty!" The man's face was against her cheek. "Sweetheart, something dreadful had happened."

She kissed him and rose briskly. She took the toddlers each by a hand.

"Harry, dear, let's go to the house and start a home."

The office was empty except for the forgotten little figure near the window, and from that corner there came a low moan. June Warner rose unsteadily. Something dreadful had happened. The rock to which she had clung had crumbled under her grasp. Was independence, too, a failure? Nothing could have been more perfect than the mutual esteem in which the Sawyers had held each other, and in their love had existed no taint of obligation or of bounty. Yet through all these years they had missed something which now, for the first time, they were to find.

June was dazed as she hurried to the bare little room. She had led Ned to achieve her independence, as Elizabeth Sawyer had held each other, and she had not taken motherhood into her calculations.

with a market basket caught sight of Marie from afar off and came bobbing as fast as she could waddle.

In a swift taxi came a vivacious brunette. All these were centered around the destinies of the beautiful little runaway bride.

Tired and still dazed from his disillusionment, June Warner turned into the dim hallway of Mrs. Waters' lodging house, and wearily she climbed the stairs halfway up she stopped to stifle a yawn which had been growing upon her since she had entered upon this struggle for an elusive independence.

She turned into her bare little room and sank into the chair. With numb indifference she noted that the washstand had been moved from its place in front of the door at the head of the bed, but she was too much preoccupied to wonder at it. She stopped to rest for a moment, her hand upon her chest; then mechanically she picked up a pair of pants from the table and started to sew.

The hall door slowly opened, and a young woman, an her eyes sparkling, her cheeks ruddy with the flush of health, walked in, clad in gorgeous raiment. It was Honoria Blye, the lovely daughter of the "Poor dear," cried Tommy.

"There was no place else to go," June said.

"Oh, yes, there was!" said Tommy Thomas, laughing away. She fled from the room. She returned in a moment, and with her was the white mustached Orin Cunningham.

"Bill!" June said and pointed to the door.

"You don't mean it!" laughed Cunningham.

Bill Wolf came out of the saloon across the street, wiping his lips. There was a placid expression on his round face, and he had a short, thick stub of a chin in the corner of his mouth.

A handsome couple dashed up to the well known and justly famous private detective, barked and dashed away, barked and dashed away again.

"All right, sport," said the comfortable Bill Wolf and followed the dog across the street.

Leaping and jumping and stopping at every few steps to look back, Bouncer led the way into the abandoned bank and, springing against the heavy iron door, yelled his loudest at every leap. Whirling, he crouched at the crack at the bottom of the door, and a vigorous pounding answered him.

"Bill!" cried June, and Bill Wolf joyfully and lifted from its place the heavy bar.

Instantly there dashed out Ned Warner, his jaws set and his fists clenched, and after him came June's father, Honoria Blye, and Iris Blethering.

Ned rushed across the room and sprang for the stairs as Bill Wolf grappled savagely with the Italian chauffeur. Around the corner came a thick chased by fat old black Aunt Debby, while

"Leav'er Be," Says Editor Who Fell Off Water Wagon

Unlike Adam There Was No Eve in His Eden, But a Blind Tiger Caused Trouble Enough.

THE editor of the Baker County News, published at Newton, Ga., explained in a recent issue that the shabby appearance of his paper the week before was due to the fact that he fell off the water wagon.

In conclusion, he warned everyone to "leave 'er be." His explanation is headed "Excuses," and reads this way: "When Adam was caught stealing apples in the garden of Eden he made the excuse, 'The woman tempted me to.' Now, excuses didn't help him, and they may not help us; but we are going to give you our excuse for the shabby appearance of the paper we issued last week, and if our excuse doesn't help us, then nothing can hurt us any worse now, so here goes:

"Ever since the new year the News has been riding right up on the driver's seat of the water wagon. Uncle Bert Milligan was doing the driving, and last week he went to sneeze and swallowed his tobacco, and this caused him to drop his whip; so, as we were the youngest, we climbed down off the wagon just to get the whip. When we reached our hand up to climb back, Will Passmore came running up to get on, and he scared the big white horse that pulls the wagon, and off dashed the famous old team of broken horses.

"So what were we to do? We looked around and saw the prettiest tiger imaginable, and as it was stone blind, we felt for it. For five it would wiggle its ears, or for $1 it would wag its tail. We never got tired of seeing the tiger do tricks, but one day he gave out and we got home we guess somebody had stolen our front axle, so we could not find it; but we got in by climbing the fence.

"Now, if any of our readers have ever made a tiger do tricks, they know how we feel for several days afterward, and we know they won't blame us. To those who do not know we wish to warn, 'Leave 'er be.' . . .

Touching Tribute To Departed Friend

LYERLY, Ga.—The following unusual and interesting news article appeared in this week's issue of The Summerville News:

"Dead! Ann, the black mare belonging to Ben Weesner, died Sunday night after a short illness of only a few hours. She was a horse among horses, and tried and true—but never known to shirk her duty.

"The interment took place Monday in Rocky Hollow, Uncle Elijah, her devoted keeper, officiating.

"A faithful one from us has gone, 'A horse we loved is still, 'A place is vacant in our barn 'That never can be filled."

Scallows Invade Home by Hundred

MILLBREDVILLE, Ga.—Scores and scores of scallows last week invaded the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hatcher. The birds first swarmed about the house and then began to pour down the chimney.

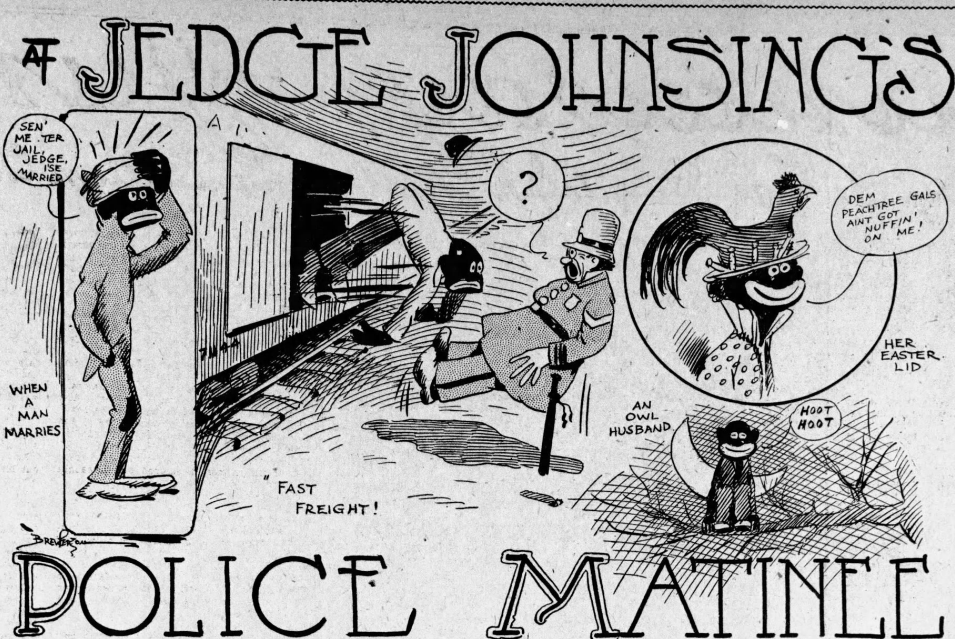

It was clear the chimney couldn't hold them all, and an effort was made to stop up the fireplace. But already 500 or more of them had poured into the parlor. Then the few against the curb the curtains sprang over the floor and clung tenaciously to the overhead ceiling, depositing everything with soot and dust.

Woman of 78 Makes 4,529-Piece Quilt

ALPHARETTA, Ga.—Mrs. L. E. Davis, living near Midway church, Forsyth county, has recently completed a quilt which she calls "The Sugar Loaf." This quilt contains 4,529 pieces, and is a most admirable product of the finger loom, every stitch of it having been done by the deft hand of Mrs. Davis, who is seventy-five years old and who works with the precision of a much younger woman and gets about with the agility of a girl.

POLICE MATRILE

By Ward Greene

Dreams, Idle Dreams

Dreamin' all do live-long, Dreamin' all mah cares away, Dreamin' whilst do moonlight gleam, Dreamin', dreamin', lemmie dream.

Samuel Dog's sweet dreams of paradise were interrupted last week by a quick kick in the stomach, and Samuel awoke ten feet away with a policeman standing over him and pains in his digestion.

The policeman did not kick Samuel Dog. His friend, Roscoe Perkins, kicked him. They were sleeping at the time in a freight car on a Southern siding. So the officer told the court.

"Where did you get such a name, Dog?" was the recorder's first question.

"I dunno, judge," muttered Samuel. "Done had it long time. I ain't choose it. Dey jes' stop it on me when I left heah."

"I was walking alone the siding, your honor," said the officer, "when Dog here sailed out of the freight car and hit at my feet. That's all I know about it."

"Me an' Roscoe done crawl in er freight for er 'lil snooze, judge," said Samuel. "I dunno, judge, but I know about it. I was dreamin' 'bout Glycerin er er angel grab me by de han' an' say, 'Mister Dawg, whut kinder hain't you have, sub' an' I wuz 'bout ter choose one when me'n landed in mah ribs an' I come to outo's."

"He growl in his sleep, judge," interrupted Roscoe Perkins, who hitherto had had nothing to say. "He growl an' snap at de straw, judge, an' git so skeered I cut loose wid er kick an' turn over on mah upper side."

"The kick was timely," ruled the recorder, "and while I can't fine you for dreams, I'll just give you and Dog thirty days for sleeping kaufree."

"Dawg gone," murmured Roscoe incredulously, as they led him away.

Honeymoon Bricks

Befo' I married mah ole man I thought he wuz er prize, Wed de fines socks an' shu'ts, spot de swellin' ties.

Since I wash dem glad rags, tho', I see open up mah eyes, Songs of Suds.

WHY, wuz de couple I married last week," said the recorder, "as Jason Jones and his bride, Loretta, staid to wed at bench. 'What are you up for now?'

Jason grinned apologetically. "Ain't up fo' nothin', judge. Us been behavin' moughy proper."

"Well, what's the trouble?" asked the court.

"Judge," said Jason. "I think we done mek er mistake. Loretta, she thinks so, an' I know so. Yen, suh, I done wrong ter marry dat black gal! Hit wuz all right 'long as we wuz cotin'." She wuz jes' sweet as prunes.

"But behavin' you, de first day we git home f'm de weddin' she git riled kaze I speak pert to her an' she heave er brick at me."

"Dat man think kaze he married me he own me," shrieked Loretta. "I ain't no nigger bossin' roun' an' cussin'."

"An' so, judge," continued Jason, "we'd be much obliged ef you'd marry us in er hurry an' call it er new deal. Yessuh, judge, thank you, suh."

The recorder shook his head slowly, and as he informed them that the knot was tied tighter than he could cut it, Jason sighed wearily.

"Well, suh," he said, "I see sorry, I see pow'ful sorry. But I reckon we'll serrable erling some way an' ur. Come on, heah, you sweet bunch er collard-tops, fo' I frall you!"

Hoot-owl Habits

De hoot-owl sho' has er cur'us way, Wake in de night-time, sleep in de day, —Ethiopian Engines.

A man of peculiar habits was Balaam Young, if one believed the testimony of a much younger woman and gets about with the agility of a girl.

The Fiddlin' Man

I'm just an old-time fiddlin' man—my hair is white, My fingers cramped, can't hold a bow as once they might; Somehow the tunes don't ring so clear, I find, I often flat a note or so—because I'm blind.

And since in fifty years I've nothin' new, My songs may seem a trifle strange to you. There was a day before the darkness fell When folks all knowed my songs and loved them well;

But that's forgot now many and long a year, Those folks have gone and only I am here; Not even names and words are left to me Of dear, dead songs I played when I could see.

For when I fiddled "Annie Lisle" the other day A feller come and listened to me play And said that "Annie" was his college song Called "Alma Mater." Course the boy was wrong;

Why, "Annie Lisle" is twice as old as him! I uster hear it when the lights was dim At cotton frolics, an' I tell you, fien, Nobody called it "Alma Mater" then.

Twas "Wave, willows; murmur, waters; golden-sunbeams, smile!" And seems to me the mairds was sweeter string "Annie Lisle." Than any Alma Mater girl that he might call to mind— But I can't rightly say of course—I'm blind.

And after all I don't 'rackly care To see his Alma that he thinks so fair: For when my old bow straws across the string I sometimes hear low, wistful voices sing.

And through the night, the weariness and tears Come faces flyin', driftin' down the years, To seek me, meet me, greet me with a smile, And sing again, as once we sang, sweet "Annie Lisle."

—Ward Greene

at daylight an' git up ebery night come dark, I ain't fiddler ter hab no hoot-owl er husband, judge, an' I see tiash er de sleep in de day-time, wak' in de night-time."

"Where do you work, Balaam?" asked the recorder.

"Night watchman, judge, night watchman," responded Balaam glibly.

"Don't you b'lieve him, judge," spoke up Sapphira. "Ain't no no' night-watchman dan er 'tossun. He don't do no wuk a'tall, dat nigger don't. He's jes' er natchu-bawn hoot-owl, dass what he is, an' I ain't hab no owl fo' no husband."

"Well, shall I bind him over for vagrancy?" the judge asked Sapphira. "Don't want to git him in no trouble, judge," said Sapphira. "Jes' want him ter act lak udder folks do. Rudder hab er parrot fo' er husband dan er hoot-owl."

"I know a place where they cure habits lak Balaam's," replied the recorder. "You'll be ready to sleep after eight hours over the rocks. Eleven days."

ceased and Mrs. Sorrell kept deferring the matter of having the splinter removed until yesterday. The splinter had worked its way from where it first entered the flesh down into the fleshy part between the first and second finger of the hand and had begun to give annoyance and pain, necessitating its removal. Dr. O. N. Pendergrass extracted the splinter, which was perfectly preserved.

When she learned that she was to go to Atlanta again this year, she was extremely happy, and expressed her desire many times over the prospect of seeing and being with her many loyal friends. She hopes that her singing of the "Doll in 'Tales of Hoffman'" will give her Atlanta friends as much pleasure as they gave her on her last year's visit.

"Orlo" won her the entire New York press praise. Olympia, a girl that did not pay her marriage fee, after making a man quit his office and leave his business for several hours, does not deserve a good wife, and is a slack wad besides.

Anna Case Once Drove a Hack

(Continued from Page Three.) weekly visits to the Quaker City. Among them was Adreas Dippel, then manager of the company. He sent for her and after she sang for him from the Metropolitan stage he engaged her. Miss Case was re-engaged by the present management and has remained with this organization ever since.

Her first part was a little Dutch boy in "Werther," then followed various parts in other operas. Last season she created the role of Sophie in Strauss opera, "Der Rosenkavalier," a year before, Fedor in "Boris Godunov," and the Happy Shade in Gluck's

"Orlo" won her the entire New York press praise. Olympia, a girl that did not pay her marriage fee, after making a man quit his office and leave his business for several hours, does not deserve a good wife, and is a slack wad besides.

When she learned that she was to go to Atlanta again this year, she was extremely happy, and expressed her desire many times over the prospect of seeing and being with her many loyal friends. She hopes that her singing of the "Doll in 'Tales of Hoffman'" will give her Atlanta friends as much pleasure as they gave her on her last year's visit.

When she learned that she was to go to Atlanta again this year, she was extremely happy, and expressed her desire many times over the prospect of seeing and being with her many loyal friends. She hopes that her singing of the "Doll in 'Tales of Hoffman'" will give her Atlanta friends as much pleasure as they gave her on her last year's visit.

When she learned that she was to go to Atlanta again this year, she was extremely happy, and expressed her desire many times over the prospect of seeing and being with her many loyal friends. She hopes that her singing of the "Doll in 'Tales of Hoffman'" will give her Atlanta friends as much pleasure as they gave her on her last year's visit.

POLICE MATRILE

By Ward Greene

Her Easter Bonnet

Dar wuz er black 'oman by name of Miss' Lou. She had so many chickens she didn't know whut ter do;

So I borrowed one off er widout nothin' said, But she picked up er brickbat an' busted mah head.

"Darktown Mother Goose. YOU mean to tell me you used a live chicken to trim your hat with?" the recorder inquired doubtfully of Mandy Moore, belle of the Black Belt and defendant against the charges of Lucy Simpson, an aged colored woman.

"Hit wuz sho' er live hen, judge," nodded Mandy, "but hit ain't 'blong ter dis nigger 'oman."

"I see er stylish gal," she added modestly, "an' I say ter mahself dat none er dese darktown ladies gwiner outshine me Easter mawnin'!" So I buys me er hen an' pin 'er on mah black straw hat."

Lucy Simpson sniffed. "Whut dat er bout buyin'?" she bridled. "Judge, I git up Easter mawnin' ter git me er egg often de hen 'ouse an' bless Gawd! mah Dommickler hen done gone away!"

"Bout two minutes later I puke mah hat outen de front do' an' dar come dis Mandy sassier down de road all dress' up in green cloze wid mah hen er astin' 'up on top. 'Bout time I holler de hen cackle an' filed away straight to de coop."

"I ain't fasten' de hen quite tight 'nough wid dem cloze-pins," muttered Mandy Moore discomfitedly as she removed $5.75 from her husband's purse.

Letter to a Bank Was His Last Will

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—A will in the shape of a note addressed to the bank was the last testament of George E. Konning.

The paper was probated Friday in the county court. It was as follows: "Louisville, Ky., Sept. 20, 1913. First National Bank, Please let the bearer, my wife, have the balance of my money (after my death), and oblige, GEORGE E. KONNING."

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—Chief Owens will add a new member to his police force today; he will be known as the "chicken policeman," and his special duty will be to arrest and place in the city pound chickens, turkeys, ducks, geese, etc., caught running at large in an ordinance passed by city council any months ago, but which has never been enforced. It has not yet been announced whether he will be provided with a coat and a rod and hook to use in his work of catching the fowl, nor has any appropriation been made for assistance in the way of small boys to aid in chasing chickens.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Mudholes on Auto Road Are a Cold Mine for Negro

Keeps Yoke of Oxen Ready to Drag Autos Out of the Miry Places and is Getting Rich.

ON the public road from Lincoln to Augusta near the village of Columbus county, there are two mudholes, not more than 100 yards apart which are dreads out of the mud.

The road is an interstate highway, used by South Carolina motorists and from Augusta and non-tourists from Florida resorts to Asheville.

A negro who lives in a cabin near the two mudholes is getting rich beyond cotton field dreams by keeping a yoke of oxen at the place and pulling the automobiles out of the mud.

He takes whatever they give him, sometimes a quarter, sometimes two dollars. After pulling one tourist out of the first hole the darky leaned upon the running board with a hoe in his hand.

"Where are you going now?" asked the tourist.

"Boss, there's another mudhole right yonder and I knows you's gwine ter get stuck there, too. I mount as well as on up dar and help you out uv dat one," the negro replied.

50-Year-Old Hat Worn by Georgian

LAGRANGE, Ga.—J. C. Sims, living near Hogansville, is probably in possession of the most valued hat in Georgia. It is made of genuine beaver hide and is a little more than a half century old.

Thursday, while Mr. Sims was in LAGRANGE, he passed by Jim Truitt, who recognized the hat, and said, "That is the hat your father used to wear, isn't it?"

Mr. Sims answered him in the affirmative, and a bit of conversation brought the history of the aged "sky-piece" to light.

It was bought by the present wearer's father in 1863 from Allen Bros. of Heard county, and had been made that same year at St. Cloud. The price paid for it was $100 in Confederate money.

The only money that has been spent on the upkeep of this valuable hat was for a new band and sweat band supplied about fifteen years ago, and a coat of dye just three years ago.

The hat is now in good condition and looks a credit to its wearer. It is certainly a source of pride for Mr. Sims.

Newman Checker Players Defy State

THE editor of the LaGrange Graphic has received and published the following challenge:

"I note that Mr. DeLoach of your city has issued an open challenge to any player in the state for a match at checkers. The Newman Checker club will pay his expenses, or the expenses of any player in Troup county, to Newman, on any date to be selected by them, if said player will contest with a Coverts county player for the championship of Western Georgia. Address all communications to the undersigned.

"THOS. J. THURMAN, "Secretary Newman Checker club."

Chicken Cop Joins Brunswick Force

BRUNSWICK, Ga.—Chief Owens will add a new member to his police force today; he will be known as the "chicken policeman," and his special duty will be to arrest and place in the city pound chickens, turkeys, ducks, geese, etc., caught running at large in an ordinance passed by city council any months ago, but which has never been enforced. It has not yet been announced whether he will be provided with a coat and a rod and hook to use in his work of catching the fowl, nor has any appropriation been made for assistance in the way of small boys to aid in chasing chickens.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Any council has decided that the chicken ordinance is to be enforced, and hereafter any chickens, turkey or fowl of any kind caught running at large will be placed in the city pound and it will be necessary for the owner to pay a fee to recover said fowl.

Temperance Edicts In Europe Won't Mean a Millennium

Value of Temperance and Evil of Intemperance Can't Be Overstated.

But One Virtue Doesn't Make a Christian World.

By Bishop Warren A. Candler.

THE European war has brought to pass one result at least which was wholly unexpected; it has aroused a prohibition movement in Europe. The war between the nations is not more vigorous than the war by all the nations against the use of intoxicants.

This reformation began in a most unexpected quarter. Russia, a nation which has been regarded as somewhat belated and benighted morally, took the lead in the matter with the utter suppression of the sale of vodka. This move upon the part of the Russian government was the more remarkable because the manufacture and sale of vodka have been a government monopoly. However, this made it the more easy to suppress, once the government decided to put an end to it.

Then followed a temperance movement in Germany, encouraged by the Kaiser, which had for its object a similar reformation to that which had been proclaimed in Russia, although its methods were less drastic.

At the same time, under the leadership of President Poincaré, the civil and military authorities of France began a movement to suppress the sale of alcohol. The French people offered no resistance to the reformation but fell in with it most heartily and unanimously.

Now comes a strong prohibition movement in England. This movement has not yet taken the form of prohibition by legal enactment, but is a movement for voluntary abstinence, initiated by King George in the royal household. The British king has excluded the use of wines and liquors from all his houses. Members of the cabinet and notable statesmen in both houses of parliament have followed instantly the example set by the King.

Practically all the newspapers of the United Kingdom support the movement and praise the action of the King and those who are co-operating with him. David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, who started the prohibition movement in England, is jubilant. He says "temperance has won its victory, and the effect of this victory will be far-reaching in deciding the outcome of the war."

When before in the history of Christendom has the world seen great nations so united in a warfare against the use of intoxicants? It is a movement of unprecedented proportions and tremendous power.

Let us look at a few things about it however. These nations have entered upon this crusade against the use of intoxicants as a war measure. Military necessity, rather than moral principle, is the force back of the movement. The promoters of the movement do not pretend to have discovered anything new concerning the liquor evil. They simply enforce by political position and power the policies which the advocates of temperance have demanded for generations past. Hitherto the principles of temperance have been derided by some of the leaders of these nations which now enforce them so vigorously. So it turns out that the temperance people were right, and at heart everybody knew they were right. Under the pressure of necessity, political leaders have been forced to admit the correctness of principles which, heretofore, they have lightly esteemed or openly despised. Let us hear no more of the folly of "temperance fanatics." All the world has been forced to acknowledge the soundness of the position taken by the temperance people.

It will be interesting to observe how the men and women, who have ridiculed Secretary Bryan's "Grape-Juice language," will think and speak of the action of King George in banishing all wines and liquors from the royal palaces of England. Will they call him "Grape-Juice George?" Is Emperor William to be characterized "Water-Wagon William?" Will the Czar of Russia be denounced as "Puritan?" Will President Poincaré of France be derided and denounced for enacting "blue laws" in France? It seems probable that some, who have been so quick to censure the temperance habits of President Wilson, Secretary Bryan and Secretary Daniels, will have to revise their notions a bit. Broad culture and social refinement cannot be identified with wine-bibbing and social immorality. The majesty of moral principles must be respected. Social customs change, but that which is right abides forever.

The example of King George is one for emulation by people occupying influential positions in any community. If the leaders in the community wish the masses to be sober, then let the leaders set an example of sobriety. To what is the leading citizen leading the people, when he himself indulges in habits of intemperance and licentiousness? Such leadership can lead nowhere except to social disaster and national destruction.

If men and women of means persist in drinking costly liquors in their expensive homes and in their fashionable clubs, they can do nothing to arrest the evil of intemperance among people of less influence in homes of poverty or in clubs of a coarser type. The fact is, this whole business of wine-bibbing and liquor-guzzling, whether carried on in expensive homes or in sumptuous clubs is essentially a coarse, vulgar thing. It is indulgence of mere animalism. There is not a trace of refinement or culture or decency in it. It belongs to the swine type of things, in which the brutish element of human nature finds a shameful outlet.

The temperance people have something to learn from this prohibition movement which the European war has set going. As has been intimated, this world-wide warfare upon intemperance denotes the correctness of the principles which the temperance people have advocated, and for this they may well congratulate themselves. But they must not overlook the fact that this is a purely selfish movement. It is a war measure, born of selfish passion, and inevitable necessities of the great international conflict. It will probably make the nations more sober. They will not quickly return to their old habits of intemperance after peace has been declared. It is quite probable that Russia will never again allow the manufacture and sale of vodka. Beer in Germany, and wine in France are permanently discredited, notwithstanding all the talk we have heard for years concerning the sobriety of beer-drinking and wine-drinking countries. England will not be as sullen in drunkenness as heretofore. But none of these nations are aroused against other vices than intemperance. They are as licentious in life as malignant in their hostilities to one another, and as selfish in their political and commercial aspirations as ever. Let the temperance people mark this fact, and take notice that though the whole world should adopt total abstinence, it would not thereby become a Christian world. Temperance is just one virtue. It is a great virtue, and intemperance is a great evil. Words can hardly

Spring Blossoms Of Whitehall.

NEW SPRING HATS worn by Miss Harriett Thumler, of Atlanta. On the left at the top, turban with paradise spray. Right at the top, lavender poke, purple velvet ribbon, pansies, violets, heather, and pink roses. Left at the bottom, model in lavender tones with muff to match. Second from the top on the right, sailor in black and white. At bottom on right, new silk straw with black quill.

Real Hair Hats Are to Be Popular This Summer

HATS are the petals, the blossoms, of Whitehall in spring months—the early blooms that bring fragrance and color.

They never have had softer hues or more sensible shapes than this year. Their characteristic seems to be common sense.

"I'm sure," said one authority last week, "that everyone will agree in that. Never have hats been more pleasing, but never have they been freer of freakish fads."

The winter talk of military styles was idle. We have no such vagaries. We have no European caricatures. I have studied hats in Atlanta 15 years, and I have never seen them better suited to southern women than this spring. They are better in every way—shape, color, material.

"Both large and small hats are being worn, but large hats will be the fashion this summer. Real hair hats and legions will be popular. Panamas and felts will be used for outings. In the trimmings are an abundance of flowers and ribbons."

Millionaire Hyde's Sunshine Stories of Prison

(Continued from Page Two.)

ed to his subject. "We would form a trust, bind all the moonshiners to gether, raise the jug price and coin money hand over fist. What do you say?"

Two husky Galun Gap boys, brothers, sat on the ground and nodded approval. "Now, what might you be askin' us for the liquor?" said one.

"I'll tell you," said Hyde. "You sell it to me for $2 a gallon. At that figure I'll make a good profit and so will you."

There was a long argument. One brother insisted on $3 a gallon. Hyde refused to pay it.

For long, day after day, they talked about it, the moonshiners and Hyde. Once the brothers had come down to

$2.50 a gallon and Hyde had offered $2.25, but there they stuck. Neither side would crack a nickel more."

"Those fellows," said Hyde, laughing, "were as serious about it as anybody I ever saw in my life. It was real business to them. But finally I told them if they wouldn't give me my price, negotiations were off. And so the moonshine trust busted."

Ancient Bell Rings Last Time: Chimes Are Forgotten Here

Atlanta Woman Was First to Climb Pike's Peak In April--Descendant of Oliver Cromwell Lives Here. What a Healthy Baby Is.

By Angus Perkinson

BELLS are a fashion forgotten here as casually as a style of dress. To revive the custom, the Second Baptist church recently awoke the old rille silent for years in the belfry of the church—a dreaming, drowsing ancient of the days of chimes and soft notes that called to Sunday worship.

A message next week came from the neighbors. "We love the bell, we venerate it, but please don't ring it."

Bells were a topic last week for a group at the Evangelical Ministers' association, which all denominations attend. Said Dr. Richard Orme Flynn:

"They now are expensive, noisy, and unnecessary. When enough in the country, but worse than useless in town."

Comments of others were an echo of his thought.

Even the schools are quitting the bells, the smaller churches, and those away from the business sections, use bells as a call to service.

Atlanta really is becoming a city without the slow sweet notes, the chime, quiet voices of bells. Such sounds that suit so well with spring mornings are heard best now in the suburban parts.

Atlanta Woman Sets Record

THE only woman to climb Pike's peak in early April was Mrs. N. H. Kirkpatrick, of 54 Grant street. Snow was 10 feet deep, and, at the top, a blizzard that seemed to blow from all four corners of the world, swept over and around her.

It was a perilous trip. Few men go above the timber line so early in the season, and even the hardiest take the climb as an adventure.

Mrs. Kirkpatrick was accompanied by Mrs. Frances Anderson, of Fort Collins, and by Roy Harris, a guide of the Halfway House. This was two years ago, and was the climax of a trip through the west.

"At first," she says, "the air was merely cool and delicious. We spent the night at Halfway House, that nestles among the spruce and fir trees. We started in the early morning toward the peaks that grew higher and higher the nearer we approached them."

"Then, we came to lakes of pure snow, and knew the uncanny feeling of standing above the clouds. We passed the timber line where even the scrubbiest pines stop, and reached a space of bare rock at Windy Point."

"In snow above the knees we panted on, and, just at the summit, a blizzard blew out of the clouds upon us. But at last we reached our goal, 14,109 feet above the sea, an elevation that commands 60,000 square miles of earth. It was very happy, we descended, with the blinding snow to keep us company."

Cromwell Descendant Here

A DESCENDANT of Oliver Cromwell lives here—T. F. Cromwell, a bookkeeper for Davison-Paxon-Stokes company. He traces his descent directly, and explains the elision of the "m" as a precaution taken by the family following Cromwell's downfall. All of his blood were open then to political prosecution, and sought protection by changing the family name.

Two close kinsmen of Cromwell immigrated to the new world, one to South Carolina; and from this Cromwellian, the Atlanta man descended. In the Cromwell family until recently was the original court-farmer of Oliver Cromwell, but in an unexplained manner it disappeared.

"I am of course proud of my descent," said Mr. Cromwell last week, "but I wish you wouldn't say much about it. I am not particularly eager to appear absurd."

Healthy Baby Standards

STANDARDS for a healthy baby, fixed by Dr. William J. Hickson, of Chicago's staff of city physicians, will be used here in an educational campaign this summer to prevent sickness among Atlanta babies.

"At birth," he says, "a baby should weigh at least six pounds, and measure 20 inches."

"At one year of age he should weigh twenty-one pounds and measure twenty-seven inches, increasing three inches during the second year, and from his third to tenth year two inches, annually. His fontanelle, or 'soft spot,' should close at about the nineteenth month."

"Mentally he should be as follows: Three to four and one-half months, grasp an object that is placed before him. Hold his head erect, unsupported. Seven months, sit alone, unsupported and reach for toys. Eight to ten months, start to creep. Some babies never creep but start to walk instead."

"Ten months, start to stand, holding some object. At eleven months, stand unaided alone and at from twelve to fourteen months, start to walk."

"One year, say, 'mamma' and 'papa.' The names of animals, persons and objects and put two words together."

Mayor's Six Silver Dollars

MAYOR WOODWARD always carries six silver dollars in his left hand trousers' pocket, which he had as soon neglect as the trousers themselves. The six dollars is one that he doesn't tell, but probably it is that combination of mannerism and superstition that the best of men have.

One learned judge here reads nothing, when he's free from law researches, but the news and most popular novels. The more popular they are the better he likes them. In fact, a canvass of the reading tastes of the city would show that the seriousness would be expected; and a really intellectual inclination where lightness seems probable.

Skeleton Gives Farmer a Fright

BALDWIN, Ga.—Not far from Baldwin on the farm of F. M. Cash in Banks county, is a little round knob, supposed to have been built by the Indians. Billie Rumsey the other day was plowing in the knob singing "If the Reuben Morning" when his plow struck something solid. It brought up a skeleton.

Billie was so surprised he decided to examine this "dead man" as he called it. All at once he stopped. It would not do. Billie said he had never had a conversation with a "dead man" but without any delay, and has not been back to see his find.

NEWS OF WOMEN AND SOCIETY

Spend-the-Day Party

Little Misses Harriet and Virginia Rhodes gave a spend-the-day party Saturday at their summer home, "Rose Villa," at Austell.

The children were taken out in automobiles, returning in the afternoon. Games of all kinds were enjoyed and an Easter egg hunt took place in the afternoon.

The party included Margaret Cunningham, Sarah Bell Brodhead, Virginia and Mildred Fair, Alice Callaway, Virginia Todd, Grace Ogden, Elizabeth Ogden, Grace Moore, Elizabeth Martin, Harriet and Virginia Rhodes.

Forty-Two Club Entertained

Mrs. W. A. McWhorter entertained her forty-two club Wednesday afternoon at her home on McLenahan street. Quantities of peach blossoms and palms artistically arranged decorated the whole lower floor, the prize was a hand painted plate, which was presented to the hostess. The cherry scheme was carried out in the hand painted place cards and refreshments.

Misses Marie Rauschenberg and Biola McWhorter served punch. The club members present were Mrs. W. A. McWhorter, Mrs. T. R. Campbell, Mrs. Julian Arnold, Mrs. Sarah Watkins, Mrs. H. R. Moncrief, Mrs. J. E. Saxe, Mrs. H. W. Jones, Mrs. J. E. McWhorter, Mrs. W. W. Jamison, Mrs. A. A. Neeson, Mrs. J. D. Chappell, Mrs. Walter Blackstock, Mrs. Robert Edwards, and the invited guests were Mrs. C. A. Rauschenberg and Mrs. Dan L. Rauschenberg.

Birthday Party

Miss Dot Butler was hostess Friday afternoon at her home in Ormeau Park at a birthday party, which included an Easter egg hunt.

Those present were Misses Annie Jones, Adeline Jordan, Louise Coker, Jeannette Banks, Martha Moore, Genevieve Schary, Julia Zachary, Margaret Taylor and Masters Layton, Michael, Charles Coker, Andrew Coker and Miss Russell.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Smith Give Dinner Party

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Smith entertained a party of friends Friday evening at the dinner dance at the Georgian Terrace. Mr. and Mrs. Smith's guests included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellis, Mr. and Mrs. Reid Holmes, Mr. Willie Ragan and Mrs. Thomas Vetter.

Chapter Named

For Mrs. Wilson

The Julia Jackson chapter, C. of C., organized a children's chapter in West End Friday afternoon which will bear the name of Margaret A. Wilson chapter. Children of the Confederacy of West End.

Fifty-three applicants met with Mrs. J. E. Nichol on Gordon street, who will be their director.

Miss Hanna, state director of the C. of C., gave a talk on the work of the C. of C. and the importance of true hospitality.

Mrs. A. M. C. Wilson, ex-president of the club, gave a talk on the work of the club.

Miss U. D. C. who the chapter has honored by bearing her name, gave an enthusiastic talk on the war.

Miss Mary Butt Griffith, director of the Julia Jackson chapter, assisted by the officers of the chapter—Miss Florio, la Baron, president, Miss Marie Duval, first vice president; Miss Vivian Mathis, secretary; Miss Ruby Smith, treasurer; and Mrs. Paul Rauschenberg, registrar—organized the chapter.

W. C. T. U. Holds Meeting

On Friday morning at 10:30 in the parlors of Hotel Astor, assembled the largest gathering of W. C. T. U. women at any monthly meeting ever held in the city.

The members of the Piedmont Women's Christian Temperance union with their friends enjoyed a most entertaining program.

The devotions were conducted by Mrs. John B. Dobson.

The several songs were beautifully rendered by Mrs. Henkle and Miss Ethel Powers.

Five reports of Sunday school work and of literature were given by Mrs. A. M. Hugglett and Mrs. Walter New.

Mrs. Henry H. Tucker, the president, introduced Judge T. O. Hatchcock, of the municipal court. At the close of Judge Hatchcock's speech, he was made the honorary member of the union.

Mr. Upshaw was greeted with applause as he came to the platform and made an interesting address.

Dr. DuBois was present and spoke encouraging words.

Easter Egg Hunt

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Beaumont, of 29 1/2 Charles avenue, were hosts yesterday afternoon to about forty children at an Easter egg hunt.

There were 600 eggs for the children, including a prize egg for the larger and smaller children. A sawdust picnic contained presents, for which the children fished.

Will Interpret Carmen

At Georgian Terrace

"Carmen" will be interpreted on Tuesday night, April 12, at 8 p. m., at the Georgian Terrace. Mrs. Earle S. Jackson will lead on this occasion.

Mr. Charles Yorkston and Mr. J. C. Wardwell will sing the duet from the first act and other numbers.

Mrs. M. M. O'Brien and Mr. Wilfred Walters will render several selections, also the duet from the last act.

Mr. Jenkins will be the accompanist. The following program is announced:

"Carmen"—Facts given me by Mrs. Stringfellow.

"Seguidilla"—By Mrs. M. M. O'Brien.

"Chanson der Torredor"—Mr. Walters.

Duet from the first act "Parle Moi de Ma Mere" (Bet Micaela and Don Jose), to be sung by Mrs. Yorkston and Mr. J. C. Wardwell.

Flower song from the second act—By Mr. Wardwell.

"La Fleur que tu m'as mis en ta main"—By Mrs. O'Brien and Mr. Walters.

Mrs. Yorkston to sing "Cent des Contrebandiers," sung by Micaela.

Duet from the last act "Carmen Je t'aime"—By Mrs. O'Brien and Mr. Walters.

"Enoch Arden"

Mrs. Merrell Hutchinson will read "Enoch Arden," with the musical setting by Richard Strauss, on Wednesday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. J. M. High, 1022 Peachtree road.

This well known poem in its simplicity, its beauty, and its pathos, has touched the heart of the world even before it was enhanced by the genius of Richard Strauss, whose musical setting has intensified the message of the poem a hundredfold.

The reading is given under the auspices of the Young Ladies committee of the North Avenue Presbyterian church. Tickets are 50c and may be secured from Mrs. High or Mrs. Frank Imman. There will also be admission at the door on Wednesday.

Canopy Tops, Dome and Tub Shapes, The Sun Ray and others and others. But come see them—there's an individual parcel to match your costume—yes, even your temperament.

$3.50 to $15.

Children's Parasols, also, 50c to $5.00. (Main Floor, Right.)

DANCING CONTEST

For silver loving cup will be held every Thursday evening at Baker's Studio 8130. Admission 50c cents couple. Entrance 10c Edgewood av.

M. RICH & BROS. CO.

Hundreds of New Parasols Ah! the Beauty of them, That's it!

In Atlanta, the Celebrated Hartmann Wardrobe Trunks Are Now

Some of its features are Patented Gibraltized, reinforced construction—strongest possible method of building trunks. Absence of bolts—no broken finger nails; no stooping.

Entire hanging device is removable from the trunk to the closet—at home or in the hotel. Gives year-round wardrobe service.

40 inches high—no lost space. Lighter in weight. Guarantees against excess baggage charge forever.

Let us show you the other exclusive features of the Hartmann Wardrobes

$26 to $90

We Are Also Exclusive Agents in Atlanta for Indestructo Wardrobes $27.50 to $150. Neverbreak Wardrobes $16.50 to $45. Mendel Wardrobes $20 to $75.

New Arrivals in Women's Suits at $19.75 & $25 Forwarded by Our Buyer Now in New York

"Masculinism and militarism" are the keynotes—severely tailored suits—belted suits—braid-bound suits—military suits—Vastly developed on serges, gabardines, failles and shepherd checks; unusual assortments; in all sizes at $19.75, $25, $29.50.

Adjustable Dress Forms $5.98

The style is much as illustrated, a four piece adjustable form, with cast steel rod and hardened steel brace to insure extraordinary rigidity. Wheel top, as shown, enabling one to will to make the waist, neck, hips and bust larger or smaller.

Simple style; always in order. Easily adjustable; practically indestructible.

An added feature makes the bottom of the dress form can be placed under table or in corner. $5.98.

Other forms, Kumquat and adjustable, from $3.50 to $14.98. (Main Floor, Center.)

143 Whitehall St. BAUKNIGHT FURNITURE CO. 143 Whitehall St. Bauknight Specials for This Week

The coming of Spring demands new pieces of furniture, special pieces or suits to fill in, and we are going to make extraordinarily attractive prices and terms on the specials listed in this advertisement for all of this week. The dining room suit shown is one of the best bargains that we have ever advertised; our line of davenport, one of which is shown below, is as complete as you will find anywhere; and we have bought an extraordinarily large stock of refrigerators to meet the Spring demands of our customers.

Remember that your name on our books is as welcome as is your cash in our drawer. Our cash and credit prices are the same, and you will enjoy the liberal and courteous treatment which you will receive here. Whether you require a single piece or a home furnished complete, we invite you to come this week.

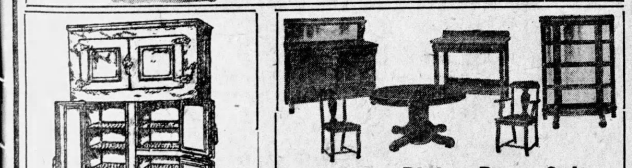

DAVENPORTS UPHOLSTERED IN SOLID LEATHER OTHERS IN GENUINE MULE SKIN

There is no piece of furniture that adds more to the living room or the library than does the big, roomy, comfortable davenport—and there is no piece more useful than the davenport that makes down into a comfortable sleeping bed at night.

We are going to offer for this week the biggest sale of davenports than can be used both day and night that Atlanta has ever seen. We have these in fumed oak, Early English, and can supply any other wood desired. These davenports are upholstered in solid leather and mule skin, and are to go at lower prices than such goods have ever sold for before.

$65.00 Values this week for $45.00—You save $15.00
$40.00 Values this week for $27.50—You save $12.50
$35.00 Values this week for $23.00—You save $12.00

NOTE: The photograph at the left shows how the davenports we are offering for this week make down into a comfortable bed at night.

10-Piece Dining Room Suits Mahogany and Golden Oak

The above is an exact photograph of our ten-piece dining room suits, in both mahogany and golden oak.

	Reg. Price	Reduced Price	You Save
60-in. Buffet	$75.00	$57.75	$17.25
54-in. Dining Table
6-ft. extension	35.00	26.25	8.75
China Cabinet	40.00	32.25	7.75
Serving Table	22.50	17.50	5.00
Chairs to match, each	4.00	3.00	1.00

Other designs of dining room suits in fumed oak.

BAUKNIGHT FURNITURE CO. 143 Whitehall Street

Sanitary Porcelain Lined Refrigerators

The time for refrigerators has arrived, and we have the most complete stock of all sizes that we have ever carried. We have all the different styles, every one in the line up to conform to the most up-to-date sanitary methods of refrigeration. Every refrigerator has a removable ice chamber and can be cleaned instantly. Prices from $6 to $40. Every Refrigerator Guaranteed.

Longcloths & Nainsooks Manufactured under English process, but made in America to lower the cost.

THESE longcloths and nainsooks are made especially for Rich's under the old English process. Threads are unusually fine and uniform; the finish is soft and smooth. All are a yard wide, and put up twelve yards to the bolt. Sure satisfaction warranted.

LONGCLOTHS	NAINSOOKS
No. 400, bolt $9c.	No. 444, bolt $12.25.
No. 500, bolt $12.25.	No. 555, bolt $15.00.
No. 600, bolt $15.00.	No. 666, bolt $17.75.
No. 700, bolt $17.75.	No. 777, bolt $20.50.
No. 800, bolt $20.50.	No. 888, bolt $23.25.
No. 900, bolt $23.25.	No. 999, bolt $26.00.

Your Baby Should Have the Best Diaper Cloth

THE Red Star Diaper Cloth is aseptic, durable, absorbent and non-irritant.

In 10-yard sealed packages. Priced according to width:

18 inches, 75c. 22 inches, 85c. 27 inches, $1.00.
20 inches, 80c. 24 inches, 90c. 30 inches, $1.10.
(White Goods—Main Floor, Left.)

Last 3 Days of the Annual Towel Sale

Many are priced by the dozen, notably:

$3--Values $4.50

A splendid 39c bath towel with heavy double twisted threads. Full size 24x44 inches. Dozen $3.00.

$1.89--Values $3

Union linen, 18x35 inches, dozen for $1.89.

$2.75--Values $4.20

A high-grade 35c German all-linen huck towel, 19x37 to 20x35 inches. Dozen $2.75.

50c to 75c Bath Towels, 39c

Fancy designs, the mill's discontinued patterns. All desirable styles, and big huck fellows. Each 39c.

$1.25 to $1.50 Bath Mats, 89c

Look like small carpet rugs. They're that big and heavy. The mill's discontinued fancy patterns.

Bon Ton CORSETS

Correctly Designed to Conform to the Newest Modes in Dress

Note particularly the gentle "Curve-in" at waist; the slightly higher bust; the smooth fitting skirt; the flat straight back effect.

Fitting one's gown over a Bon-Ton insures smooth, straight lines. Prices are $3 to $20.

An Unusually Attractive Spring Corset at $3

—is made of imported pink or white broche. Elastic inset to reduce hips. Silk embroidered trimming at top. Wablon bone filled; three pairs hose supporters attached. (Corsets, Second Floor.)

Klosfit Silk Petticoats $5

Taffetas—Messalines—Jersey Silks. Black, white and all the desired colors. Full flare styles in the newest models, and you know the "Klosfit fits without a wrinkle."

Have Your Hair Shampooed with the Massage Vibrator

RICH'S Salons of Hair Dressing takes another forward step and introduces to Atlanta women the new

Hydropathic Shampoo Vibrator

—The vibrator is composed in a perforated cylinder fitted with rubber teeth. With one and the same motion it imparts vibration to the scalp, massages and cleanses it thoroughly. More efficient and sanitary than the old method, and the cost is the same—50c.

—Every comb, brush and tool in Rich's Hair Dressing Salon is always enclosed in a sanitary sealed package. The towels—even when used for manicuring—are sterilized before and after using. The entire Salon is scrupulously clean. One leaves the Salon with a consciousness of expert work, cleanly done. (Hairdressing Salons, Second Floor.)

Silk Voiles Have Come Back with the Modes of 1830

FREE flowing wide skirts demand the light weight, easily draped silk voile. A beautiful quality is here in

Olive Belgian Blue Tete de Negre Wistaria
Reseda Midnight Battiship gray Black, etc.

—Every thread pure silk, in a fine, firm mesh. 42 inches wide. $1.50 a yard.

Rough Silks Are Coming Strong for motorizing coats, tourists' suits, sports' wear, evening wraps, dresses and smart street suits.

—Most of the silks are of the washable pongee family—rough and aristocratic looking. Various weights for the different costumes. Especially prominent are the Tussahs, Rough Pongees and "Khaki-Kools." Various in

Oyster White Puttee Copenhagen Green
Dark & Light Blues Sand Natural Black

—Nearly all are 45 inches wide. $1 to $2.50 a yard.

Two Specials in Black Taffetas

Both are pure thread silk in the supple chiffon weave and finish and 36 inches wide.

$1.25 Heavyweight 98c
36-inch Taffeta

$1.00 Lightweight 79c
36-inch Taffeta

'Tis a Pretty Fashion to Wear on One's Birthday

Flower Wrought in Gold & Natural Colors; Choice 50c

In what month were you born? Here is the flower to wear. In:

January—Wild Rose.
February—Carnation.
March—Violet.
April—Easter Lily.
May—Lily of the Valley.
June—Rose.
July—Daisy.
August—Water Lily.
September—Poppy.
October—Cosmos.
November—Chrysanthemum.
December—Holly.

The flowers are encaused in their natural colors in gold top rings, ovals and wishbones. Brooch Pins 50c. Two Beauty Pins to match 50c. (Main Floor, Center.)

15c Bring this Coupon & 15c for this

45c Wear-Ever Aluminum One Quart Stew Pan

All Wear-Ever Aluminum Utensils on Sale; Reductions Are 10 to 20% (Housewares, Second Floor.)

"WEAR-EVER" COUPON

Any one who brings this coupon to the "Wear-Ever" store will receive a 10% discount on any purchase of $5.00 or more. This coupon is good for one year. Add date of purchase. Only one coupon can be used on one purchase.

Name _____

Address _____

City _____

THE ALUMINUM COOKING UTENSIL CO.
New Kensington, Pa.

45c Wear-Ever Aluminum One Quart Stew Pan

All Wear-Ever Aluminum Utensils on Sale; Reductions Are 10 to 20% (Housewares, Second Floor.)

M. RICH & BROS. CO. M. RICH & BROS. CO. M. RICH & BROS. CO. M. RICH & BROS. CO.

News of Women and Society

To Miss Kuehnle

Mrs. Jerome Simmons, Jr., will entertain a small party Wednesday afternoon at the tea dance at the Piedmont club, in honor of Miss Lelia Belle Kuehnle, the guest of Mrs. Charles Hansen.

Miss Kuehnle was the central figure in a party entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adair Saturday afternoon at the Druid Hills golf club.

Lights and Shadows in Japan
The newly organized Junior Girls Guild of Epiphany Episcopal church will give their first play, "Lights and Shadows in Japan," Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the Highland school on North avenue.

Miss Lewis' Guest List

The bridge party at which Miss Ruth Lewis will entertain Tuesday afternoon at her home on Juniper street, will be a charming compliment to Miss Elizabeth Morgan whose marriage to Mr. Edward Lewis will be solemnized Thursday, April 22.

The invited guests include Miss Alice May Freeman, Miss Clifford West, Miss Nell Prince, Miss Almira Huntout, Miss Dorothy Lillon, Miss Laura Cowles, Mrs. Ewing Dean, Mrs. Marshall Clarke Johnson, Miss Emily Cassin, Miss Marie Bidler, Miss Nancy H. Henskins, Miss Margaret Grant, Miss Katherine Ellis, Miss Cobble Vaughn, Miss Caroline Muse, Miss Margaret Lewis, Miss Carolyn King, Miss Aurelia Speer, Miss Willie Muse, Miss Irene Austin, Miss Frances Connally, Mrs. Jack Spaulding, Jr. and Mrs. Freeman Ellis.

Assisting in entertaining will be Mrs. Thomas Morgan, Mrs. T. S. Lewis, Mrs. Frank S. Lewis, Mrs. T. S. Lewis, Jr., Miss Eleanor Lewis and Miss Marian Dean.

Mr. and Mrs. Hillyer Entertain
Mr. and Mrs. William Hillyer entertained at dinner Saturday evening at the Capital City club in honor of Mr. Raymond Demere and Mr. Wilfred M. Knapp of Savannah. Mr. and Mrs. Hillyer's guests included Miss Susan Young, Miss Lelia White, Mr. Demere and Mr. Knapp.

Yaarab Patrol Dance

The Yaarab patrol will entertain at a dance Wednesday evening at the Druid Hills golf club at 8:30 o'clock.

Benefit Bridge Party

Chapter No. 1 of All Saints' church, of which Mrs. Albert Thornton, Jr., is chairman, will give a benefit bridge party at the residence of Mrs. Thornton on Decatur street, on Monday afternoon. Many handsome prizes will be offered and congenial parties are being made up for the afternoon. Tickets will be 50 cents and may be had from Mrs. Thornton or members of the chapter, and the game will commence at 3 o'clock.

Birthday Reception

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Young Men's Christian association will tender a birthday reception to the friends of the association on the 16th of April at their new building. The boys and girls will be entertained from 3 until 6 in the afternoon and the adults from 8 until 11 o'clock.

The twelve month will be represented by twenty-four ladies dressed as the flowers of each month in the booths. The following artists will appear on the program: Mrs. Percy H. Todd, Miss Evelyn Lewis, Mrs. Wesley Hensburg, Miss Nellie Joe Johnson, Miss Caroline Clark, Miss Elizabeth Henshaw, Mr. J. H. Mullin, Mr. Charles Sheldon. The Y. M. C. A. orchestra will play during the evening.

Supper will be served from 4 to 8 by a committee of young ladies for 25 cents.

RECENT ATTRACTIVE VISITOR

MISS MILDRED HUDSON.

Miss Hudson, of Lynchburg, Va., who is attending college at Converse, in Spartanburg, S. C., was the guest for the Easter holidays of her cousin, Miss Marion Vaughan.

Plays at Marist Hall

The juniors of St. Luke's Sunday school will present two plays at the Marist college hall Friday, April 16, at 8 o'clock. Admission, adults 25c and children 15c.

The proceeds are to be used for a charitable object which these young people have pledged to support. The public is cordially invited.

Matinee Party

Mrs. F. M. Lovelace will entertain at a matinee party Monday afternoon at the Forsyth theater in compliance to Mrs. Howard T. Lewis, a recent bride. The guests will include Mrs. Lewis, Mrs. J. C. Harwell, Mrs. George Niles, Mrs. Jake Moore, Miss Annie Marston, Mrs. A. S. McCombs and Mrs. A. M. Lewis.

Association Entertained

Mrs. T. C. Alston entertained the first street school Parent-Teacher association Friday afternoon.

Those present besides the regular members were Mrs. John W. Bowlett, state president; Mrs. Van Stavern, Hill Street school association; Mrs. R.

E. Hamlett, Calhoun school; Mrs. Carpenter, Calhoun school; Mrs. J. M. Savits, Forrest Avenue school, and Mrs. V. H. Krieger, school, who gave an interesting talk on child welfare. Mrs. Alston is president. Musical selections were rendered and dainty refreshments served.

Auction Bridge Party

Mrs. Baldwin Davis will entertain twenty guests at an auction bridge party Friday afternoon, in honor of her sister, Mrs. Henry Bartlett, of Orlando, Fla., and for Mrs. D. D. Pelton, of Winter, N. H., who is visiting Mrs. James Pritch.

Extraordinary Handkerchiefs AT ALLEN'S

We say extraordinary, for we have been preparing for months to give our customers a general Cut Price Sale on various grades. Whatever your wants may be you will find them here at reduced prices.

School Handkerchiefs

Plain white hemstitched, with corded borders; white, plaid and checked dimity and plain white, sheer Shamrock. They would be cheap at 5c; each

Boxed Initial Handkerchiefs

Ladies' white and colored initials in boxes of 1-4 and 1-2 dozens; for this sale only.

$1.00 Boxes at 69c
$1.50 Boxes at 98c

Women's White and Colored Embroidered

Hemstitched with all white or dainty colored one corner design or very fine Shamrock—plain white hemstitched linen; hand-embroidered initials on pure linen. 10c, 12 1/2-c and 15c values.

8c

Men's White Hemstitched Linen Handkerchiefs

Plain white or initials (broken assortment), our regular stock of 25c grades.

19c

Women's Hand Embroidered

Madeira, Armenian, Bretonne and Ardennes. Initials and one-corner embroidered designs—50c and 75c values, at

39c

Madeira Handkerchiefs

A large range of these beautiful hand-embroidered Handkerchiefs, selling for 75c to $1.00, each at

69c

Ladies' Plain White Linen

This is one of our staple numbers. Made of very fine all linen cloth, in 1-4 or 1-4-inch hemstitched hems, regular 25c value.

19c

25c Handkerchiefs at . . . 17c

Ladies' all linen hand-embroidered, in white or colors—all with the new narrow hems—not matted or milled—over fifty styles to choose from. Instead of 25c, they will be

17c

Men's White Hemstitched Soft Bleached Handkerchiefs

This is a good, fine, soft bleached S. S. Island. They come in 1-2-inch hems, and sell regularly at 19c

7c

Men's 50c Initial Hdkfs at 39c

Our regular stock of fine hand-decorated initials; (broken assortments), at

39c

Real Lace Handkerchiefs

Duchess and Princess Lace. A pretty select line, ranging from $1.50 to $5.00, each, at

1-2 Price

Ladies' Plain White Linen

Regular stock number, medium, sheer, all linen, 1-8 and 1-4-inch hemstitched hems—unusual 10c value.

8c

J. P. ALLEN & CO.

J. P. Allen & Co.

The White Net Frock for "The Great Occasion"

Be the occasion the dance, the garden party, the country club event, the wedding, the graduation—the white net frock is recommended by fashion. Even for the summer bride, than these filmy fabrics—soft and fine, and deceptively simple—there is nothing more effective. Net, marquisette and fine mull are the rival fabrics in popular favor.

The New Modes in Net Dresses

Double-skirted, tucked and frilled, with wide sash running under the coat-like bodice, the girlish result is adorable.

Skirts are full straight widths, with embroidered and braided bands, with groups of tiny frills, with many broad graduated tucks, with scalloped and pointed edges falling over drop skirts of lace flounces, some ribbon-trimmed—every one as dainty as a spring flower.

$15.00, $19.75, $25.00, $29.75 and $35.00

J. P. Allen & Co.

---51-53--- Whitehall

Davison-Paxon-Stokes Co.

Clearance Sale Monday 482 Trimmed Hats

At Prices Never So Low

FOUR LOTS

At the Following Prices

ON SALE

8 A. M.--MONDAY--8 A. M.

$4.73--135 Trimmed HATS Monday--$4.73

FORMER PRICES $10.00 AND $12.50

All made in our own workrooms, and no two alike.

Large Sailors, Shepherdess, Pokes & Turbans

$2.73--121 Trimmed HATS Monday--$2.73

FORMER PRICES $6.50 AND $7.50

All made in our own workrooms, and no two alike.

All colors: Black, saff, old rose, navy, brown, white.

$1.73--194 Trimmed HATS Monday--$1.73

FORMER PRICES $2.50 AND $5.00

All made in our own workrooms, and no two alike.

Former Price $2.50 AND $5.00

73c--32 Trimmed HATS--73c

Former Price $2.50 AND $5.00

All Colors and Styles

Former Price $2.50 AND $5.00

Personal Mention

—Mrs. Leonard Phinley, of Augusta, returned home Friday after a visit to Mrs. Albert Howell, and Mrs. Howell will leave next week for a stay of ten days in Augusta. Miss Marian Phinley who was an attendant in the Witham-cotton wedding has returned to her home in Augusta after having been delightfully entertained as the guest of Mrs. Howell.

—Miss Mae Shelton entertained at her home in West End Park Sunday, in honor of Miss Lily Nolan. The occasion was in celebration of Miss Nolan's eighteenth birthday and the guests were Miss Thornton, Miss Clio Purifoy, Miss Gus Grimes, Miss Harriet Grimes, Miss Vaila Shelton and Mrs. J. R. Shelton.

—Mrs. Homer Ward and Mrs. John Ward gave a luncheon Friday, at their home in Stockbridge, in honor of Miss Margaret Ward. The guests included Mrs. Ward, Miss Madge Horne, Mrs. Byron Kistner, Mrs. H. C. Ward, Mrs. W. W. Ward, Miss Ila G. Brannon, Mrs. J. H. Swan and Mrs. J. L. Ward.

—Misses Susie and Ophelia Brumby, of Cedar town have returned from an extended visit in Florida, where they were with Miss Cora Brown and Miss Louise Hoppe of Marietta. They were guests of a series of house parties and are now with their sister, Mrs. Roger Dewar before returning to their home.

—A party from Tennessee who will attend grand opera and spend the week in the city includes Mrs. Joseph Thompson, Mrs. William Hargraves, Mrs. William Hale, Mrs. Whitford Cole and Mrs. Jack Reeves, of Nashville, and Mrs. Joseph Orrell and Miss Adele Orrell, of Memphis, Tenn.

—Mr. and Mrs. William R. Bean have sent invitations to the marriage of their daughter, Burnice Lucile, to Mr. Walter Elbert Smith on Tuesday evening, April 20, at the Park Street Methodist church, the ceremony to be followed by a reception at the residence on Gordon street.

—Mrs. J. W. Barker, of New York, formerly Miss Rebecca Hunter, who for a long while was connected in special work with the Central Presbyterian church, is in the city for a short visit with Mrs. G. A. Scarratt at her home, 174 Crew street.

—Mrs. William R. Latimer has returned from Vernon, Ala., where she has been the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Milner, and with Mr. Latimer, is at home at the residence of Mr. Latimer's sister, Mrs. Griffin, on Peachtree street.

—Mrs. R. H. Jenkins of Hogsheadville, was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. J. W. Childress, at 58 Garnett street, several days last week. Mrs. Childress and little son, Jack, Jr., leave April 15, for Tampa Fla. to make their future home.

—The friends of Mr. W. S. Wilson, who has been very ill for sometime past at St. Joseph's infirmary will be interested to learn that he is convalescing at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wilson on Spring street.

—Miss Eliza Dancy was the honor guest at the luncheon given Saturday at Mrs. Dan Harris. A series of parties have been planned for Miss Dancy during her visit to Mrs. Robert Cotton Alton at her home on Peachtree street.

—Miss Louise Love leaves Wednesday for New Orleans, from where on next Saturday she will sail for Cuba, Honduras, Central America, for an extended visit to her uncle, Mr. W. F. Boyle, the United States consul at that place.

—Miss Jettie May Coogle entertained the members of Mr. William Hurd Hill's Sunday school class Thursday evening at her home in Jonesboro, the party making the trip through the country by automobile.

—Miss Dancy entertained at a dinner at the residence at the Georgian Terrace Friday evening for Miss Taylor and her other guests, were Mr. James

BRIDE-ELECT OF JUNE

The attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Webster Blair, of Marietta. The wedding of Miss Blair and Mr. W. E. Roberts, of Atlanta, will be a beautiful event of June.

Johnston, Mr. Winter Alford and Mr. Robert Ralston.

A pleasant event of Saturday was the informal luncheon at which Mrs. John D. Aiken entertained in honor of Miss Henry Bartlett, of Orlando, Fla., and Mrs. D. D. Polton, of Manchester, New Hampshire.

Miss Broyles will give a bridge party Wednesday afternoon inviting twenty-four guests to meet Miss Taylor, and will be hosted next week at a luncheon in honor of Miss Taylor and Miss Louise Broyles.

—Mr. Raymond Demere and Mr. Wilfrid Knapp, of Savannah, are spending the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bloodworth at their home on Myrtle street and will return home Monday.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Harcourt Bellinger returned Saturday from their wedding trip to points of interest in Florida and Cuba and are at home to their friends at 1235 Peachtree street.

—Miss Eliza Dancy who is being delightfully entertained as the guest of Mrs. Robert C. Alton will visit Mrs. Katherine Ellis before returning to her home in Baltimore.

—Rev. Raymond D'Oveia, of Clarkston, Tenn., who was among the out-of-town guests at the Jones-DuBose wedding, is spending the week end with Mr. Thomas Eggleston.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Morgan McIntosh announce the birth of a son on April 10 at their home on Cherokee avenue, who will be called W. M. Morgan, Jr.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McGahee announce the birth of a daughter on Saturday, April 3, at their home on Forrest avenue, who has been named Mary Elizabeth.

—Mrs. G. F. Miller and her daughter, Monica, of Jacksonville, Fla., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Mabry, the parents of Mrs. Miller, at the Kimball hotel.

More Personals on Page Six

Anniversary Display

—OF—
GRAY & HALEY

We Know How

Interior Decorators

24 Luckie St.

We Know How

In honor of the first anniversary in our present location we have arranged an extraordinary display of handsome wall decorations, which includes the latest creations in foreign and domestic designs.

You are cordially invited to call and view this attractive exhibition. Our corps of expert decorators are capable of filling any demand.

GRAY & HALEY

24 LUCKIE STREET

We solicit out-of-town business.

KEELY'S

KEELY'S

KEELY'S

April Sales of Novelty White Goods

---Tomorrow we open the largest exhibition of the newest and prettiest in summer white fabrics. Many of these cannot be seen elsewhere in Atlanta, and visitors will find that we have happily combined

Variety, Style and Value

---An unusual list of good things follows:

Embroidered Swiss Voiles

---Embroidered on white grounds, with blue, pink, helio, green and black--40 and 45 inches wide, best qualities, yd. $1.25

35c Novelty Cottons 25c

---In such pretty weaves as Rice Voiles, Splash Voiles, Lace Voiles, Plain Voiles, Japanese Crepes, White Ratines, in a special opening sale tomorrow. These are 36 to 40 inches wide.

$1.25 Colored Dress Linens 85c

---45 Inch pure Flax, rough weaves, in blue, green, rose, white and black.

59c Embroidered English Voiles 59c

---White grounds, with colored embroidered designs, in pink, light blue, navy, helio, red and black.

Cotton Gabardines

---42 inches wide, in soft firm weaves, beautifully finished, including sand, putty and white, at yard $1.00

Palm Beach Suitings

---A new weave of this season: shown in the natural Palm Beach color, Monday, yd. 25c

Novelty Ratines

---Plaid effects in pure white; extremely popular for the new separate skirts and 1-piece dresses, yd. $1.00

Corded Piques

---Piques are again in favor; for separate skirts and the jaunty tennis suits, yard 35c

White Ramie Linens--A Special 59c

Very desirable for Skirts and Dresses---45 inches wide, yard 59c

Emb'd Georgette Crepes

at $2.50 Yd.

Emb'd French Voiles

at $2.25 Yd.

---A Silk and Cotton mixture in plaids and stripes, embroidered in dainty blues, pinks and helios.

---In all the new and prettiest designs; white grounds embroidered in all good colors---very exclusive.

Colored Ramie Linens 50c Yd.

---A pure Linen fabric, in all the new spring colors---45 inches wide.

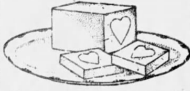

---This will prove to be a grand display---all exclusive and exquisite foreign and domestic Dress Patterns which can be found only at

Keely Company

Nummally's
Ice Cream
For Wedding Receptions

Quart Bricks with slipper, heart, bell or any one letter of the alphabet in center, any colors.

Heart-shaped Lace Paper Mats on which to serve Ice Cream for weddings. We also have the round samples free on application.

For Wedding Anniversaries or Children's Birthday Parties

Quart Bricks of Ice Cream with any figures desired in center, any colors. Our Ice Creams are well liked and expressed to other towns and cities. Write for price list 10.

Our high-grade ICE CREAMS are served at many of the high-class soda fountains of the South. Your patronage through soda fountains in your city dispensing our ice creams will be appreciated.

Nummally's
Ice Cream Department,
Atlanta, Ga.

Beauty and Distinction

Every woman should demand in an electric combination of good taste, elegance and individuality, which creates in a pleasure car an atmosphere of distinction just as it does in a personality.

The Ohio Electric has always been noted for this distinction. When you see one on the boulevards, or where society congregates, you are not reminded of any other car. You merely sense the beauty and richness and aristocracy of the Ohio as distinguished from others.

Harmony, grace, distinction, smartness radiate from every curve of the car; and the interior appointments are fully up to the standard of the exquisite exterior. Twice as many Ohio Electrics have been sold in Atlanta within the last two years as all other electrics combined.

K. T. McKinstry

469 Peachtree St.,

Ivy 4177

BRIDESMAID AT WEDDING

MISS JOSEPHINE MOBLEY

Photograph by Lacey.

She was one of the attractive group of girls who were bridesmaids at the Champion-Stewart wedding which was a beautiful event of the past week.

New Era Study Club

The New Era Study club held its regular meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. B. Binsar.

For roll call each member told her favorite magazine and a discussion of each followed.

The club's "Home Beautiful" magazine was presented, bright editorials being given by the editor, Mrs. S. C. Orr.

Articles of mutual interest were read by Mrs. J. M. Hewitt, Mrs. Phil Kennedy, Mrs. Pritchett and Mrs. Allen Young.

Mrs. Albert Braswell read an original story by Miss Miriam Orr and by request it was added to the pages of the magazine.

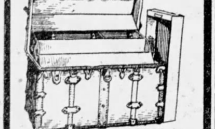

Mrs. W. L. Blankenship gave a review of "A Kentucky Cardinal" by James Lane Allen and a description of the Cherokee rose was given, and the club indulged the rose for the state flower.

Guests at Evening Party

Mrs. B. S. Baker and Miss Evelyn Winburn, entertained at the home of the latter at Oakhurst, Friday evening, in compliment to Miss Carrie Clemmons, of Columbus.

Those present were Miss Louise Donelson, Miss Mary Clarke, Miss Ruth Harrison, Miss Mary Harper, Miss Louise Thresh, Miss Doris Winburn, Miss Jane Aldred, Mr. Harry Reynolds, Mr. Frank Jones, Mr. Bruce Fuller, Mr. Ralph McKenzie, Mr. Leon Collier, Mr. Homer Turner, Mr. Harvey May, Mr. Roy Holmes and Mr. B. S. Baker.

Do You Want a Good Trunk?

There are two kinds of trunks: Summer trunks and some are imitations. Ours are prepared for the FALL. They won't break. Try our Fiber Trunks.

$7 to $72.50
ROUNTREE'S

From Factory to YOU.
W. Z. TURNER, Manager.
77 Whitehall St.

LAWRENCEVILLE

LAWRENCEVILLE. — Mrs. Thomas W. Webb gave an egg hunt Tuesday afternoon, complimentary to her little nieces, Alice and Edna McKelvey, of Abbeville, S. C., who are the guests of their grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Ambrose have returned to their home in Atlanta, after a visit to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Ambrose, the guests of relatives here.

Mrs. J. A. Coffey has returned from Atlanta, Miss Annie E. Roddy, Miss Aurelia Roach and Mr. Ernest Roach, of Atlanta, came over in their car Sunday and spent the day with Mrs. Archelus W. Mann.

Miss Fannie Mae Harper has returned to her home in America, after being delightfully entertained as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. James A. Perry.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Green and children, were the week end guest of relatives in Buford.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Felder Vose, of Atlanta, were the recent guests of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. George Vose.

Miss Elizabeth Bounds entertained her Sunday school class very delightfully on Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lillie Camp.

Mr. Peoples Houston of Atlanta, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Charles M. Morcock.

Mrs. Manning Chesham Austin and young son have returned to Athens, after a visit to Mrs. Austin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. George Vose.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Black spent Sunday with relatives.

Mrs. H. E. Butler and little son, Thad, of America, visited relatives here Saturday.

DYEING

Household Economy
To conserve what one has through care is as important as careful consideration in original purchases.

Thrifty women know that dirt is a big factor in the "wear out" of all fabrics. They know, too, that their lace, suits, dresses, wraps, draperies, rugs and carpets will all last longer if they send them to our

French Dry Cleaning Company
JOSEPH MAY & SONS
Bell Phone 777
Atlanta Phone 4266

Instant Hair Stain
Better Than Slow
"Restorers"

Nothing Will Ever "Restore" Color to Hair. It Must Be Stained If the Color Is to Be Changed—Don't Be Deceived By Slow Acting Dyes Under the Guise of "Health-Restorers" and Such Misleading Names.

When you would have you believe that hair may have disappeared some color in a combination of colors, the color of the hair is not restored, but it is stained. It is a fact that hair without staining it. No such preparation has ever been discovered. Also preparations are advertised in this country that they all depend upon sulphur, lead, silver or other dangerous minerals for gradually coloring the hair.

There is only one preparation as far as we know that is entirely free from all of these highly dangerous and poisonous drugs. This preparation is called "Brownation." It is so easy and safe to apply that the woman is that any one ever uses anything else.

"Brownation." Instantly tints the hair of any shade of brown or black that may be desired. If the gray comes on your temples or is streaking your hair—if the ends of your hair are lighter than the balance or if for any reason you wish to stain all or part of your hair—try "Brownation."

Test it out. Use it for beard or mustache. All this without the possibility of dandruff, itching or harm to either hair or scalp.

No previous experience whatever is necessary when you use "Brownation." Just brush or comb it into the hair.

A sample and booklet will be sent you from manufacturers only upon receipt of five all of the leading drug stores sell "Brownation." You also may order direct from the manufacturer for golden and medium brown and for dark brown or black.

Look for "Brownation" at your hairdresser's. Prepared by The Kenton Pharmacy Co., 427 Pine St., Copley, Mass.

Mail and guaranteed in Atlanta by Jacob Pharmacy and other leading dealers. (Advt.)

DRY CLEANING

Remember Our PARTIAL PAYMENT PLAN Will Prove Helpful to YOU!

PERSONAL MENTION

—Miss Clyde O'Neal, of Columbus, returned home Tuesday after a visit to Miss Elizabeth Dunson and Miss Dunson will visit Miss O'Neal the first of May.

—Dr. and Mrs. John R. Atkinson will leave Sunday evening following the services at the Forsyth for New York, where they will spend two weeks.

—Mrs. Joseph Auerbach and daughter, Misses Henrietta and Estelle Auerbach, have returned from New York, and are stopping at the Hotel New York.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Hurst Leland announce the birth of a son Friday, April 9, who has been named William Robert Leland.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hall announce the birth of a son at their home on Browline road, who has been named W. T. Hall, Jr.

—Miss Mary Kate Davidson left Saturday to visit Mrs. Arthur Anderson at Hoganville, Va. Mrs. Emma Lanier at West Point.

—Miss Lulu Wilson Matthews, of Columbus, spent Saturday as the guest of her uncle, Mr. Frank Keen, at the Kimball house.

—Mrs. Joseph Madison High has returned from Charleston, S. C., where she has been spending the past few days.

—Mr. Ned Hill, of New Orleans, is the guest of his mother, Mrs. Virginia Hill, for several days at her home at East Lake.

—Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Moore announce the birth of a daughter on Saturday at their residence on Peachtree street.

—Miss Louise Broyles left Thursday for Sea Breeze, Fla. for a stay of ten days with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Hinman.

—Mrs. William Calvin Chilton, of Oxford, Miss., will arrive Saturday to spend awhile with relatives in the city.

—Mr. and Mrs. Howard T. Lewis are at home to their friends at 305 Ponce de Leon avenue.

—Mrs. W. C. Cousins is visiting her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Farley, in Opelika, Ala.

—Mr. and Mrs. Westervelt Terhune left Saturday to visit relatives in Baltimore.

—Mr. J. S. Lyons, Jr., is the guest for the week end of his parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Lyons, at the Imperial hotel.

—Dr. and Mrs. Homer Davis announce the birth of a daughter on April 3 at their home on North Moreland avenue.

—Dr. Clyde A. Stevenson has returned to Camilla, after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Stevenson.

—Mr. John S. Cohen left Saturday for Richmond, Va., called by the illness of his sister, Mrs. Barton H. Wise.

—Mr. Charles W. Outlaw left yesterday for Baltimore after spending some time with friends in Atlanta.

—Mr. and Mrs. George F. Collins have returned home after spending the winter on the east coast of Florida.

—Mrs. Lulu Smith will entertain her sewing club Thursday afternoon at her home on the Jonkers road.

—Mrs. Eugene Bullard is slowly convalescing, after a serious operation at the Piedmont sanitarium.

—Mrs. James R. Hardaway, of Opelika, Ala., will arrive Monday to be the guest of Miss May Hand.

—Mr. Henry C. Gheesling of Birmingham, Ala., spent the week end in the city.

—Mr. Herbert Moore, of Charlotte, N. C., is spending several days in the city.

—Miss Fannie Lou Camp, of Dalton, is the guest of Miss Lulu Jackson.

—Mrs. E. A. Whitehead is ill at St. Joseph's infirmary.

—The Leola Fancy work club will give a silver tea, April 28, at the residence of Mrs. Brooks on Lakewood avenue.

Silver Tea

—Mrs. Anna R. Page is visiting relatives.

Picture Framing

Spring time is cleaning time. Most folks have some pictures to be framed or gone over and fixed up. Phone us Main 1822 and we will do the rest.

New moldings, and 1915 patterns in frames. Work the best. Prices right. Pictures sent for and delivered promptly.

A trial order is all we ask.
GAVAN'S
71 Whitehall St. Southern Book Concern

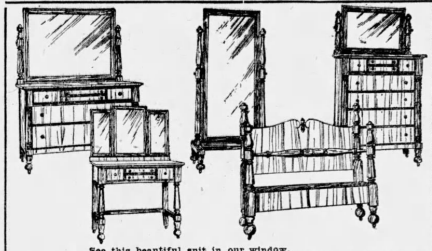

NEW STOCKS FOR THE NEW SEASON

Better Furniture at Less Price

The latest and most stylish designs are here—everything for the Dining Room, Living Room, Reception Room, Den, Hall, Porch and Kitchen. Our store is the newest and largest in Atlanta. You will marvel at its completeness. On our eight floors will be found everything to fulfill the highest expectations of all lovers of the "Home Beautiful." Each piece of furniture we offer can be depended upon for Satisfactory Service. Come, look, compare and be convinced.

SEE OUR "PERIOD" STYLES—PARTICULARLY OUR JACOBAN SUITS

In our Bedroom Suites we are showing some extraordinary offerings. We invite comparison of these with any to be found elsewhere. You will be surprised at their style, strength and beauty, and gratified with the extremely moderate prices. Come and see them.

See this beautiful suit in our window.

We can and will easily save you 25% on all purchases. And these will be genuine savings, too—not the "Marked-up-to-mark-down" kind. We know good furniture and just how to buy it at rock-bottom prices. This is a decided advantage, and our customers profit.

Better Furniture, Same Money—Same Furniture, Less Money

The character of our store, our complete and new stocks, our eagerness to serve you, our willingness to extend you every reasonable accommodation—these all combine to make our store an ideal place to trade.

DINING ROOM SUITS (EXACTLY LIKE CUT)

Just now—at the season's opening—we are able to make special offerings in this line. The prices will be found much lower than obtainable elsewhere. These suits can be had in Fumed Oak, Golden Oak or Early English finishes.

Note Carefully These Dimensions:

CHINA CLOSET Top, 40 inches wide. Height, 56 inches.
TABLE Top, 40 inches. 8-foot extension.
BUFFET Top, 36 inches. French Beveled Mirror, 8x22.

The "North Star" Refrigerator

WE ARE EXCLUSIVE AGENTS

We have just received two cars of these remarkable refrigerators. Side-icing and apartment house styles. Capacity 40 to 250 pounds of ice. Made of seasoned ash lumber, light golden oak finish. Packed with one and one-eighth inches of GROUND CORK. Has nickel-plated, woven-wire shelves. Solid silver finish brass locks and hinges. Provision chambers have neatly rounded corners. Sides are enamel. The "North Star" is modern, convenient and economical. Cheapest because best.

See Our "Special" Refrigerator

Price Only $6.98

Capacity, 40 pounds of ice. This was made especially for the preservation of food. Food does not become tainted in this box. It requires less ice than any other. Even if you have a refrigerator you should call and examine this "Special." If you decide to purchase one we will assist you to dispose of your old one at a good price.

You will find our PARTIAL PAYMENT PLAN just to your liking. And our prices 25% lower than elsewhere. We invite comparison.

BIG "CEDAR MOP" SALE

For Monday Only 49c

This is a Regular $1 Mop. One Can of Cedar Oil FREE

This mop is made of best quality white twine; has a 54-inch handle—highly polished and adjustable to any angle.

Cedar Oil Polishes, Cleanses and Disinfects
Remember-- 49c Monday Only

Empire "BRIDE" Special

BED ROOM SUIT

Three pieces—Bed, Dresser and Dressing Table. Bed is brass, has 2-inch posts and guaranteed not to tarnish. Really, a big value.

Value $70.00—Price $47.50.

We Pay Freight on all Purchases of $50.00 and Over

EMPIRE FURNITURE COMPANY

129-131 Whitehall Street
Between Mitchell St. and Trinity Ave.

News of Women and Society

Butterfly Bridge Luncheon

Mrs. Lefley Webb entertained the members of her bridge club and a few invited guests at a butterfly luncheon Friday afternoon.

A cut glass basket of bright yellow daisies formed the centerpiece and from the chandelier was suspended a shower of brightly tinted butterflies. The place cards were hand painted in butterfly design and the prices of the afternoon were a dinner plate and piece of statuary, won by Mrs. Lefley Webb and Mrs. Robert Beckham.

The members and guests present included Mrs. P. S. Carlock, Mrs. Linton Elliott, Mrs. J. S. Boardman, Mrs. Walter Hart, Mrs. F. J. Jeter, Mrs. M. G. Seaman, Mrs. D. J. Nichols, Mrs. Robert Beckham, Mrs. Arthur Dyer, Mrs. Stinson King, Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Harry Herman.

Sunshine Club

The Sunshine Fawcett club met at the home of Mrs. Carl Armstrong Wednesday afternoon.

After the business meeting readings were given by Mrs. Armstrong and Mrs. Stringfellow.

Those present were Mrs. W. B. Stringfellow, Mrs. W. J. Beady, Mrs. Emmet Plunkett, Mrs. S. R. Sims, Mrs. Carl Armstrong, Mrs. W. B. Stringfellow, Mrs. L. Waters, Mrs. C. C. Jordan, Mrs. Guy Herby, Mrs. C. H. McGowan and Mrs. Baughnigh.

Among the junior members present were Miss Lucile Milan, Miss Aurelia Plunkett, Miss Kathleen Beard, Miss Allene Baughnigh, Miss Elsie Sims and Miss Ruth Beard.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Carl Sims on Richmond avenue.

Reading at Cox College

The Cox College School of Expression, under the direction of Mrs. Curtis Annall-North, presents Miss Wynne Lane, president of the school, in a graduate recital of dramatic impersonation of "Nance Oldfield," a comedy in two parts, arranged for Charles Reader's story, "Art: A Dramatic Comedy," at 8:30 o'clock Monday evening in the college auditorium.

Miss Lane Oldfield—a famous London actress.

—Happily—her cox from the country, and maid.

Nathan Oldworthy—An attorney-at-law from country.

Alexander Oldworthy—His son, a poet, infatuated with Mrs. Oldfield.

Robert—Footman at Mrs. Oldfield's. Period—London in 1784.

Auxiliary Entertained

The Women's auxiliary to the R. M. A. was entertained by Mrs. C. L. Culver on Thursday at her home on Pine street.

After the business meeting Mrs. L. C. Dean gave an interesting reading.

In entertaining Mrs. Culver was assisted by her daughter, Miss Cornelia Culver, and Miss Ruby Culver.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. George Suratt.

The members present were Mrs. W. A. Moreland, Mrs. G. W. Travis, Mrs. E. J. Edline, Mrs. J. W. Baker, Mrs. J. B. Hemphrey, Mrs. F. W. Rooney, Mrs. E. P. Crenshaw, Mrs. E. R. Clark, Mrs. John Logan, Mrs. E. V. Moore, Mrs. J. H. Avery, Mrs. C. L. Dean, Mrs. J. W. Whitte and Mrs. William Ellington.

Rook Party

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Loftis entertained at a rook party Friday evening, at their home in East Atlanta.

Quantities of peach blossoms and daisies adorned the room, and at the close of an interesting game prizes were awarded to Miss Gertrude Owens and Miss Gates.

Miss Elizabeth Mulkey and Mrs. Bates assisted in entertaining and others present were Miss Pauline Crawford, Miss Blanch Organ, Miss Ruth Broad, Miss Nellie Owens, Miss M. J. Owens, Miss Catherine Weber, Miss Mary Dolis, Miss Annie Edling, Miss Edwin Broadwell, Mr. Joe Peacock, Mr. Carl Owens, Mr. Charles Middlebrook, Mr. Byron Minor and Mr. Harold Minor.

On Thursday afternoon the Forget-Me-Not club met with Mrs. R. Roberts at her home on Oakwood mill road with thirteen members present.

During the afternoon delightful refreshments were served. The guest of honor was the prize in a hemming contest and Mrs. T. W. Ward took consolation prize. Mrs. P. O. Smith, Mrs. W. S. Gaston and Mrs. H. Holcomb were guests of the club at this meeting, and the club will meet with Mrs. S. D. Skinner on Lakewood terrace on next Thursday afternoon.

Heart Dice Party

Miss Nora King entertained at a heart dice party Wednesday evening, at her home on Whitehall terrace.

The hostess was assisted in entertaining by her sister, Miss Browning King.

Miss Edna Thaxton won the first prize, and Miss Clyde Webb the hobby.

Among those present were Miss Ellen Homer, Miss Kate Thaxton, Miss Alma McComb, Miss Clyde Webb, Miss Jewell Thaxton, Miss Irene Homer, Miss Alida King, Miss Edna Thaxton, Miss Browning King, Miss Louise Fuller, Mrs. Nora King, Mr. Robert Stevens, Mr. Albert Homer, Mr. Albert Bradshaw, Mr. Beale King, Mr. Albert Peterson, Mr. Charles Brooks and Mr. Louis King.

B. Y. P. U. Notes

The executive committee of the city B. Y. P. U. held its regular monthly meeting Friday evening at the state association offices. The special topic of discussion was "Efficiency in the Local Union."

The Sunday evening service at the West End Baptist church will be in charge of the B. Y. P. U. The pastor, Dr. Purser, is holding a meeting at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Jean Paden, president of the City Junior B. Y. P. U., will teach the B. Y. P. U. manual at East Side tabernacle next week.

The city union extension committee will meet at 209 Walton building next Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

Round Dozen Club

Miss Mary Heins entertained the members of the Round Dozen club Saturday afternoon at her home on Piedmont avenue.

Among those present were Miss Claudia Hudson, Miss Bertha Hudson, Miss Grace Bell, Miss Ruth Cabio, Miss Mary Clifton, Miss Elizabeth Walker, Miss Annie Lee, Miss Maudie Martin, Mrs. A. L. Ray, Mrs. H. Smith, Mrs. P. H. Raymond, Mrs. O'Kelly, Mrs. E. C. Jettie, Mrs. M. T. Laflamme, Mrs. J. Lucas Baird, Mrs. Bertha Heins, Mrs. H. A. Ralston, Miss Maudie Bell, Miss Maudie Baird and Miss Rosa Heins.

State President U. D. C.

The announcement in The Journal Thursday, of the indorsement of Mrs. Walter D. Lamar, of Macon, as candidate for the office of president general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was of interest through the south. The convention will be held in October at San Francisco.

One of the most enjoyable business meetings in the history of the classes was held by the Philanthropic and Harlan classes of the Woodward Avenue Baptist Sunday school in the Sunday school room last Tuesday evening. A few of the officers had secretly planned a flapper's cooking at the school, and the young men were asked to leave their Easter suits at home, this announcement arousing curiosity and consequently resulting in a large attendance.

After the business meeting was adjourned the young people were sent to the kitchen, different parties taking their turn in cooking, serving and eating. Much merriment was occasioned by the scurrying of the numerous cooks to supply the incessant demand for flap-jacks and coffee.

Reception at Home

Circle No. 1, of which Mrs. R. H. Dobbs is chairman, was hostess Saturday at the Atlanta Child's home. Assisting the chairman in the entertaining during the afternoon was Mrs. Cecil Stoddard, Mrs. Fred Stewart, Mr. Alford, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Myers, Mrs. Carson, Mrs. Christensen, Mrs. Hubert, Mrs. Williams, Dobbs and Miss Mary Stundsholm.

Benefit Silver Tea

The St. Elizabeth club of St. Luke's church gave a silver tea at the home of Mrs. L. C. Moeckel, 45 Luken church, on Wednesday afternoon, April 16, from 4 to 6 o'clock. The candy will be on sale.

The friends of the guild are urged to attend.

UNUSUAL MILLINERY FASHIONS ARE HERE FOR SMART WOMEN

This Shop fully recognizes the necessity of MILLINERY of a type that shows distinctiveness.

Exclusive agents for Vogue and Lichtenstein whose Models always show elegance and smartness.

Trimmed Hats at all prices.

C. & C. ROSENBAUM

Successors to KUTZ

38 WHITEHALL ST.

An Amaranth Order

Another beautiful order has just been added to the number of fraternal organizations on the list. Dixie Court of the Order of the Amaranth, a fraternal order for women as well as men, has a charter membership of thirty-one representative Masons, and members of the Eastern star. The court was formally organized during the past week, by Mrs. Anna M. Sherman, supreme royal master of the Order of the Amaranth. This being the first court of the order south of Mason and Dixon's line, the name Dixie was given to it as a commemoration of that fact. The following officers were installed:

Mrs. Eva E. Cummings, royal master; Hon. W. A. Boone, royal patron; Miss Sarah J. Hester, Hon. A. Hester; Miss Mittie A. McClure, secretary; Miss Rosa F. Wing, treasurer; Mrs. Guy Thurman, conductress; Mrs. Nettie M. Morris, A. Hester; Mrs. Elizabeth H. Hanna, historian; Mrs. Alma G. Moore, marshal in east; Mrs. Wm. A. Jackson, marshal in west; Mr. Paul Burkert, organist; Miss Hattie May Jackson, truth; Mrs. Wm. L. Beebe, faith; Miss Mattie Grogan, wisdom; Mrs. F. A. Line, charity; Miss Margaret L. Bowman, warder; Mr. Wm. L. Beebe, sentinel.

Mrs. Shipman, who is a woman of fine presence and a charming personality, was the guest of Dixie court, and was beautifully entertained while here by members of the order. Auto ride informal tea, filled with a trip through the delicious banquet was served in the rose garden of the Wincoff hotel on Monday evening. The decorations and music added to the charming scene, and addresses contributed to the enjoyment of the occasion. It was a matter of mutual regret that Mrs. Shipman was compelled by other official duties to return on Saturday to her home in East Orange, N. J.

Cox College Notes

Miss Ida Holloway, Miss Miriam Madden, Miss Sara who is a woman of fine presence and a charming personality, was the guest of Dixie court, and was beautifully entertained while here by members of the order. Auto ride informal tea, filled with a trip through the delicious banquet was served in the rose garden of the Wincoff hotel on Monday evening. The decorations and music added to the charming scene, and addresses contributed to the enjoyment of the occasion. It was a matter of mutual regret that Mrs. Shipman was compelled by other official duties to return on Saturday to her home in East Orange, N. J.

Monday at Woman's Club

The Atlanta Woman's club will have a very interesting meeting on Monday afternoon. In addition to the program of kindergarten day, already announced, Miss Annie D. Brown, of Boston, will address the members. Miss Brown is spending some time in the south investigating sociological conditions. Miss Carolyn Cobb will give a report on pageantry. Mrs. V. H. Hester, president of the play-grounds and recreation; Mrs. J. E. Sommerfield on the Mary Ann lecture. Mrs. Beumont Davidson will outline the work of the new committee on vocational training and guidance.

Georgia Woman Slated for Vice President General D. A. R.

A large delegation from Georgia will attend the D. A. R. congress in Washington on April 19.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, of Atlanta, is a candidate for vice president general from Georgia and was unanimously nominated at the state conference held in February. Mrs. Foster is one of the most popular women in the D. A. R., numbering among her friends the most prominent women in Georgia who are very anxious to see her win out in the coming race. Mrs. Foster has received numerous letters from vice president general and state regents all over the United States endorsing her nomination and pledging their hearty support in the coming election.

Policies will play a very important part in the coming election as there are two very popular women running for president general this year, and the race promises to be very warm. Mrs. William Cunningham, of New York, the present president general, and Mrs. George T. Guernsey, of Kansas, both of whom have visited Atlanta, Mrs. Georgia Foster, of Georgia, Mrs. C. T. Parker, state regent of Georgia, Mrs. William Lee Ellis, Macon, Mrs. Malory Taylor, Macon, Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, Savannah, Mrs. Anna C. Morgan, Columbus, Mrs. Richard Spencer, Columbus, Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, Columbus, Mrs. Blanch Chapman, Quitman, Mrs. A. L. Wilkins, Eastman, Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, Rome, Mrs. W. C. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. W. J. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. Walter Thomas, Macon.

Georgia Woman Slated for Vice President General D. A. R.

A large delegation from Georgia will attend the D. A. R. congress in Washington on April 19.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, of Atlanta, is a candidate for vice president general from Georgia and was unanimously nominated at the state conference held in February. Mrs. Foster is one of the most popular women in the D. A. R., numbering among her friends the most prominent women in Georgia who are very anxious to see her win out in the coming race. Mrs. Foster has received numerous letters from vice president general and state regents all over the United States endorsing her nomination and pledging their hearty support in the coming election.

Policies will play a very important part in the coming election as there are two very popular women running for president general this year, and the race promises to be very warm. Mrs. William Cunningham, of New York, the present president general, and Mrs. George T. Guernsey, of Kansas, both of whom have visited Atlanta, Mrs. Georgia Foster, of Georgia, Mrs. C. T. Parker, state regent of Georgia, Mrs. William Lee Ellis, Macon, Mrs. Malory Taylor, Macon, Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, Savannah, Mrs. Anna C. Morgan, Columbus, Mrs. Richard Spencer, Columbus, Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, Columbus, Mrs. Blanch Chapman, Quitman, Mrs. A. L. Wilkins, Eastman, Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, Rome, Mrs. W. C. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. W. J. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. Walter Thomas, Macon.

Georgia Woman Slated for Vice President General D. A. R.

A large delegation from Georgia will attend the D. A. R. congress in Washington on April 19.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, of Atlanta, is a candidate for vice president general from Georgia and was unanimously nominated at the state conference held in February. Mrs. Foster is one of the most popular women in the D. A. R., numbering among her friends the most prominent women in Georgia who are very anxious to see her win out in the coming race. Mrs. Foster has received numerous letters from vice president general and state regents all over the United States endorsing her nomination and pledging their hearty support in the coming election.

Policies will play a very important part in the coming election as there are two very popular women running for president general this year, and the race promises to be very warm. Mrs. William Cunningham, of New York, the present president general, and Mrs. George T. Guernsey, of Kansas, both of whom have visited Atlanta, Mrs. Georgia Foster, of Georgia, Mrs. C. T. Parker, state regent of Georgia, Mrs. William Lee Ellis, Macon, Mrs. Malory Taylor, Macon, Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, Savannah, Mrs. Anna C. Morgan, Columbus, Mrs. Richard Spencer, Columbus, Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, Columbus, Mrs. Blanch Chapman, Quitman, Mrs. A. L. Wilkins, Eastman, Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, Rome, Mrs. W. C. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. W. J. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. Walter Thomas, Macon.

Georgia Woman Slated for Vice President General D. A. R.

A large delegation from Georgia will attend the D. A. R. congress in Washington on April 19.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, of Atlanta, is a candidate for vice president general from Georgia and was unanimously nominated at the state conference held in February. Mrs. Foster is one of the most popular women in the D. A. R., numbering among her friends the most prominent women in Georgia who are very anxious to see her win out in the coming race. Mrs. Foster has received numerous letters from vice president general and state regents all over the United States endorsing her nomination and pledging their hearty support in the coming election.

Policies will play a very important part in the coming election as there are two very popular women running for president general this year, and the race promises to be very warm. Mrs. William Cunningham, of New York, the present president general, and Mrs. George T. Guernsey, of Kansas, both of whom have visited Atlanta, Mrs. Georgia Foster, of Georgia, Mrs. C. T. Parker, state regent of Georgia, Mrs. William Lee Ellis, Macon, Mrs. Malory Taylor, Macon, Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, Savannah, Mrs. Anna C. Morgan, Columbus, Mrs. Richard Spencer, Columbus, Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, Columbus, Mrs. Blanch Chapman, Quitman, Mrs. A. L. Wilkins, Eastman, Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, Rome, Mrs. W. C. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. W. J. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. Walter Thomas, Macon.

Georgia Woman Slated for Vice President General D. A. R.

A large delegation from Georgia will attend the D. A. R. congress in Washington on April 19.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, of Atlanta, is a candidate for vice president general from Georgia and was unanimously nominated at the state conference held in February. Mrs. Foster is one of the most popular women in the D. A. R., numbering among her friends the most prominent women in Georgia who are very anxious to see her win out in the coming race. Mrs. Foster has received numerous letters from vice president general and state regents all over the United States endorsing her nomination and pledging their hearty support in the coming election.

Policies will play a very important part in the coming election as there are two very popular women running for president general this year, and the race promises to be very warm. Mrs. William Cunningham, of New York, the present president general, and Mrs. George T. Guernsey, of Kansas, both of whom have visited Atlanta, Mrs. Georgia Foster, of Georgia, Mrs. C. T. Parker, state regent of Georgia, Mrs. William Lee Ellis, Macon, Mrs. Malory Taylor, Macon, Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, Savannah, Mrs. Anna C. Morgan, Columbus, Mrs. Richard Spencer, Columbus, Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, Columbus, Mrs. Blanch Chapman, Quitman, Mrs. A. L. Wilkins, Eastman, Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, Rome, Mrs. W. C. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. W. J. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. Walter Thomas, Macon.

Georgia Woman Slated for Vice President General D. A. R.

A large delegation from Georgia will attend the D. A. R. congress in Washington on April 19.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, of Atlanta, is a candidate for vice president general from Georgia and was unanimously nominated at the state conference held in February. Mrs. Foster is one of the most popular women in the D. A. R., numbering among her friends the most prominent women in Georgia who are very anxious to see her win out in the coming race. Mrs. Foster has received numerous letters from vice president general and state regents all over the United States endorsing her nomination and pledging their hearty support in the coming election.

Policies will play a very important part in the coming election as there are two very popular women running for president general this year, and the race promises to be very warm. Mrs. William Cunningham, of New York, the present president general, and Mrs. George T. Guernsey, of Kansas, both of whom have visited Atlanta, Mrs. Georgia Foster, of Georgia, Mrs. C. T. Parker, state regent of Georgia, Mrs. William Lee Ellis, Macon, Mrs. Malory Taylor, Macon, Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, Savannah, Mrs. Anna C. Morgan, Columbus, Mrs. Richard Spencer, Columbus, Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, Columbus, Mrs. Blanch Chapman, Quitman, Mrs. A. L. Wilkins, Eastman, Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, Rome, Mrs. W. C. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. W. J. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. Walter Thomas, Macon.

Georgia Woman Slated for Vice President General D. A. R.

A large delegation from Georgia will attend the D. A. R. congress in Washington on April 19.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, of Atlanta, is a candidate for vice president general from Georgia and was unanimously nominated at the state conference held in February. Mrs. Foster is one of the most popular women in the D. A. R., numbering among her friends the most prominent women in Georgia who are very anxious to see her win out in the coming race. Mrs. Foster has received numerous letters from vice president general and state regents all over the United States endorsing her nomination and pledging their hearty support in the coming election.

Policies will play a very important part in the coming election as there are two very popular women running for president general this year, and the race promises to be very warm. Mrs. William Cunningham, of New York, the present president general, and Mrs. George T. Guernsey, of Kansas, both of whom have visited Atlanta, Mrs. Georgia Foster, of Georgia, Mrs. C. T. Parker, state regent of Georgia, Mrs. William Lee Ellis, Macon, Mrs. Malory Taylor, Macon, Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, Savannah, Mrs. Anna C. Morgan, Columbus, Mrs. Richard Spencer, Columbus, Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, Columbus, Mrs. Blanch Chapman, Quitman, Mrs. A. L. Wilkins, Eastman, Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, Rome, Mrs. W. C. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. W. J. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. Walter Thomas, Macon.

Georgia Woman Slated for Vice President General D. A. R.

A large delegation from Georgia will attend the D. A. R. congress in Washington on April 19.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, of Atlanta, is a candidate for vice president general from Georgia and was unanimously nominated at the state conference held in February. Mrs. Foster is one of the most popular women in the D. A. R., numbering among her friends the most prominent women in Georgia who are very anxious to see her win out in the coming race. Mrs. Foster has received numerous letters from vice president general and state regents all over the United States endorsing her nomination and pledging their hearty support in the coming election.

Policies will play a very important part in the coming election as there are two very popular women running for president general this year, and the race promises to be very warm. Mrs. William Cunningham, of New York, the present president general, and Mrs. George T. Guernsey, of Kansas, both of whom have visited Atlanta, Mrs. Georgia Foster, of Georgia, Mrs. C. T. Parker, state regent of Georgia, Mrs. William Lee Ellis, Macon, Mrs. Malory Taylor, Macon, Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, Savannah, Mrs. Anna C. Morgan, Columbus, Mrs. Richard Spencer, Columbus, Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, Columbus, Mrs. Blanch Chapman, Quitman, Mrs. A. L. Wilkins, Eastman, Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, Rome, Mrs. W. C. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. W. J. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. Walter Thomas, Macon.

Georgia Woman Slated for Vice President General D. A. R.

A large delegation from Georgia will attend the D. A. R. congress in Washington on April 19.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, of Atlanta, is a candidate for vice president general from Georgia and was unanimously nominated at the state conference held in February. Mrs. Foster is one of the most popular women in the D. A. R., numbering among her friends the most prominent women in Georgia who are very anxious to see her win out in the coming race. Mrs. Foster has received numerous letters from vice president general and state regents all over the United States endorsing her nomination and pledging their hearty support in the coming election.

Policies will play a very important part in the coming election as there are two very popular women running for president general this year, and the race promises to be very warm. Mrs. William Cunningham, of New York, the present president general, and Mrs. George T. Guernsey, of Kansas, both of whom have visited Atlanta, Mrs. Georgia Foster, of Georgia, Mrs. C. T. Parker, state regent of Georgia, Mrs. William Lee Ellis, Macon, Mrs. Malory Taylor, Macon, Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, Savannah, Mrs. Anna C. Morgan, Columbus, Mrs. Richard Spencer, Columbus, Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, Columbus, Mrs. Blanch Chapman, Quitman, Mrs. A. L. Wilkins, Eastman, Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, Rome, Mrs. W. C. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. W. J. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. Walter Thomas, Macon.

Georgia Woman Slated for Vice President General D. A. R.

A large delegation from Georgia will attend the D. A. R. congress in Washington on April 19.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, of Atlanta, is a candidate for vice president general from Georgia and was unanimously nominated at the state conference held in February. Mrs. Foster is one of the most popular women in the D. A. R., numbering among her friends the most prominent women in Georgia who are very anxious to see her win out in the coming race. Mrs. Foster has received numerous letters from vice president general and state regents all over the United States endorsing her nomination and pledging their hearty support in the coming election.

Policies will play a very important part in the coming election as there are two very popular women running for president general this year, and the race promises to be very warm. Mrs. William Cunningham, of New York, the present president general, and Mrs. George T. Guernsey, of Kansas, both of whom have visited Atlanta, Mrs. Georgia Foster, of Georgia, Mrs. C. T. Parker, state regent of Georgia, Mrs. William Lee Ellis, Macon, Mrs. Malory Taylor, Macon, Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, Savannah, Mrs. Anna C. Morgan, Columbus, Mrs. Richard Spencer, Columbus, Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, Columbus, Mrs. Blanch Chapman, Quitman, Mrs. A. L. Wilkins, Eastman, Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, Rome, Mrs. W. C. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. W. J. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. Walter Thomas, Macon.

Georgia Woman Slated for Vice President General D. A. R.

A large delegation from Georgia will attend the D. A. R. congress in Washington on April 19.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, of Atlanta, is a candidate for vice president general from Georgia and was unanimously nominated at the state conference held in February. Mrs. Foster is one of the most popular women in the D. A. R., numbering among her friends the most prominent women in Georgia who are very anxious to see her win out in the coming race. Mrs. Foster has received numerous letters from vice president general and state regents all over the United States endorsing her nomination and pledging their hearty support in the coming election.

Policies will play a very important part in the coming election as there are two very popular women running for president general this year, and the race promises to be very warm. Mrs. William Cunningham, of New York, the present president general, and Mrs. George T. Guernsey, of Kansas, both of whom have visited Atlanta, Mrs. Georgia Foster, of Georgia, Mrs. C. T. Parker, state regent of Georgia, Mrs. William Lee Ellis, Macon, Mrs. Malory Taylor, Macon, Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, Savannah, Mrs. Anna C. Morgan, Columbus, Mrs. Richard Spencer, Columbus, Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, Columbus, Mrs. Blanch Chapman, Quitman, Mrs. A. L. Wilkins, Eastman, Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, Rome, Mrs. W. C. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. W. J. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. Walter Thomas, Macon.

Georgia Woman Slated for Vice President General D. A. R.

A large delegation from Georgia will attend the D. A. R. congress in Washington on April 19.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, of Atlanta, is a candidate for vice president general from Georgia and was unanimously nominated at the state conference held in February. Mrs. Foster is one of the most popular women in the D. A. R., numbering among her friends the most prominent women in Georgia who are very anxious to see her win out in the coming race. Mrs. Foster has received numerous letters from vice president general and state regents all over the United States endorsing her nomination and pledging their hearty support in the coming election.

Policies will play a very important part in the coming election as there are two very popular women running for president general this year, and the race promises to be very warm. Mrs. William Cunningham, of New York, the present president general, and Mrs. George T. Guernsey, of Kansas, both of whom have visited Atlanta, Mrs. Georgia Foster, of Georgia, Mrs. C. T. Parker, state regent of Georgia, Mrs. William Lee Ellis, Macon, Mrs. Malory Taylor, Macon, Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, Savannah, Mrs. Anna C. Morgan, Columbus, Mrs. Richard Spencer, Columbus, Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, Columbus, Mrs. Blanch Chapman, Quitman, Mrs. A. L. Wilkins, Eastman, Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, Rome, Mrs. W. C. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. W. J. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. Walter Thomas, Macon.

Georgia Woman Slated for Vice President General D. A. R.

A large delegation from Georgia will attend the D. A. R. congress in Washington on April 19.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, of Atlanta, is a candidate for vice president general from Georgia and was unanimously nominated at the state conference held in February. Mrs. Foster is one of the most popular women in the D. A. R., numbering among her friends the most prominent women in Georgia who are very anxious to see her win out in the coming race. Mrs. Foster has received numerous letters from vice president general and state regents all over the United States endorsing her nomination and pledging their hearty support in the coming election.

Policies will play a very important part in the coming election as there are two very popular women running for president general this year, and the race promises to be very warm. Mrs. William Cunningham, of New York, the present president general, and Mrs. George T. Guernsey, of Kansas, both of whom have visited Atlanta, Mrs. Georgia Foster, of Georgia, Mrs. C. T. Parker, state regent of Georgia, Mrs. William Lee Ellis, Macon, Mrs. Malory Taylor, Macon, Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, Savannah, Mrs. Anna C. Morgan, Columbus, Mrs. Richard Spencer, Columbus, Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, Columbus, Mrs. Blanch Chapman, Quitman, Mrs. A. L. Wilkins, Eastman, Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, Rome, Mrs. W. C. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. W. J. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. Walter Thomas, Macon.

Georgia Woman Slated for Vice President General D. A. R.

A large delegation from Georgia will attend the D. A. R. congress in Washington on April 19.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, of Atlanta, is a candidate for vice president general from Georgia and was unanimously nominated at the state conference held in February. Mrs. Foster is one of the most popular women in the D. A. R., numbering among her friends the most prominent women in Georgia who are very anxious to see her win out in the coming race. Mrs. Foster has received numerous letters from vice president general and state regents all over the United States endorsing her nomination and pledging their hearty support in the coming election.

Policies will play a very important part in the coming election as there are two very popular women running for president general this year, and the race promises to be very warm. Mrs. William Cunningham, of New York, the present president general, and Mrs. George T. Guernsey, of Kansas, both of whom have visited Atlanta, Mrs. Georgia Foster, of Georgia, Mrs. C. T. Parker, state regent of Georgia, Mrs. William Lee Ellis, Macon, Mrs. Malory Taylor, Macon, Mrs. S. B. C. Morgan, Savannah, Mrs. Anna C. Morgan, Columbus, Mrs. Richard Spencer, Columbus, Mrs. R. H. Hardaway, Columbus, Mrs. Blanch Chapman, Quitman, Mrs. A. L. Wilkins, Eastman, Mrs. Hugh Reynolds, Rome, Mrs. W. C. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. W. J. Vereen, Moultrie, Mrs. Walter Thomas, Macon.

Georgia Woman Slated for Vice President General D. A. R.

A large delegation from Georgia will attend the D. A. R. congress in Washington on April 19.

Mrs. S. W. Foster, of Atlanta, is a candidate for vice president general from Georgia and was unanimously nominated at the state conference held in February. Mrs. Foster is one of the most popular women in the D. A. R., numbering among her friends the most prominent women in Georgia who are very anxious to see her win out in the coming race. Mrs. Foster has received numerous letters from vice president general and state regents all over the United States endorsing her nomination and

WEDDINGS

BELLES AND BEAUX OF THE FUTURE

Birthday Celebration

All-Day Rally

Henderson-Shingler
HAWKINSVILLE—A beautiful social event of the Easter season was the marriage of Miss Barbara Henderson, daughter of Hawkinsville, and Mr. James S. Shingler, Jr., of Ashburn, which took place Thursday evening at the First Presbyterian church, Rev. T. H. Thompson officiating.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. James C. Henderson, and Mr. Clinton Shingler, of Ashburn, the groom's brother, who was best man. Miss Josephine Henderson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Helen Henderson, of Ashburn, was bridesmaid. The bride wore a gown of white satin with trimmings of real lace and pearls. A court train hung from her shoulders and she carried a bouquet of white lilies.

Mr. and Mrs. Shingler left for New York and Canada to be at home on their return at Ashburn.

Parker-Kinsey
EVERLY—Miss Maggie Kinsey, of Harrison, and Mr. William Parker, of South Summerville, were married Sunday at the home of Judge J. P. Johnston, in Summerville, Judge Johnston officiating.

McGinnis-Stephenson
EVERLY—Mr. L. McGinnis and Miss Anna Belle Stephenson, of Menlo, were married by the Rev. H. L. Hendricks, of Summerville. The bride is the daughter of Mr. J. T. Stephenson, well known business man of Menlo, and is a popular throughout the county.

Todd-Gibbs
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Todd, of College Park, announce the engagement of their daughter, Anne B. Todd, to Mr. John M. Gibbs, of South Summerville, who will take place April 29 at the home of the bride's parents. No cards.

McDaniel-Garrett
LITHIA SPRINGS, Ga.—Dr. and Mrs. G. Garrett announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Lillian Garrett, and Mr. Edward Paul McDaniel, which occurred Saturday evening, April 10 at Lithia Springs, Ga. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. L. Hendricks.

Eagle Club Anniversary
The Eagle Club of Menlo, Ga., held a banquet in honor of its third anniversary at the Alliance hall on Tuesday evening. The banquet was a private affair and was attended by a large number of guests. The club is composed of young men and women and is one of the most popular organizations in Menlo.

China Shower to Bride Elect
Miss Freda Kate Jackson, whose marriage to Mr. Samuel Dodson Austin took place last Thursday evening, was the honor guest at a china shower last week given by her sister, Miss Lola Jackson, at their home on Sunset avenue.

Concert Date Chosen
The concert of the St. Philip's Cathedral held its first regular meeting on Wednesday evening, April 8, at 8:15 o'clock. The program was a series of five seasons in dancing, conducted by Prof. John Mahler. Tickets for these seasons will be issued at the door to those who desire them. Only those holding tickets are eligible for the seasons. For information communicate with the secretary, M. L. Christian, 177 1/2 St. Philip's.

Social Club of St. Philip's
The social club of St. Philip's Cathedral held its first regular meeting on Wednesday evening, April 8, at 8:15 o'clock. The program was a series of five seasons in dancing, conducted by Prof. John Mahler. Tickets for these seasons will be issued at the door to those who desire them. Only those holding tickets are eligible for the seasons. For information communicate with the secretary, M. L. Christian, 177 1/2 St. Philip's.

Evening Party
An interesting evening party was given by the St. Philip's Cathedral on Wednesday evening, April 8, at 8:15 o'clock. The program was a series of five seasons in dancing, conducted by Prof. John Mahler. Tickets for these seasons will be issued at the door to those who desire them. Only those holding tickets are eligible for the seasons. For information communicate with the secretary, M. L. Christian, 177 1/2 St. Philip's.

Stoddardize
Home and Clothing
For Opera Week!

Magnificent Hair Easy to Obtain Quickly—Some Astonishing Beauty Secrets

Miss Martha of Proctor Time Have Now Been Eliminated in the Acquisition of Beauty. As Yvonne Baratt, Atlanta's Famous Beauty Beauty Actress.

BY MISS VALENTA STRATTON.
It has been said that a difference of two or three years in the quality of a woman's hair is the difference between a woman who is a beauty and a woman who is not. The difference is not in the color of the hair, but in the texture. The hair of a beauty is soft, smooth, and shiny. The hair of a woman who is not is dry, brittle, and dull.

MISS T. S. O.—Only one cream is necessary to beautify the skin and bring it into condition of irreproachable perfection in a short time. A few days use will prove the result. This cream is made of the finest ingredients and is of a delicate, refreshing, and soothing nature. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin.

MISS T. S. O.—This is a whole-some remedy which has already become famous because of its quick action in removing the skin of the face and neck. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin.

MISS T. S. O.—This is a whole-some remedy which has already become famous because of its quick action in removing the skin of the face and neck. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin.

MISS T. S. O.—This is a whole-some remedy which has already become famous because of its quick action in removing the skin of the face and neck. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin.

MISS T. S. O.—This is a whole-some remedy which has already become famous because of its quick action in removing the skin of the face and neck. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin.

MISS T. S. O.—This is a whole-some remedy which has already become famous because of its quick action in removing the skin of the face and neck. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin.

MISS T. S. O.—This is a whole-some remedy which has already become famous because of its quick action in removing the skin of the face and neck. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin.

MISS T. S. O.—This is a whole-some remedy which has already become famous because of its quick action in removing the skin of the face and neck. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin.

performed by Rev. H. M. Quillian, of Atlanta, and was witnessed by the two families. Both the bride and groom came of well-to-do Georgia families. The bride being the granddaughter of the late Rev. J. B. C. Quillian and the daughter of the late Dr. C. C. Garrett.

After a trip to Cuba they will make their home at Conyers, Ga., where the groom is a rising young business man.

Marriage Announced
Miss Beatrice Gillette, of 17 Ponds avenue was quietly married to Mr. Edward M. Henry on last Monday morning, April 23.

Dan Sa Ta's Club Dance
The Dan Sa Ta club, an organization formed several weeks ago by a number of young people, gave a most delightful dance Friday evening at its hall on Peachtree street. Another dance will be given by the club on Friday evening, April 23.

Those present last Friday evening were Miss Laura Bell Burdine, Miss Annimated, Miss Agnes, Miss Davis, Mr. Everett Brinkman, Mr. Warren Davis, Mr. Laurence Sam, Mr. Willie, Mr. John, Mr. Edmonson, Mr. Bruce Cobb, Mr. Wallace Smith, Mr. Stephen Jennings, Mr. Walter Baldwin, Mr. Horace Melton.

The dancers were Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Beckham.

Eagle Club Anniversary
The Eagle Club of Menlo, Ga., held a banquet in honor of its third anniversary at the Alliance hall on Tuesday evening. The banquet was a private affair and was attended by a large number of guests. The club is composed of young men and women and is one of the most popular organizations in Menlo.

China Shower to Bride Elect
Miss Freda Kate Jackson, whose marriage to Mr. Samuel Dodson Austin took place last Thursday evening, was the honor guest at a china shower last week given by her sister, Miss Lola Jackson, at their home on Sunset avenue.

Concert Date Chosen
The concert of the St. Philip's Cathedral held its first regular meeting on Wednesday evening, April 8, at 8:15 o'clock. The program was a series of five seasons in dancing, conducted by Prof. John Mahler. Tickets for these seasons will be issued at the door to those who desire them. Only those holding tickets are eligible for the seasons. For information communicate with the secretary, M. L. Christian, 177 1/2 St. Philip's.

Social Club of St. Philip's
The social club of St. Philip's Cathedral held its first regular meeting on Wednesday evening, April 8, at 8:15 o'clock. The program was a series of five seasons in dancing, conducted by Prof. John Mahler. Tickets for these seasons will be issued at the door to those who desire them. Only those holding tickets are eligible for the seasons. For information communicate with the secretary, M. L. Christian, 177 1/2 St. Philip's.

Evening Party
An interesting evening party was given by the St. Philip's Cathedral on Wednesday evening, April 8, at 8:15 o'clock. The program was a series of five seasons in dancing, conducted by Prof. John Mahler. Tickets for these seasons will be issued at the door to those who desire them. Only those holding tickets are eligible for the seasons. For information communicate with the secretary, M. L. Christian, 177 1/2 St. Philip's.

Stoddardize
Home and Clothing
For Opera Week!

Magnificent Hair Easy to Obtain Quickly—Some Astonishing Beauty Secrets

Miss Martha of Proctor Time Have Now Been Eliminated in the Acquisition of Beauty. As Yvonne Baratt, Atlanta's Famous Beauty Beauty Actress.

BY MISS VALENTA STRATTON.
It has been said that a difference of two or three years in the quality of a woman's hair is the difference between a woman who is a beauty and a woman who is not. The difference is not in the color of the hair, but in the texture. The hair of a beauty is soft, smooth, and shiny. The hair of a woman who is not is dry, brittle, and dull.

MISS T. S. O.—Only one cream is necessary to beautify the skin and bring it into condition of irreproachable perfection in a short time. A few days use will prove the result. This cream is made of the finest ingredients and is of a delicate, refreshing, and soothing nature. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin.

MISS T. S. O.—This is a whole-some remedy which has already become famous because of its quick action in removing the skin of the face and neck. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin.

MISS T. S. O.—This is a whole-some remedy which has already become famous because of its quick action in removing the skin of the face and neck. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin.

MISS T. S. O.—This is a whole-some remedy which has already become famous because of its quick action in removing the skin of the face and neck. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin.

MISS T. S. O.—This is a whole-some remedy which has already become famous because of its quick action in removing the skin of the face and neck. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin.

MISS T. S. O.—This is a whole-some remedy which has already become famous because of its quick action in removing the skin of the face and neck. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin.

MISS T. S. O.—This is a whole-some remedy which has already become famous because of its quick action in removing the skin of the face and neck. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin. It is of a light, creamy color and is easily absorbed by the skin.

The birthday celebration of the Atlanta Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution will be held Thursday, April 15, at the residence of Mrs. Joseph Madison High on Peachtree street.

An interesting and beautiful program has been arranged for the musical celebration of the twenty-fourth birthday of the chapter.

Mrs. Edward S. Barnes is chairman of the entertainment and will be assisted by Mrs. John Marshall Shaton, Mrs. Sheen, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. James W. Goodrum, Mrs. John B. Roberts, Mrs. J. A. W. W. Roy Collier, Mrs. John H. Moxam, and Mrs. George Love.

Dance at Taffit Hall
A dance will be given in Taffit hall Wednesday evening by the G. T. A. The public is cordially invited.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING
PRICELESS NEMO HYGIENIC FEATURES FREE

DEAR MADAM—Last week we asked you to decide this question for yourself: When you buy a Nemo that you know is a big value simply as a corset, and receive hygienic features worth at least as much more without a penny of added cost, are you not getting SOMETHING of great value to you for NOTHING?

We are sure your answer will be "yes," though probably the idea never occurred to you before. Now that we've mentioned it, don't you think that all "wise women" should seek a good store where Nemo Corsets are handled intelligently, and solve their corset-problems by the Nemo method?

The value of Nemo hygienic features cannot be expressed in dollars, nor are they of equal value to all women. To some they mean better style and increased comfort; to others they mean freedom from pain and illness—in some cases the preservation of life itself.

A Favorite for Over Ten Years
Nemo Self-Reducing Corset, No. 403, was introduced in 1904. Always a favorite, it sells faster today than ever. It suits a certain type of full figure better than any other corset. It has the Nemo "bridge" (diagram 3), and the Nemo Lasting-Back (diagram 4), same as No. 322, described last week; also the improved Nemo Relief Bands (diagram 2), which give excellent abdominal support and reduction with greatest comfort, being now composed largely of semi-elastic Lastopex Weaving. No. 403 is best adapted to a full figure with flesh evenly distributed. Medium bust, long skirt—the "Military Shape." Plus corset or bustle, sizes 22 to 36—$4.00. (Also in extra sizes, up to 44, at $6.00.)

Don't Think of Nemos as "Just Corsets"
They are in a class alone, secure from competition. They do things for you that no other corsets can do. They combine splendid style and complete comfort with real economy. Next week we'll tell you more about this "SOMETHING FOR NOTHING."

Sold Everywhere. Nemo Hygienic-Fashion Institute, New York.

The Wonderful Old Secret Blend

This secret blend of famous coffees from different countries, roasted by a unique secret roasting process, was handed down for generations in the old French Market. Such celebrated men as Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay and others who brought imperishable glory to the South, before and during the war, had to go to the French Market for this Coffee, nowhere else could this wonderful old secret blend be had, for the secret blend was jealously guarded.

In vain did coffee roasters everywhere try to duplicate this famous blend, which is so superior to other coffees. Not until the building of the French Market Mills, containing special machinery could this famous old secret blend be duplicated.

Today, in perfectly sealed cans (actually aroma-tight) by a new process, this wonderful coffee is shipped everywhere throughout the south. A peculiar feature of this famous old secret blend is that it is much the best for use in this climate.

Send 10 cents for 12 cup sample and booklet of the Story of French Market

1 Pound Cans - - $.25
4 Pound Pails - - 1.00

French Market Coffee

French Market Mills

New Orleans, La.
New Orleans Coffee Co., Ltd., Props.

French Market Coffee

French Market Mills

New Orleans, La.
New Orleans Coffee Co., Ltd., Props.

French Market Coffee

French Market Mills

New Orleans, La.
New Orleans Coffee Co., Ltd., Props.

Mrs. John Marshall Shaton, Mrs. Sheen, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. James W. Goodrum, Mrs. John B. Roberts, Mrs. J. A. W. W. Roy Collier, Mrs. John H. Moxam, and Mrs. George Love.

Dance at Taffit Hall
A dance will be given in Taffit hall Wednesday evening by the G. T. A. The public is cordially invited.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING
PRICELESS NEMO HYGIENIC FEATURES FREE

DEAR MADAM—Last week we asked you to decide this question for yourself: When you buy a Nemo that you know is a big value simply as a corset, and receive hygienic features worth at least as much more without a penny of added cost, are you not getting SOMETHING of great value to you for NOTHING?

We are sure your answer will be "yes," though probably the idea never occurred to you before. Now that we've mentioned it, don't you think that all "wise women" should seek a good store where Nemo Corsets are handled intelligently, and solve their corset-problems by the Nemo method?

The value of Nemo hygienic features cannot be expressed in dollars, nor are they of equal value to all women. To some they mean better style and increased comfort; to others they mean freedom from pain and illness—in some cases the preservation of life itself.

A Favorite for Over Ten Years
Nemo Self-Reducing Corset, No. 403, was introduced in 1904. Always a favorite, it sells faster today than ever. It suits a certain type of full figure better than any other corset. It has the Nemo "bridge" (diagram 3), and the Nemo Lasting-Back (diagram 4), same as No. 322, described last week; also the improved Nemo Relief Bands (diagram 2), which give excellent abdominal support and reduction with greatest comfort, being now composed largely of semi-elastic Lastopex Weaving. No. 403 is best adapted to a full figure with flesh evenly distributed. Medium bust, long skirt—the "Military Shape." Plus corset or bustle, sizes 22 to 36—$4.00. (Also in extra sizes, up to 44, at $6.00.)

Don't Think of Nemos as "Just Corsets"
They are in a class alone, secure from competition. They do things for you that no other corsets can do. They combine splendid style and complete comfort with real economy. Next week we'll tell you more about this "SOMETHING FOR NOTHING."

Sold Everywhere. Nemo Hygienic-Fashion Institute, New York.

The Wonderful Old Secret Blend

This secret blend of famous coffees from different countries, roasted by a unique secret roasting process, was handed down for generations in the old French Market. Such celebrated men as Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay and others who brought imperishable glory to the South, before and during the war, had to go to the French Market for this Coffee, nowhere else could this wonderful old secret blend be had, for the secret blend was jealously guarded.

In vain did coffee roasters everywhere try to duplicate this famous blend, which is so superior to other coffees. Not until the building of the French Market Mills, containing special machinery could this famous old secret blend be duplicated.

Today, in perfectly sealed cans (actually aroma-tight) by a new process, this wonderful coffee is shipped everywhere throughout the south. A peculiar feature of this famous old secret blend is that it is much the best for use in this climate.

Send 10 cents for 12 cup sample and booklet of the Story of French Market

1 Pound Cans - - $.25
4 Pound Pails - - 1.00

French Market Coffee

French Market Mills

New Orleans, La.
New Orleans Coffee Co., Ltd., Props.

French Market Coffee

French Market Mills

New Orleans, La.
New Orleans Coffee Co., Ltd., Props.

French Market Coffee

French Market Mills

New Orleans, La.
New Orleans Coffee Co., Ltd., Props.

French Market Coffee

French Market Mills

Mrs. John Marshall Shaton, Mrs. Sheen, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. James W. Goodrum, Mrs. John B. Roberts, Mrs. J. A. W. W. Roy Collier, Mrs. John H. Moxam, and Mrs. George Love.

Dance at Taffit Hall
A dance will be given in Taffit hall Wednesday evening by the G. T. A. The public is cordially invited.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING
PRICELESS NEMO HYGIENIC FEATURES FREE

DEAR MADAM—Last week we asked you to decide this question for yourself: When you buy a Nemo that you know is a big value simply as a corset, and receive hygienic features worth at least as much more without a penny of added cost, are you not getting SOMETHING of great value to you for NOTHING?

We are sure your answer will be "yes," though probably the idea never occurred to you before. Now that we've mentioned it, don't you think that all "wise women" should seek a good store where Nemo Corsets are handled intelligently, and solve their corset-problems by the Nemo method?

The value of Nemo hygienic features cannot be expressed in dollars, nor are they of equal value to all women. To some they mean better style and increased comfort; to others they mean freedom from pain and illness—in some cases the preservation of life itself.

A Favorite for Over Ten Years
Nemo Self-Reducing Corset, No. 403, was introduced in 1904. Always a favorite, it sells faster today than ever. It suits a certain type of full figure better than any other corset. It has the Nemo "bridge" (diagram 3), and the Nemo Lasting-Back (diagram 4), same as No. 322, described last week; also the improved Nemo Relief Bands (diagram 2), which give excellent abdominal support and reduction with greatest comfort, being now composed largely of semi-elastic Lastopex Weaving. No. 403 is best adapted to a full figure with flesh evenly distributed. Medium bust, long skirt—the "Military Shape." Plus corset or bustle, sizes 22 to 36—$4.00. (Also in extra sizes, up to 44, at $6.00.)

Don't Think of Nemos as "Just Corsets"
They are in a class alone, secure from competition. They do things for you that no other corsets can do. They combine splendid style and complete comfort with real economy. Next week we'll tell you more about this "SOMETHING FOR NOTHING."

Sold Everywhere. Nemo Hygienic-Fashion Institute, New York.

The Wonderful Old Secret Blend

This secret blend of famous coffees from different countries, roasted by a unique secret roasting process, was handed down for generations in the old French Market. Such celebrated men as Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay and others who brought imperishable glory to the South, before and during the war, had to go to the French Market for this Coffee, nowhere else could this wonderful old secret blend be had, for the secret blend was jealously guarded.

In vain did coffee roasters everywhere try to duplicate this famous blend, which is so superior to other coffees. Not until the building of the French Market Mills, containing special machinery could this famous old secret blend be duplicated.

Today, in perfectly sealed cans (actually aroma-tight) by a new process, this wonderful coffee is shipped everywhere throughout the south. A peculiar feature of this famous old secret blend is that it is much the best for use in this climate.

Send 10 cents for 12 cup sample and booklet of the Story of French Market

1 Pound Cans - - $.25
4 Pound Pails - - 1.00

French Market Coffee

French Market Mills

New Orleans, La.
New Orleans Coffee Co., Ltd., Props.

French Market Coffee

French Market Mills

New Orleans, La.
New Orleans Coffee Co., Ltd., Props.

French Market Coffee

French Market Mills

New Orleans, La.
New Orleans Coffee Co., Ltd., Props.

French Market Coffee

French Market Mills

VISITOR OF OPERA WEEK

MISS MAURICE FAGAN.

—Home Photograph by Lenner.

Miss Fagan, who is a member of the younger set in Fort Valley, will visit her aunt, Mrs. P. L. Walker, at her home in Oakhurst during the opera.

Audience at Pantomime

An interesting event of Monday evening was the "Will o' the Wisp" pantomime at the Atlanta theater, which was given under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. and was splendidly attended. Miss Eva Hetzner directed the fancy dances. Among those seen in the audience were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paxson, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Worthen, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Block, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Beck, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Beck, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Newell, Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Glover, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McClure, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. Ransom Wright, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hosner, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Covert, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. James K. Hines, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Frazer, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Ware, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Ashcraft, Dr. and Mrs. Theo. Fozell, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Shewmake, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Orme, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Eckford, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Whitman, Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dailly, Mr. and Mrs. Lowndes Calhoun, Mr. J. M. Stephens, Miss Nan Stephens, Miss Grace Stephens, Miss Frances Stephens, Miss Amelia Smith, Mr. Brooks Morgan, Mr. Hamilton Black, Dr. Annie Sawyer, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Stonewall Jacobs.

Wednesday at Child's Home

A reception was given Wednesday afternoon at the Atlanta Child's Home by Circle No. 1 of which Mrs. F. P. Caffrey is chairman. The other members of the committee who acted as hostesses were: Mrs. Elizabeth Armstrong, Miss Helena Armstrong, Mrs. Frank Banks, Mrs. J. W. Bryant, Miss Anna Bennett, Mrs. Mary Bloodworth, Mrs. Jason Cannon, Mrs. Cox, Miss Kathryn Crabb, Miss Susie Davis, Miss Sue Hook, Mrs. Sage Hardin, Mrs. G. A. Harbort, Mrs. J. F. Humphrey, Mrs. W. H. Hart, Mrs. E. H. Goodrich, Mrs. Forest Green, Mrs. Allison Green, Mrs. Howard Jackson, Mrs. Charles Johnson, Mrs. E. J. Jennings, Mrs. C. M. Lowe, Mrs. J. R. Lead, Mrs. Boyd Perry, Mrs. Reese Perry, Miss Sophie Stewart, Mrs. A. H. Spain, Mrs. Harold Voorhis, Mrs. H. H. Thomas, Mrs. George Word, Mrs. Paul Wright, and Mrs. P. H. Wilson. Mr. Harry Cannon, page.

Lecture by Mary Antin

The lecture by Mary Antin, under the auspices of the Council of Jewish Women, is being anticipated with interest and pleasure.

Dr. T. FELIX GOURAUD'S
ORIENTAL Cream
OR MAGICAL BEAUTIFIER

As the least harmful of all the skin preparations
Fard, T. Higgins & Son, Props. 37 Great Jones St. N. Y. C.

Introducing the New, Stylish

"San Marino" Pump

Genuine Buckskin Whole Quarters

Price $2.25

The present style tendency calls for something original every week, and this style we offer special for Monday.

Patent vamp, small Colonial tongue, leather French heels, genuine buckskin (choice of gray or fawn) whole quarters.

M. Rich & Bros. Co.

52-56 Whitehall Street

ANNOUNCEMENTS

WOMAN'S ALLIANCE.

The Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian Church will hold its regular meeting at the home of Mrs. J. H. Watts, 21 Crescent street, at 8 o'clock.

*Important business meeting and election of officers.
GRACE LODGE NO. 811, Ladies' Auxiliary to the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, will hold its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, 16 1/2 Wisconsin Hall, 38 Central avenue.

Every member is urged to attend, as they will be important business.
WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Inman Park M. E. Church, will hold its literary meeting with Mrs. Mark Johnson, Dale avenue, Monday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock.

KABERHAM CHAPTER MEETING. *The Joseph Kaberham Chapter, No. 1, A. R. M., will hold its regular monthly meeting Thursday afternoon at 8 o'clock at the University Club.

An interesting paper will be read on the life of Joseph Kaberham, and as this is the last meeting before the National Conference in Washington, it will be one of much interest and enjoyment to all members.

NOTICE TO KABERHAM CHAPTER. *Members of the Joseph Kaberham Chapter, D. A. R., are requested to attend the funeral of Mrs. W. M. Yeandle, at St. Phillips Cathedral, Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

ALICE M. A. HANDEL, Sec.
ORDER EASTERN STAR MEETING. *A regular meeting of the Eastern Star Chapter, No. 113, Order Eastern Star, will be held at 8 o'clock, 16 1/2 Wisconsin Hall, 38 Central avenue, Monday evening, at 8 o'clock.

A very interesting program will be rendered to all duly qualified members of the order to be present.

ATLANTA CHAPTER, D. A. R. *The members of the Atlanta Chapter, D. A. R., are requested to attend the funeral of Mrs. W. M. Yeandle, at St. Phillips Cathedral, Sunday afternoon, at 3 o'clock.

ALICE M. A. HANDEL, Sec.
ARME CLUB. *The Arme Club, of Order Eastern Star, will be entertained at its regular meeting on Tuesday, April 13, at 3 o'clock by Mrs. Leslie McWilliams and Mrs. Lella Road.

enter, in the E. A. Minor Lodge room. A very interesting program will be rendered. The members of the club have been invited to remain and enjoy an entertainment to be given by East Atlanta Chapter, No. 300, D. E. S., at its regular meeting in the evening at 8 o'clock.

MEETING POSTPONED. *The regular meeting of the Industrial Arts club has been postponed for one week, the place to be announced later.

JULIA JACKSON CHAPTER

The Julia Jackson chapter Children of the World will hold its regular monthly meeting Friday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. H. H. Peaslee, 28 Peachtree street. All members are urged to be present to discuss plans for Memorial day.

PARENT-TEACHER MEETING. *The Parents and Teachers Association of the Fairview school will hold its regular meeting Monday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, at the school building, Dr. Venable will address the club.

FLORENCE CRITCHEL BOARD MEETING. *The board of managers of Florence Critchell Home will meet at Carnegie library at 9:30 o'clock Thursday morning. A full attendance is very desirable.

PSYCHOLOGICAL SOCIETY. *The Psychological Society will meet Monday afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, in the convention hall, Anson Hotel. The subject is "Philosophy of Life." All interested are welcome.

COUNCIL MEETING. *The Council of Parent-Teacher Association will meet Monday afternoon, at 3 o'clock in the library of the girls' high school. Members urged to attend.

ATLANTA WOMAN'S CLUB. *The regular meeting of the Atlanta Woman's Club will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

COLLEGE PARK CHEVYANTRHEUM CLUB. *The College Park Chevyantrheum Club will hold their regular meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. M. F. Morfin, at 5 o'clock. All members urged to be present.

WRITERS CLUB. *The regular meeting of the Atlanta Writers' Club will be held Monday afternoon, at 8 o'clock, at the University Club.

Annual Meeting of Y. W. C. A. *The annual meeting of the Atlanta Woman's Missionary Association will be held in the Central Congregational church, corner Ellis street and Carnegie way, at 2:30 o'clock.

The address will be by Rev. H. H. Harris, of Wesley Memorial church. Following the address will be the reports of the officers and of the Travelers Aid work at the railroad stations. The revised constitution and by-laws will be read, and officers elected for the ensuing year.

All who are interested are cordially invited to attend and all who are not interested are invited to come and learn of the great work done by the matrons at the stations.

Chance of a Life Time To Get This Famous Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet

PAY ONLY $1.00

Beginning tomorrow, for one week only, The Hoosier Manufacturing Company permits us to deliver the "WHITE BEAUTY" for a single dollar at the low cash price established by the Hoosier Company. Hoosier prices are remarkably low. These terms mean an unheard-of bargain. 800,000 Hoosier Cabinets have been sold. "WHITE BEAUTY" is the finest Hoosier made. To double the sale of this one cabinet quickly, the Hoosier Company authorizes this sale in 1,000 picked towns. This is truly the chance of a lifetime for a few women only. Our allotment is strictly limited.

"White Beauty" Delivered for $1.00

Then $1 weekly soon pays the balance. Your money back if you're not delighted with it. No extra fees. No interest. Just the cash price.

Saves Miles of Steps for Your Tired Feet

You now must carry things from your cupboard and pantry to your table and back again at every meal. This means miles of steps. The Hoosier saves all these because it combines everything at your fingers' ends. You can sit down in front of the Hoosier and do nearly all your work. You save energy by saving steps. You have more leisure.

Has 40 Labor-Saving Features—17 New

This "WHITE BEAUTY" gives you a real scientific kitchen. You can put 400 articles in this new Hoosier, every one at your fingers' ends. The cabinet includes the patented shaker flour sifter—only after made that shakes flour through instead of grinding it. It also has a complete accounting system; a cook-book holder that keeps your book always open in front of your eye; Mrs. Christine Frederick's Food Guide that answers the question, "What shall I have for dinner?" The new all-metal bread and cake box has double capacity, due to improved arrangement, and the work table is of pure aluminum.

Take Five Minutes to Decide Now

Come in tomorrow early—examine these new Hoosiers carefully—then decide whether you want to buy now, while you can have it delivered for $1, or later, when you have to pay regular terms. Decide whether you can afford to waste the energy you now spend in walking in your kitchen, when a single dollar will bring you the Hoosier tomorrow. Remember—that after this sale the "WHITE BEAUTY" goes back to the regular terms.

"White Beauty" Advertised in leading magazines

Remember—that the new Hoosier Club may be entirely filled the first or second day of this sale. Come at once and enroll your name.

Try the Hoosier in your kitchen. Then, if you will part with it, we will gladly refund your dollar. Come early. Other women too are making up their minds now.

Ed Matthews & Co. Just Off Whitehall 23 E. Alabama St.

The only place in Atlanta where you can get the "Hoosier Cabinet."

TO THE PUBLIC: We authorize this limited sale of Hoosier Cabinets this week only for $1 down, $1 weekly—at the fixed cash price.

THE HOOSIER MFG. CO., New Castle, Ind.

IF YOU WANT THE
BEST RESULTS

BUY YOUR KODAK FILMS FROM US!

We have the only
DEPENDABLE FILM

The Eastman K. C. AND OUR STOCK IS FRESH.

THE YELLOW BOX

IF YOU WANT THE
BEST RESULTS

BRING US YOUR FILMS FOR DEVELOPMENT.

None but experienced workmen employed in our Finishing Department, and only the best material used.

The Large Kodak Store
GLENN PHOTO STOCK CO.

Eastman Kodak Co.

117 Peachtree, Opp. Piedmont Hotel

The Week in Retrospect

SEVERAL of the prettiest affairs of the week centered round attractive visitors. Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Charles E. Sciple gave a luncheon at the Druid Hills Golf club in honor of Mrs. W. A. Beidler, of Chicago, who spent Easter with her daughter, Mrs. Charles Murphy Sciple. The luncheon, where luncheon was served, was transformed into a woodland dell and the centerpiece of the table suggested a rocky outcrop growing ferns and spring blossoms. The centerpieces were of white flowers containing a growing plant with name card attached. Covers were laid for sixteen.

Mrs. Leonard Phinizy, of Augusta, was honor guest at the luncheon given by Mrs. Robert L. Foreman on Thursday, at her home on Peachtree street, when twelve guests were entertained. An artistic array of variegated blossoms including jonquils, bright tulips, hyacinths, violets and roses, formed the centerpiece.

Among the week's visitors who were entertained informally at the tea dance at the Piedmont club Wednesday, and at the Druid Hills Golf club on Saturday, were Mrs. Leon Durr and Mrs. Florence Wadley Coleman, of Macon; Miss Lydia Belle Kuchel, of Iowa; Miss Herring, of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Mrs. W. A. Beidler, of Chicago, and Mrs. E. G. Thomas, of Fort Valley.

OF interest in Atlanta and Tennessee is the announcement of the marriage of Mrs. Louise Madden Brown and Mr. Baylis Earle, of Waco, Tex., which was solemnized Saturday at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. W. V. Fort, in Waco, Tex.

The bride is one of the most beautiful and loved young women of Tennessee. She is of an old Nashville family.

Mr. Earle is a prominent business man of Waco, interested in many enterprises and is a leader in social and business life.

The bride and groom will take an extensive trip through Cuba and the islands of the West Indies, and will be in Major Base in Chattanooga, before their return to Waco.

As Miss Madden, Mrs. Earle was a noted southern belle and has been delightfully entertained in Atlanta upon the occasion of visits to Mrs. William P. Hill.

MANY entertainments have been given during the week for the bride elect. Of April, Mrs. Beverly DuBois as Miss Lula Dean Jones was tendered a series of parties which were among the bright events of the post-Lenten season.

Miss Carolyn King's luncheon on Monday afternoon, was the initial event of last week's parties given in honor of the pretty bride. Handsome growing plants and vases filled with Easter lilies adorned the drawing room and reception hall, and in the dining room the color motif was pink and white. A large silver basket graced the center of the table filled with Easter lilies and Dorothy Perkins roses. A fluffy bow of pink tulle was caught to the handle and the lights and ice were in pink. At Miss Marion Goldsmith's luncheon on Tuesday, given in honor of Miss Jones, a French color combination of pink, peach blossoms, violets and valley lilies, made unusually effective the centerpiece of the beautifully appointed table. Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Jack Thiesen gave a bride party in compliment to Miss Jones, and later in the afternoon Mr. Saunders Jones entertained for his sister at the dance at the Piedmont club. The decorations at Mrs. Thiesen's bride party were a profusion of peach blossoms and jonquils which filled silver bowls and vases. The pretty honor guest was presented with a dainty souvenir of the occasion and handsome prizes were given. At the dinner party given Tuesday evening by Mr. Thomas Easton in honor of Miss Jones and Mr. DuBois, beautiful corsage bouquets of Parma violets marked the girls' places, making a charming color contrast to the centerpiece of bright golden daffodils and yellow hyacinths. Elaborate and beautiful was the dinner party given Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Bolling Jones, in honor of their niece and her fiancé. Little blue birds of happiness were perched on the silver goblets and the centerpiece of each table was a silver basket of purple hyacinths, blue hyacinths and sunbursts.

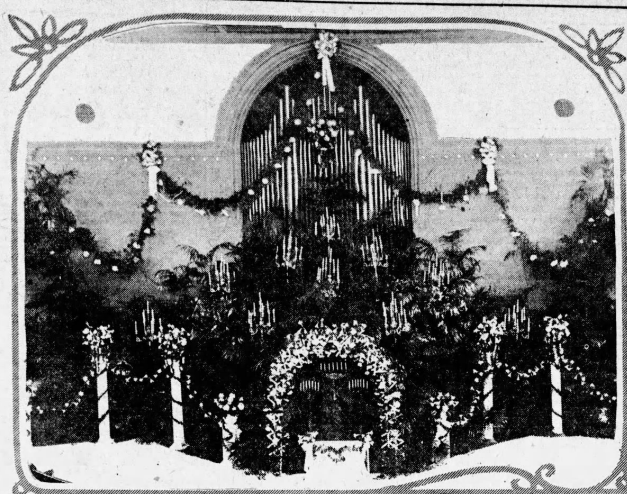

Wedding slippers and Cupids suggested the bridal motif and the pink cards were lettered in gold.

A REVIEW of the social calendar shows a large number of parties given in honor of Miss Harriet Calhoun and Mr. Stuart Witham, whose wedding Wednesday was a brilliant event of the week.

Completing the series of pre-nuptial affairs for Miss Calhoun was the luncheon given Monday by Mrs. Alexander King, the dinner party at which Miss Margaret Grant was house Monday evening, Miss Calhoun's luncheon Tuesday, and the old-fashioned supper and dance at which Mr. and Mrs. Phinizy Calhoun entertained Tuesday evening, at the Piedmont club following the wedding rehearsal. Delicately-tinted Easter blossoms and snow-balls with graceful sprays of trailing arbutus characterized the table decorations of Mrs. King's pretty luncheon, and Miss Ellis chose the use of golden daffodils and freesias for the delightful occasion of Tuesday at her home in Ansley Park. The dinner given by Miss Grant assembled the members of the wedding party and the table was exquisite in appointment. Yellow snazadrons formed the centerpiece and all minor details carried out an artistic color scheme of yellow and white. About seventy-five guests were entertained by Dr. and Mrs. Calhoun Tuesday evening, including the wedding party and members of the family and close friends. The club was decorated with many spring blossoms and following supper dancing.

A BRILLIANT occasion of Wednesday evening was the wedding of Mrs. Harriet Calhoun and Mr. W. Stuart Witham, Jr., which took place at the Central Presbyterian church. A great and brilliant event and many out-of-town relatives and friends were present with the large gathering of wedding guests. In every detail the decorations were most elaborate and beautiful, both at the church and in the home on Peachtree street where a reception was held following the nuptial ceremony.

LOVELY BRIDE AND BRIDESMAIDS

The bride's cousins, Miss Martha Phinizy, of Athens, and Miss Marian Phinizy, of Augusta, were maids of honor, and a bevy of Atlanta's prettiest young girls were bridesmaids, including Miss Passie May Otley, Miss Margaret Grant, Miss Louise Broyles, Miss Marjorie Brown, Miss Bessie Jones, Miss Catherine Ellis and Miss Esther Smith.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Dr. Phinizy Calhoun, and Mr. Floyd McKee, Jr., was best man. The groomsmen were Mr. Ralph Ragan, Mr. Bowie Martin, Mr. Hubbard Allen, Mr. Charles Cox, Dr. Jere Osborne, Mr. Baxter Jackson, Mr. J. O. Nashville, Tenn., and Mr. Clai-borne Glover, of Columbia, S. C.

The bride's neighbors, Mrs. Calhoun, bore the white satin pillow to the altar, and the ushers were Mr. Edward H. Alfriend, Mr. William H. Kiser, Mr. Doughty Manley, Mr. R. T. Dorsey, Jr., Mr. Junius Oglesby, Jr., Dr. William Perrin Nicholson, Mr. Albert Howell and Mr. Alexander King.

A bank of handsome palms extended the width of the chancel and were massed high against the organ loft. Festoons of smilax twined with Easter lilies and starred with electric bulbs, reached to the ceiling and at the base of the altar was a double row of pink and blue hydrangeas.

The place of the officiating minister, Rev. Dunbar Owen, was marked by an alcove of roses, Easter lilies and a shower of valley lilies hung from the chandelier and the centerpiece was a plume of Dorothy Perkins roses fringed with valley lilies. A trailing design of smilax reached to the outer edge and two Australian tree ferns had their branches thickly presented his attendants with gold pen knives.

The decorations for the reception at home repeated the wedding motif of pink and blue at the church. In the hall the mantel was banked with Dorothy Perkins roses, combined with blue hydrangeas and vases filled of pink and blue at the church. In the hall the mantel was banked with Dorothy Perkins roses, combined with blue hydrangeas and vases filled

of pink and blue at the church. In the hall the mantel was banked with Dorothy Perkins roses, combined with blue hydrangeas and vases filled

OPERA SCORE OF CARMEN SUNG TO LARGE AUDIENCE

The first of a series of opera concerts for the benefit of the visiting nurses among the poor was held Saturday afternoon, in the convention hall of the Piedmont hotel where the music of "Carmen" was sung before a large audience.

The members of the guild promoting the concert and readings includes Mrs. Ben Lee Crew, president; Mrs. J. C. Statton, treasurer; Mrs. J. H. Franklin, secretary; Mrs. Francis Arkwright, Mrs. E. E. Austin, Mrs. J. Lee Harris, Mrs. Walter Burdwell, Mrs. J. C. Dean, Mrs. Ella Carter, Mrs. H. L. Collier, Mrs. Ben Conyers, Mrs. Andrew Calhoun, Mrs. J. M. Daniel, Mrs. Holmes Frederick, Mrs. Sanford Gay, Mrs. James H. Gilbert, Mrs. E. H. Goodhart, Mrs. Bryan M. Grant, Mrs. Harry Harmon, Mrs. Samuel Hewlett, Mrs. George Holliday, Jr., Mrs. G. H. Holliday, Mrs. George Howard, Mrs. James E. Hickey, Mrs. E. R. Hill, Mrs. Henry S. Jackson, Mrs. W. C. Jarnagin, Mrs. J. Victor Jones, Mrs. E. D. Kennedy, Mrs. E. R. Kirk, Mrs. Hugh Loken, Mrs. W. H. Lawson, Mrs. Robert F. Maddox, Mrs. Robert Meador, Mrs. John Maupin, Mrs. Charles Merritt, Mrs. W. M. McKendle, Mrs. W. V. McMillan, Mrs. E. L. McConnell, Mrs. James H. Nunnally, Mrs. W. B. Nunn, Mrs. William H. Statton, Mrs. P. H. Newton, Mrs. Vaughn, Mrs. H. E. W. Palmer, Mrs. Lowry Porter, Mrs. William R. Prescott, Mrs. R. K. Rambo, Mrs. James Regan, Mrs. W. C. Royer, Mrs. G. K. Seiden, Mrs. Claude Shawnee, Mrs. Stewart Foote, Mrs. J. P. Womble, Mrs. J. A. Austin, Mrs. R. H. Walsh, Miss Julia Hammond, Miss Josephine Moline, Miss Jennie Mobley, Miss Ruby Smith, Miss Mary Armstrong.

The patronesses of the series include Mrs. P. J. McQuinn, Mrs. John M. Statton, Mrs. W. L. Peet, Mrs. E. K. Van Winkle, Mrs. George Forrester, Mrs. W. D. Ellis, Jr., Mrs. Wilmer Moore, Mrs. Albert Howell, Jr., Mrs. M. Braden, Mrs. W. H. Kiser, Mrs. Robert Foreman, Mrs. Julian Field, Mrs. Edgar Paulin, Mrs. A. H. Bancker, Mrs. John McEachern, Mrs. A. M. Lloyd, Mrs. W. O. Foote, Mrs. John Lawless, Mrs. Frank Atlee, Mrs. James Fielder, Mrs. P. F. Boykin, Mrs. W. H. Hendrix, Mrs. J. L. Riley, Mrs. Henry Peeples, Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith, Mrs. Arnold Broyles, Mrs. Mattie Slaton, Mrs. Laurie Anderson, Mrs. Charles Dannels, Miss Mary Allgood Jones, Mrs. John Hill, Mrs. Josephine Purse, Miss Irma Dooly, Miss Isabel Thomas, Miss Mary Robinson, Mrs. E. L. Garrett Baker, Mrs. J. M. High, Mrs. Natalie Hammond, Mrs. Samuel Lumpkin, Mrs. Mollie R. Wilkins, Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, Mrs. I. H. Oppenheimer, Mrs. Guy Woodford, Mrs. Louisa Baird, Mrs. J. W. Patterson.

Piano Recital

The Atlanta Conservatory announces Mrs. Mayme McCall will give another of her interesting pupils recitals on Monday, April 12, at 4 o'clock.

Interesting Weddings

Austin-Jackson

A pretty home wedding of the past week was that of Miss Freddie Kate Jackson and Mr. Samuel Dodson Austin, which took place at the bride's home, 244 Sunset avenue, at 2 o'clock on Thursday evening, Rev. A. C. Ward officiating.

The bride and groom stood before an inspired choir of four voices, and the home was decorated throughout with palms and yellow daffodils.

Only a few relatives and intimate friends were present.

The bride looked lovely in her pretty traveling suit of French blue silk and a dainty fish-tailed chiffon blouse, with a large black transparent chiffon hat. Her corsage was of white roses, blue and orange blossoms.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin left at midnight for North Carolina to spend several weeks, and on their return will make their home in Atlanta.

Hay-Castleberry

The marriage of Dr. George S. Hay, of Chattanooga, and Miss Cordelia Castleberry was quietly solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Castleberry, on North Fourth street, Saturday afternoon. They left immediately after the marriage for Chattanooga.

Leonard-Dixon

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edward Dixon announce the marriage of their daughter, Bertha Bailey, to Mr. William Arthur Leonard on Saturday, April 3.

Dillard-Gilreath

The marriage of Miss Grace Gilreath, of Cartersville and Mr. Andrew William Buford, U. S. N., of Charleston, took place Saturday afternoon at 5:30, in the First Baptist church of Cartersville. Rev. C. L. McGinty officiating.

The decorations of the church were simple and effective against background of white, a delicate tracery of white, making an effective setting for a profusion of pink, ferns and Easter lilies and amid the green, shone lighted tapers.

Mrs. W. T. Townsend played the wedding march, and amid inspiring strains, came the bridal party. The ushers were Messrs. Hugh Gilreath and Tom Simpson. The matrons of honor were Mrs. Harns Hall, the bride's sister, and Mrs. Tom Hines, the bride's aunt.

Mrs. Hall wore coral colored chapeau and a picture hat of black, with yellow edges. The flower girls wore dresses shaded with white sweet peas.

Mrs. Simpson's gown was rose, chapeau and her picture hat of black was matched with pink roses, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses shaded with white sweet peas. Preceding the bride who came in white her mother, Mr. J. H. Gilreath, were four little flower girls, Eleanor Simpson, Mary Lou Gilreath, Eliza Mathews and Mrs. H. H. Hines. They wore dainty frocks of white with pink accessories and carried Easter lilies.

The bride, who is a charming blonde, wore her hair away from her face in white. The coat opened on a waist of gray chiffon and her picture hat was of gray with touches of blue, and her flowers were bride's roses.

The groom, with his tall, man, Dr. Louis Buford, met the bride at the altar. After the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Buford left for a bridal trip, upon their return they will spend a few days in Cartersville, before going to Charleston, where Mr. Buford is stationed. Among the out of town guests were Messrs. George Danson, of Atlanta; Mrs. George Danson, Mr. and Mrs. Will Ferguson, Mr. Harry Ferguson, Mrs. George Ferguson, of Rockmart.

Clegg-Gaines

The marriage of Miss Earline Thompson Gaines and Mr. John Frederic Clegg, Jr., was solemnized Saturday afternoon, April 10, at the Druid Hills Methodist church, at 1:30 o'clock, the Rev. Henry B. Bays officiating.

Miss Margaret Clegg, sister of the groom, who was the maid of honor and who attended, was gown in old blue tulle and bodice of blue with hat of white leghorn trimmed in pink roses and she carried an armful of Killarney roses.

Mr. William Morton Lee was best man and the ushers were Mr. W. Alvin Gaines and Mr. Wightman D. Clemens.

Miss Nell Landrum, of "Promises Me" before the ceremony.

The bride wore a traveling suit of light tan material embroidered in old blue with hat of the same shade of straw trimmed in blue velvet ribbon and her flowers were bride's roses showered with valley lilies.

Mrs. Gaines, mother of the bride, was gown in gray crepe de chine trimmed in rare lace and wore a hat of gray. Among the out-of-town guests were Miss Nora Platts and Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Howson, of Princeton, Ind., and Miss Blanche Walden, of Greenville, S. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaines will be home to their friends after April 20 at 312 Stokes avenue, in West End Park.

ed with the lovely flowers were tied with bows of blue ribbon. The lovely French color combination showed in the beautiful pink and blue chiffon gowns worn by the maids and their bouquets were exceptionally artistic formed of blue hydrangeas with sprays of Dorothy Perkins roses.

A PRETTY and interesting event of Saturday morning, was the wedding of Miss Dorothy Valentine Wilhelm and Mr. William James Boyd, of New York City, which was solemnized at 10:30 o'clock, at St. Luke's Episcopal church, Rev. C. B. Wilmer, officiating.

The altar was banked with palms, ferns and clusters of Easter lilies. Miss Ruth Reik, of Gainesville, was maid of honor, wearing a pretty model of dull green silk with touches of gold. Her leghorn hat was trimmed with green chiffon streamers and she carried a sheaf bouquet of pink roses.

The bridesmaids, Miss Theodora Andrews and Miss Willie Port Williams, were gown in rose colored silk and rose picture hats. Their bouquets were an old-fashioned combination of valley lilies, roses and sweet peas.

Mr. Albert H. Boyd, of New York, was best man, and the groomsmen were Mr. Roy G. Booker and Mr. John Wood.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Mr. J. E. Wilhelm, wore a smart suit of mid-jade blue with small hat of black trimmed with a paradise aigrette. She carried a white knit prayerbook showered with valley lilies.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Boyd left for an extended stay at the Walden Hotel, and upon their return to America will make their future home in Roselle, New Jersey.

—Photo by Thurston Hatcher.

VISITOR OF OPERA WEEK

PRESIDENT BURTON TO LECTURE FOR DRAMA LEAGUE

President Richard Burton of the National Drama League will lecture to the Atlanta members of the Georgia Drama League, next Tuesday. The lecture will be held at the Georgian Terrace at the regular time, 3 o'clock. President Burton is one of the most brilliant lecturers in America, a member of the faculty of the University of Minnesota, and a man of great personal charm. While he is brought at great expense to the Drama League the lecture will be free to all members. Non-members will pay fifty cents at the door. After the lecture is over, President Burton will be entertained by the executive board at tea.

Hawkins-Herbert

Wedding Plans
THOMASVILLE, Ga.—Cordial interest is centered in the approaching marriage of Miss Gabrielle Hawkins, of this city, and Mr. Henry Herbert, of Savannah, which will take place next Wednesday evening at the residence of the bride's uncle, Mr. M. M. Cooper. Owing to a recent death in the family of the bride elect, the marriage will be a very quiet event, only the relatives and a few close friends being invited. After the ceremony Mr. Herbert and his bride will leave for Savannah, where they will reside.

Miss Hawkins is the lovely young daughter of Mrs. Walter C. Rogers, of this city, and Mr. J. H. Heath, of the circle of friends. Mr. Herbert was until recently a resident of Thomasville, but is now engaged in business in Savannah.

To Bride Elect

Mrs. R. L. Bennett and Miss Irene Bennett entertained the members of the West End Bridge Club Saturday afternoon in compliment to Miss Lucile Beane, a pretty bride elect. Following the game a miscellaneous shower was held for the honor guest in the evening. Twenty guests were entertained.

Association of Business Women

The business women's work of the Chapman-Alexander revival grew to such splendid results that a permanent association has been formed in order to conserve what it has accomplished. Miss Cecil Kendrick, is chairman of this new association and will still be assisted by the committee of women who organized the work. These meetings will be held monthly and will be conducted strictly along the plan which Mrs. Alexander outlined during the five weeks in which she met with the business women, twice weekly.

The first of the meetings since the revival will be held Tuesday evening, from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church. After a light supper, a fifteen minutes song service will follow, then Mrs. Dunbar Ogden will give the Bible lesson. All business women of the city are most cordially invited. Any information in regard to the evening can be obtained from the chairman, or from the key women. In each office building, as well as all large stores, there is a key woman who solicits the interest of all young women of her district.

Suffrage Notes

Suffrage Calendar for the Week.
Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, Tuesday evening, city auditorium at 8 o'clock.

Georgia Young People's Suffrage association, Wednesday afternoon at Anley hotel.

Ways and means committee, Atlanta Equal Suffrage association, Friday afternoon at Anley hotel.

First Evening Suffrage Session.
The first evening session of the Suffrage school was held on Tuesday evening at the Anley hotel and was largely attended.

Mrs. Amelia B. Woodall, president of the Atlanta Equal Suffrage association, opened the session with a few appropriate remarks and announced that a series of evening sessions of the school would be held during April and May.

Prof. E. C. Murray, in his address, "The Public School and Its Relation to the State," gave his audience an insight into the problems and difficulties that beset the education of children, and pointed out the great improvements that have been made within the last few years in the public school system.

Judge Nash R. Broyles gave the school a valuable and most instructive lesson in his lecture on "Our Courts."

Mrs. Mary L. McLeod explained a lesson in suffrage history and called upon Mrs. O. F. Ellington, president of the Arkansas Woman's Suffrage association, to come forward and tell of the great progress that has been made by the woman suffrage movement in Arkansas. Mrs. Ellington made a short talk full of helpful suggestions to the suffrage workers in Georgia.

To Bride Elect

The members of the Hyperion club will entertain at a dancing party Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Lucile Beane, a bride elect of the month.

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF GEORGIA CLUB WOMEN

As previously announced, the Georgia club women of the Tenth district will hold their annual convention in Milledgeville, Ga., April 16 and 17. The railway schedules are convenient and a large attendance is expected.

Delegates will come from the different clubs in the Tenth district, and in addition there are expected many visitors and prominent club women from different parts of the state.

The Milledgeville Women's club has arranged to entertain two delegates from each club in the Tenth district, and also several prominent visitors who will appear on the program.

A musical invitation is extended to club women from all parts of the state to be present at all the proceedings of the convention.

Mrs. Charles Moore is chairman of the committee on homes for delegates. The following program has been arranged:

1. Thursday morning, 10:30 o'clock—at the mansion parlors. Business meeting. Called to order by Mrs. M. M. Parks, president of the Milledgeville Women's club.

Devotional service, Rev. D. W. Brant. Music. Introduction of visitors. Business session—Mrs. A. H. Branner, Tenth district president in chair. Roll call by Mrs. L. R. Arrington, district secretary.

Report of district president. Miscellaneous business. 2. Thursday afternoon, 2:30 to 4:30. Visit to departments, Georgia Normal and industrial college.

3. Thursday afternoon, 5:00 to 6:00. Trip to Georgia State sanatorium and reception by Mrs. L. M. Jones and Mrs. J. W. Mobley.

4. Thursday evening, 8:15 o'clock—G. N. I. college auditorium public meeting. Address and responses. Addresses (program in full later).

5. Friday 9:00 o'clock. Business meeting. Reports of district chairmen. Reports of clubs by delegates. Addresses, short talk, general discussion. Miscellaneous business.

Evening Bridge Party

Miss Jan Robinson was hostess at an informal bridge party Saturday evening at her home in Anley Park in honor of Mrs. Clarence Coppedge, of Elberton, the guest of Mrs. Claude Frederick. The decorations were a graceful arrangement of jonquils in the drawing room and reception hall.

The honor guest was presented with a piece of lingerie and the price for top score was silk hose. Sixteen guests enjoyed Miss Robinson's hospitality.

Vocal Recital

The recital of the four senior voice students of the Atlanta conservatory, which was to have been given on April 11 and was unavoidably postponed, will take place at Cable hall on Friday evening, April 16, at 8:30 o'clock. The young ladies who are to take part in the recital are Miss Mattie Ellis, Miss Lilla Lyman, Miss Mildred Parks and Miss Rebekah Upchurch, pupils of Mr. Wilford Waters, director of voice department.

Another of Haverty's Record-Breaking Offers

An exact reproduction of the hand- $19.95 some kitchen cabinet which Haverty will deliver to your home this week for —the balance to be paid in small weekly club dues, as outlined in the schedule of payments given below.

10^c

Club Opens Monday

TOMORROW (Monday) morning, we inaugurate a brand-new club. We place this wonderful Kitchen Cabinet on sale at the wonderfully low price of $19.95. You only pay TEN CENTS cash—the payment of ten cents being the first week's club dues, the balance to be paid in small weekly dues as per schedule below.

THERE ARE JUST 50 OF THESE CABINETS AT THIS PRICE, AND THE CLUB IS LIMITED TO 50 MEMBERS. SO, TO BE SURE OF ONE, COME EARLY, PAY ONLY TEN CENTS, AND HAVE US DELIVER THE CABINET TO YOU AT ONCE.

It is a Beautiful Kitchen Cabinet

The cabinet is exactly like the photograph shown above; is made of the best materials, and is sold under the POSITIVE HAVERTY GUARANTEE.

It is built with a view to convenience, stability, and is a wonderfully good value for a very low price—and on the easiest terms imaginable.

Lawn Mower Free

We have just secured a supply of these splendid lawn mowers, and as long as the supply lasts we are going to give one FREE to every customer whose purchases amount to $25 or more. That's the offer and there are no other conditions, except, of course, we cannot give this lawn mower with the above cabinet as part of your purchase. The regular price of the lawn mower is $5.00, and we will deliver it to the home of our customer FREE OF CHARGE. We want 200 new accounts this week, and REMEMBER, we are just as anxious to have your account as we are to make cash sales.

Haverty's Summer Furniture Is Best

HAVERTY'S

13-15 Auburn Ave., Corner Pryor St.
Just Off Peachtree, in the Heart of Atlanta

Pure-Food Experts Recommend Good Bread!

From the beginning of history, bread has been the principal food of mankind. That's why it is called "the staff of life."

Recently noted pure-food scientists have declared that GOOD bread is more nourishing than meat.

Eat Plenty of UNCLE SAM BREAD!

It's the best that can be had—and your grocer sells it.

Schilling-Meyer Baking Co.

DANCING CONTEST

For silver loving cup will be held every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Entrance $2.00. Admission 50 cents. Entrance to the grandstand free.

Club Dues

1st Wk.	10th Wk.	19th Wk.
10c	$1.10	$1.00
2d Wk.	25c	11th Wk.	20th Wk.
3d Wk.	40c	12th Wk.	21st Wk.
4th Wk.	55c	13th Wk.	22d Wk.
5th Wk.	70c	14th Wk.	23d Wk.
6th Wk.	85c	15th Wk.	24th Wk.
7th Wk.	$1.00	16th Wk.	25th Wk.
8th Wk.	$1.00	17th Wk.	TOTAL
9th Wk.	$1.00	18th Wk.	$19.55

NO PAYMENT HIGHER THAN A DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS LAST PAYMENT TEN CENTS.

—Homes Photograph by Loney.

Miss Irene McCartney, who will spend opera week in Atlanta, is from Yonkers, N. Y., and is spending the year in Gainesville, where she is a student at Brenau.

Dance at Imperial Hotel

A dance was given at the Imperial Hotel Monday evening, and a hundred couples were present.

The feature of the evening was a prize dance in which several contestants from the different dance clubs of the city participated.

Miss Lucile Goodrich and Mr. Newton Thomas won the large loving cup offered to the most graceful couple. Miss Justine Henderson (dancing with Leonard Graves) won second prize. The dance was the one step to the caller and back into the one step.

The judges of the evening were Mr. H. T. Church, Mr. Tom Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. Joff, Mrs. Lathrop and Mrs. Frank Stevens.

The dance was held in the main dining room of the hotel the lights were shaded in pink and spring tapers formed the decoration.

The contestants were Miss Orla Thayer and Mr. Homer Powers, Miss North Atkinson and Mr. Robert Atkinson, Miss Earle Goodrich and Mr. C. E. Bennett, Mrs. Julian Chase and Mr. Clement Chubb, Miss Oae Brinkley and Mr. Clayton, Miss Kana and Mr. Kane, Miss Lorena Plante and Mr. Will Murray, Mrs. Harriet and Mr. Charles, Miss Lucile Goodrich and Mr. Newton Thomas, Miss Justine Henderson and Mr. Leonard Graves and others.

Dinner to Bridal Party

The dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. John T. Woodruff, Jr., Friday evening at the dinner dance at the Georgian Terrace was the first of a series of affairs to be tendered Miss Nina Gentry and Mr. Graham Phelps whose marriage will be an event of April.

A large central couch of pink and white hydrangeas and a row with two smaller ones on either side, cradled the large banquet table. The place cards were attached to the glasses with pink ribbons. The honor guests, whose places were indicated by napkins draped in black meshing with draperies of blue and red.

Miss Alice Vandivort, of New Orleans, was seated in pale yellow tulle, and was crowned in cloth of gold and tulle embroidered in yellow rhinestones.

Mrs. Gentry wore a handsome model of black embroidered chiton over white silk and Mrs. Woodruff wore a dancing frock of white tulle with over-draping of tulle caught with pink and blue rosebuds.

Missionary Union of Georgia SPARTA, Ga.—

The spiritual director of the Woman's Missionary Union of Georgia met in Sparta last week.

Some of the delegates in attendance were Mrs. W. H. Brown, Miss Ballou, Miss Elsie Woodley and Mr. H. E. Dutton, of Greensboro; Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Newman and Miss Carter, of Sparta; Mrs. Green Duggan, Mrs. C. D. Redding, of Worthen, Miss Pauline, of Macon; Mrs. H. C. Searles, of Washington; Miss Lucy Hamilton, of Greenville; Mrs. McKelley, of Milledgeville; Mrs. Norman, Mrs. West Bane, Mrs. Bert Amos, of Doraville; Mrs. Paul Wilkins, of Crawfordville; Mrs. Laura Lee, of Warrenton; and Mrs. Marcus Arthur.

THIS IS THE WAY THE CRACKERS WILL LINE UP WHEN THEY FACE THE MOBILE GULLS TUESDAY IN MOBILE

BOWDEN
L.F.

MORAN
C.F.

MANNING
R.F.

POTTS
2nd BASE

EIBEL
1st BASE

RUMLER
CATCHER

HIATT
PITCHER

TULLIS
3rd BASE

BISLAND
SHORT

Federal League

Brookfields Grab
First From Buffalo

BUFALO, N. Y., April 18.—(By) lyn defeated Buffalo 13 to 8 in a

Fans Must Turn Out in Force to Win the Trophy

Heard, oh ye regulars, volunteers, astic. Organisations of every kind ar getting behind the movement in the reservists and forces of other class unto

Red and Black Wins Fourth Game From Patient 5 to 0

Red and Black Wins Fourth Game From Baptist 5 to 0

ATHENS, Ga., April 10.—Georgia won the last game of a four-game series from Mercer this afternoon by the score of 5 to 0. Neither team scored until the fifth inning when Corley singled and brought in the first run. In the sixth inning with two on Howard McWhorter doubled to right center and counted two runs, Georgia scored two more in the eighth and put the game on ice. Corley pitched a fine game, walking none and allowing only four scattered hits.

MERCER—	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Swann, lb.	4	0	1	7	9	0
Hawes, ss.	4	0	0	2	1	1
Soshy, 2b.	4	0	1	1	2	1
Clements, c.	4	0	0	7	2	0
Weaver, cf.	4	0	0	3	0	0
Dewberry, 3b.	3	0	1	1	2	0
Adams, rf.	2	0	0	1	1	0
Hunt, rf.	0	0	0	0	0	0

Gibson, Jr.	3	0	1	2	0
Stevens, p.	3	0	0	0	4
xBell	1	0	0	0	0
Totals	32	0	4	24	12

xBatted for Adams in seventh.

GEORGIA—	ab.	r.	h.	po.	a.	e.
Clements, ss.	3	1	1	1	5	3
Erwin, cf.	4	1	2	1	6	6
Harrison, 2b.	4	0	2	2	2	3

Henderson, 1b.	4	0	0	10	0
Giles, lf.	3	1	1	0	0
Holden, 3b.	4	1	0	0	2
McWhorter, rf.	4	1	1	3	0
Nannally, c.	2	0	0	10	2
Corley, p.	3	0	1	0	2
Totals	31	5	8	27	14

Score by innings: R. H. E.

Magner	000	000	000	0	4
--------	-----	-----	-----	---	---	--

Georgia 000 012 20x- 5 8

Summary—Two-base hits, Clement, McWhorter; struck out, by Corley 8; by Stevens 6; bases on balls, Stevens 2; double play, Bell to Swan; stolen bases, Dewberry, Harrison, Gillis. Time, 2:10. Umpire, Otto Jordan. Attendance, 2,000.

Wallace Pierce, the Pueblo bowler must have been lucky to break the record at bowling, but how else could he

Hearken, oh ye regulars, volunteers, reservists and forces of other class unto astic. Organizations of every kind are getting behind the movement in the District to see the edge. They have

In 1913 Atlanta grabbed the prize with a record up to that time. Last season Birmingham won out by a comfortable margin. Also it may be observed that in 1913 Atlanta was the pennant winner. This season Birmingham followed up its success in capturing the attendance trophy by grabbing off the flag in the league race. Looks like a good omen, doesn't it? Well, the attendance figures for the "second attend-fore returning home for one series. The Crackers journey to Mobile, where they take the first of two games, and then jump back here to hook up with John Dobbs' Pelicans for four games. In the meantime, Birmingham is pulling a similar stint. They go to Mobile for the first two games against the Pelicans and then go home for four with the Gulls. Chattanooga opens against Nashville in the first of two games, and then the best showing of any organization in the city in attendance at that game. The Gulls will be the only team in every man, woman and child in the city could see the game. From what I can learn Manager Smith has gathered a good team to represent the city, and Atlanta is expected to give support. Furthermore Atlanta's civic reputation is at stake, and Atlanta must always be ready to give support.

Atlanta can and ought to win this opening day attendance, but there is some job ahead of the Braves. Big League baseball is naturally regarded as the strongest contest. The Barons won last year, and copped the flag. Molesworth believes he has another winner.

Brookfeds Grab First From Buffalo

It is considered probable that game will be thrown out, as Gr. Land, of the Brooklyns, after ba for Upham, was taken out to let

Allen's Pitching Wins for Pittfeds

KANSAS CITY, April 10.— pitching for Pittsburg, kept his hits scattered and the Kansas City Fed lost the first game of the season, 8 Konechty hit a home run in the scoring. Mowser and Berghammer

Plank Loses First

Chicago 000 000 03x-3
Plank and Hartley; Hendrix and son.

Newark Winner In First Fed. Game

BALTIMORE, April 10.—Newark realized its entry into the Fed-eraleague by defeating Baltimore here day 7 to 8. Ten hits were made by Quinn, who was relieved by Smol the eighth inning. Falkenberg was effective excepting in the first and eighth innings, though none of Baltimore runs was earned. Governor Gorman threw the first ball into the mound.

Score:

Newark	031 002 001—5
Baltimore	200 000 300—5

Falkenberg and Huhn; Quinn, and Owens.

Cubans Solve Deliveries of Williams and Thompson for Eight Hits and Six Runs. Fernandez Pitches Nice Game-Herrera Hits Homer in Fourth

By Innis Brown

The Havana Reds, after four days stay in Atlanta, pulled out of the city Saturday Nashville bound with lighter hearts and glad some smiles. Perseverance on their part finally prevailed, and they succeeded in grabbing the final clash in a series of four starts against the Crackers. The count showed 6 to 4 in their favor when the ships were released from the wind-up machine at the season's last wind-up afternoon.

They were due to a couple of agencies calculated to make the roles interesting in any old ball game. They landed effectively on the slab offerings of "Cy" Williams and Carl Thompson, and introduced a young left-hander who was the Crackers pretty well on the stage light on through the mainline. Rogers, Leland Gutierrez, were the chief operators, with the war club. The first named poked a clean home off Williams in the fourth and Gutierrez lashed out a triple and single that counted in the run getting. These were garnered off the delivery of Carl Thompson. Leland punched a clean double against Williams, but the blow was al-

In the meantime Senior Fernandez was watching very carefully after the sticking efforts of the Crackers. Fernandez is a left-hander, and drew a showing against the locals in Friday's game. However, he had been exerting himself rather freely in preliminary practice, not expecting to be shoved into the line up, and his arm was very bad. His showing was accordingly anything but impressive.

But Saturday the story was different. The display was an exceptional speed, and at three o'clock it was still a bit wild. But other than these, he exhibited about as much stuff as any left hander has put on display around here in quite some time. He put down nine men on strikes, including in the total two aces, and hit three batters. Ray Moran and one each against Bigland, Tallos, Jenkins, Williams, and Niederhorn. Jenkins and Niederhorn were sent in as pinch hitters, but neither was able to connect as well as the other men's bats. A total of 14 cash hits sums up the picture of the Sunday men's effort.

Not a single one of the runs scored by this Cracker were of the almost pure earned variety. Errors figured in practically all of them, and then, too, young Fernandez lost aim on several occasions and put runs on with bases on balls. But twice he retired the locals by whiffing a couple of batters after he issued his gratuities, and on both occasions he drew a strong hand from the fans.

The game was very close for long features, but the Cracker and his war features outshone the local and his war features of Fernandez and some good long-distance hitting by the trib of visitors mentioned in a preceding paragraph.

Herrera fired one down the third baseline so swiftly that Tullon had no time to offer at it at all, and it even passed Bowden in left. The ball rolled nearly to the top of the pile of dirt in deep left, and the visiting shortstop tugged home safely without sliding. Gutierrez triple was a stinger hit between Mora and Manning that rolled to the second board, and only fast work in recovering

Both teams were surfs of several jobs in fielding. Foltz had a rather astrous day, tumbling one grounder and dropping a nice pop foul. Rumber to catch a runner attempting to steal second. Umpire McGuffan had already called the game out, when he discovered that the ball had dropped from Claude's mitt, and he changed his decision. Captain Island dropped a high spinner back in short left, but the error

The visitors were also guilty of several bobbles. Gonzalez booted one in pinch on Lanning's rap in the eighth with the bases all set, permitting one run to score. He also allowed Bistard grounder to roll through him in the same round, putting the captain on first. Herrera failed to swing to a foul ball.

hiring agency last year. Rodriguez dom on Monday, a roller in the night.
The same day, the last of the season series for the Yankees. Monday afternoon, they pack their kits and head down to Florida, where they help the Gulls open the season in that city.
Tuesday, they come back to open the Wednesday.

ATLANTA — ab. r. h. po. a.
Bowden, lf. 5 1 1 0 0

Hiland, S.	7	5	1	0	0
Ebel, H.	4	9	0	12	3
Moran, C.	3	0	0	0	0
Manning, W.	4	1	3	2	6
Tullon, J.	2	0	0	1	3
Potts, D.	4	0	0	1	2
Rumley, A.	3	1	1	10	2
Williams, P.	3	0	0	1	2
Thompson, D.	1	0	0	0	0
Total	28	4	4	21	16

	Concepcion, Ch.	5	1	2	3
Plank, Roderic	5	6	0	0	0
Quier, Herman	5	1	1	1	1
Sanchez, Juan	4	0	0	0	0
Sanchez, Manuel	3	2	0	0	0
Sanchez, Rodolfo	4	1	1	2	3
Sanchez, Oscar	4	0	0	1	5
Sanchez, Bernar	2	0	0	0	1
Sanchez, Fernando	3	1	0	0	4

Totals	35	4	8	27	15
Score by innings					R H
Atlanta	000	010	021	—
Reds	000	100	341	—	8 8

Virginia Nine
Trumps Tarheels
 GREENSBORO, N. C., April 10.—The University of Virginia won the open

State of the Union banquet series at the University of North Carolina. The afternoon by a score of 5-0. Carolina's two runs were made in the bottom while Virginia scored two runs in the top three in the third inning. The crowd of 1,000 in the fourth inning. The crowd of 1,000 in the fourth inning.

Score	R	H	E
Virginia	103	001	005	3	10
Carolina	000	000	007	2	3

Grandstand: E. Farman; Shields, Hays and Carroll.

Majors and Minors

Reds Win One

CINCINNATI, O., April 10.—The Cincinnati Nationals defeated the Boston Americans here today 3 to 1.

Score: R. H. E.
Cincinnati..... 3 6 0
Boston..... 1 2 0
Schneider and Dooin; Ruth and Cady.

Giants Beaten

RICHMOND, Va., April 10.—Two home runs failed to save the New York Americans from defeat by the Richmond Internationals 4 to 2.

Score: R. H. E.
Richmond..... 4 2 0
New York..... 2 7 2
Russell and McHale; Peritt, Marquard and Myers.

Browns Maul Cards

ST. LOUIS, April 10.—Pou pitchers failed to stop the slugging of the St. Louis Americans today and the local Nationals were defeated 9 to 4.

Score: R. H. E.
Nationals..... 9 4 2
Americans..... 4 2 0
Grinner, Lott, Robinson, Niekamp and Olsen; Snyder, Loudermilk and Agnew.

White Sox Cop

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 10.—The Chicago Americans defeated the Kansas City Americans here today 4 to 3.

Score: R. H. E.
Chicago..... 4 3 0
Kansas City..... 3 1 2
Scott and Schall; Daley; Sanders, Robbins, Riegan and Moore.

Cubs Down Chicks

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 10.—The Chicago Nationals defeated Memphis, of the Southern association, 16 to 2 here today.

Score: R. H. E.
Chicago..... 16 2 0
Memphis..... 2 8 7
Lavender and Freeman; Hargrave, Morrison, Robertson and Marshall.

Locust Grove Loses

MACON, Ga., April 10.—Lanier High today defeated Locust Grove Institute by 7 to 0. The visitors appeared quite frightened, while the locals played like real ball players, getting much of the swing at the ball. Charles White, son of Dr. J. L. White, pastor of the Atlanta Tabernacle, played second base for the Locust Grove Institute team.

Braves Lose Another

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The Washington Americans made their second straight over the world's champion Boston Nationals by winning today's exhibition game 4 to 2.

Score: R. H. E.
Washington..... 4 2 2
Boston..... 2 8 7
Johnson, Ayres and Altmith; Hess, Strand and Whaling and Grew.

Athletics Split Series With Phils

PHILADELPHIA, April 10.—The Philadelphia National League team defeated the local American League team, and the final game of the spring series 5 to 2. In the series each team secured three victories and one game was tied.

Score: R. H. E.
Philadelphia Americans..... 5 2 2
Philadelphia Nationals..... 2 8 7
Shavey and Schang; Alexander and Skiffier.

Indians Beat Columbus

COLUMBUS, O., April 10.—The Cleveland Americans, with Stein pitching, outthrew and outfielded the Columbus American association team here today and won 6 to 3.

Score: R. H. E.
Cleveland..... 6 1 2
Columbus..... 3 8 7
Stein and O'Neill; Billings; Schenberger, Turner and Coleman.

Midkiff's Homer Wins

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 10.—Midkiff's home run in the ninth inning enabled the Louisville American association team to defeat the Pittsburgh Nationals again today 4 to 3.

Score: R. H. E.
Pittsburgh..... 3 6 4
Louisville..... 4 4 2
Harmon and Gibson; Middleton, Seaton and Cross.

College Games

At Nashville, Tenn.—Vanderbilt University, 14; University of Chattanooga, 5.
At New Orleans—Tulane, 8; Jefferson, 7.
At Syracuse, N. Y.—University of Buffalo, 7; Syracuse university, 18.
At West Point, N. Y.—Army, 6; Rutgers, 6.
At Princeton—Princeton, 10; Ursinus, 9.
At Washington—Catholic university, 8; Kentucky State, 2.
At Annapolis, Md.—College, 5; Navy, 8.
At Baltimore, Md.—Johns Hopkins, 7; Maryland Agricultural college, 6.
At Burlington, N. C.—Wake Forest, 17; Elen college, 9.
At Philadelphia—Swarthmore, 11; Pennsylvania, 4.
At Washington—Georgetown, 5; Williams, 1.
At Lexington, Ky.—University of Michigan, 8; Kentucky State, 2.
At New York—Columbia, 5; New York, 3.
At Ithaca, N. Y.—Bucknell, 4; Cornell, 3.
At Providence, R. I.—Providence (international league), 7; Brown university, 6.
At New Haven, Conn.—Yale, 8; Fordham, 3.

Fullerton's Gossip

Manager Herzog, it is announced, will continue to run the Cincinnati Reds as he uses fit, barring an occasional helpful hint from G. Hermann, Philadelphia, Harry Stephens, Jack Ryder, Gassman and about half of Weller's waiters.

We sincerely hope Joe Tinker gets enough out of his old wells to grease the joints of some of his athletes.

We welcome Ducky McFarland back from his retirement, but why couldn't he have lost Emil Thiry during his lay-off?

Red Russell, of the Chicago White Sox, pitched while wearing a rubber shirt, won his game and made a triple, a triple and a home run. In a straight-jacket he would be some pitcher.

Leslie Mann has invented a new sun glass that will enable him to look up through the glasses, and down without them. What he needs most is one that will make him see a fast curve ball.

Sir Walter Raleigh is in New York chances are he'll have to tip the coat boy $2 before he can get it to spread in the mud.

How the Crackers Size Up as Barrier is Sprung

BY INNIS BROWN

When the Crackers registered the last putout in their fourth game of the series with the Reds Saturday afternoon, Billy Smith's charges completed their course of preparatory work for the 1915 campaign, which begins in earnest this morning. That they would up all of their preliminary rounds, and nothing further is to be done save the putting on of a few finishing touches here and there. Maybe a bit of massaging of sore spots, and rubbing out of minor kinks remain to be done, but on the whole the tribe is ready for the fray.

Then if they are all primed and pointed for the first bout with the Mobile Gulls on opening day, what do you think of them? How do they stack up? What do you consider their chances worth to come home winners next September? These queries with slight variations have been hurled at us numberless times within the past few days. So here goes for an opinion, good for whatever worth you may see fit to put on it, and nothing more.

As the bunch lines up today, it looks good. This does not mean to say that it will win the pennant, nor even that it will run second. There are too many considerations which might butt in to spoil their chances. Injuries have knocked more than a few ball club out of a batting, and internal dissensions have tripped up even the most promising outfit in days past, and there is never any way of telling whether such is in store for a club in advance. Such emergencies can be met only when they arrive and survive the meeting makes or mar a win.

But to get back to the personnel of the club as it now stands. Six weeks, or even a month ago, Manager Smith confidently expected to add another outfielder and another infielder to the roster. Even now he may feel that such is likely to prove necessary. However just at present, he is content to take a chance on what he has, and is giving him a section of regulars full opportunity to deliver if acceptable style.

This being the case, we may be assumed that the following force will face the opposition when the barrier is sprung: Ebel at first, Potts at second, Bissard at short, Tullos at third, Moran at catcher, and Manning at pitcher. On the battery question the issue is still in doubt. It is generally certain that one hurler will have to go, and the catcher problem is still unsettled. The club's heavy showing so far, so favorably that Bill Hites to cut either of the pair. If he has no other prospect, it is possible that the three will be carried, under a scheme of using Bill Rumber in the garden, in case of an injury to one of the regular trio of hurlers.

As to the hurlers, the manager has not yet divulged his opinion of the work of the hurlers. It is not likely that more than six will be carried, and there are seven on the list now, so it looks like one will have to be dropped. Make your own guess as to who it will be. Manager Smith is worrying none just now over his slacking force. He believes that he has a good array of pitching talent as was ever gathered on one club in this league since its organization.

Ebel at first and Bissard at short are the veteran infielders from last year's team. They need no comment. So well satisfied with them was Manager Smith that he fully eliminated consideration of any other candidates for the job. If there could be any assurance that the team as a whole would come through as well as this pair, as anything can be, at least as well as anything can be, in baseball. President Hites might as well send in to the flag emporium the address of the local club for delivery on a bundle to be shipped out some time next fall, or at least in time for flag-raising ceremonies next spring.

At second Claude Potts is the nominee.

FANS MUST TURN OUT FOR OPENING DAY

(Continued from First Sport Page.)

baseball should be there sure, and more than that every other public spirited citizen of Atlanta should not only go himself, but should see to it that he gets others to go as well. Atlanta must win.

President A. Candler, Jr., of the Atlanta Athletic club, "if there is a more enthusiastic bunch of baseball fans in Atlanta than the members of the Atlanta Athletic club, I don't know where they are. Sure we'll be there, and the crowd will know it too. We're for Billy Smith, his Crackers, and for Atlanta, and we are out to see that Atlanta wins."

Wednesday will be one day that I would like to see the street of Atlanta deserted at least between the hours of three and five.

The baseball association plans to have tallboys, motorbuses and other conveyances running the streets during the forenoon, and up until game time with brass bands.

Especially resistant to shock, strain and vibration, the Ford is the sturdiest, most durable car in the world. Vanadium steel, heat-treated by the Ford process, accounts for the strength and light weight of the Ford car. Strong, light, simple and efficient, the Ford gives service and satisfaction to more than 700,000 owners every day, at an average cost of two cents a mile for operation and maintenance.

Buyers will share in profits if we sell at retail 300,000 new Ford cars between August 1914 and August 1915.

Touring Car $490; Runabout $440; Town Car $690; Coupelet $750; Sedan $975, f. o. b. Detroit with all equipment.

On display and sale at Ford Motor Co., 365 Ponce de Leon Ave.

Especially resistant to shock, strain and vibration, the Ford is the sturdiest, most durable car in the world. Vanadium steel, heat-treated by the Ford process, accounts for the strength and light weight of the Ford car. Strong, light, simple and efficient, the Ford gives service and satisfaction to more than 700,000 owners every day, at an average cost of two cents a mile for operation and maintenance.

Buyers will share in profits if we sell at retail 300,000 new Ford cars between August 1914 and August 1915.

Touring Car $490; Runabout $440; Town Car $690; Coupelet $750; Sedan $975, f. o. b. Detroit with all equipment.

On display and sale at Ford Motor Co., 365 Ponce de Leon Ave.

Harley-Davidson Wins

Birmingham-to-Atlanta Contest

W. E. DeGroat on Harley-Davidson wins First Place and the Birmingham Ledger Trophy Cup.

Harley-Davidson Wins the Venice, Cal., 300-Mile Race, Averaging 69 Miles to Hour, Breaking All Previous Records.

PROVING

on Road and Endurance Contest or for Speed Their Supremacy.

Jno. Aiken Breaks Birmingham-to-Atlanta Record of 6 Hours, Covering Distance in Five Hours and 30 Minutes--211 Miles.

Harley-Davidson Motor Co.

Builders of High-Grade Motors for 14 Years
222 Peachtree St. Southern Branch, Atlanta, Ga.
Distributors for Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, North and South Carolina, Florida

PAIGE

"The Standard of Value and Quality"

See The Paige "Six"—That's All

Not Only The Best Price—But The Best Quality
Not Only The Best Six—But The Best Motor Car

That Is The Paige "Six-46"

It doesn't matter if you don't own a car or intend to own one or know anything about motor cars. We want you to see the Paige "Six-46"—simply because it opens a new epoch in the progress of mechanical science. We want you to see the Paige "Six-46," not only because we believe it marks the highest development of motor car designing, engineering and construction in this country, but also because we believe it to be a mechanical achievement as near perfection as human brains and human experience can make it. And the price is $1395.

See other "Sixes"—all other "Sixes." Disregard the price. Look for quality. Compare the essentials of motor car values. Look at the motors of all "Sixes." The motor means power, flexibility, speed, service. Look at the body designs for beauty, distinction. Look at the spring suspension. That means easy riding. Look at the lighting and starting equipment. They mean convenience, ease of motoring—otherwise. Look at the wheelbase and roominess and upholstery. They mean comfort. Look at the lubrication and ignition and carburetion and the clutch. They mean reliable service and safety.

Then look at the Paige "Six-46!"

Paige-Continental motor 3 1/2 x 5 1/4. Exquisite body design of latest European style. Cantilever spring suspension. Gray & Davis electric lighting and starting system. 124 inches of wheelbase and a big roomy seven-passenger body. Combination pressure and splash lubricating system. Bosch magnetos. Rayfield carburetor. Multiple-disc cork-inset clutch. And a dozen more Super-Value features.

How much more then should you pay for the Paige "Six-46?"

But you pay less—Vastly less.

Other "Sixes" cost $100, $200 and $400 more than the Paige.

The Paige "Six-46" is $1395.

So see them all. Convince yourself—And then see the Paige.

Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company, Detroit, Michigan

W. J. Dabney Implement Co.

Also the world-famous Glenwood "Four-36" now $1075.

96-98-100 S. Forsyth St., Atlanta, Ga.

$1395

Six 46

PAIGE MODEL FAIRFIELD

Advertising in the Journal Sells the Goods

Speed Demons Seek to Abate Smoke Evils

Discharge of Fumes and Smoke From Exhaust of Racing Cars Cause of Much Danger to Drivers, and Discomfort to Spectators--Ray Harroun Talks on Subject

To formulate some rule which will enable officials of an automobile race meeting to cope, on a definite basis, with the smoke nuisance which has prevailed at virtually all the California race meetings during the winter, will undoubtedly be the function of the authorities of the sport at no distant date.

Smoke from the exhaust of racing automobiles has been long a stench in the noses of the spectators and a source of accident to competitors. It arises from the incomplete combustion of gasoline and from the surplus of lubricating oil with which some drivers insist on drenching the motors of their cars.

In the early days of the sport, this smoke was accepted as a nuisance which could not be avoided. That the time is now ripe for engineers to design cars which will not smoke or else to suffer the penalty for inefficient motors and carburetion is a view which is taken by many racing authorities.

This was, in fact, the stand taken by the management of the recent Venice, Cal., Grand Prix race. The course at Venice was only three miles in circuit and contained several narrow stretches, on one of which the grand stand happened to be located. The turns were sharp in several places and the danger from smoke especially great.

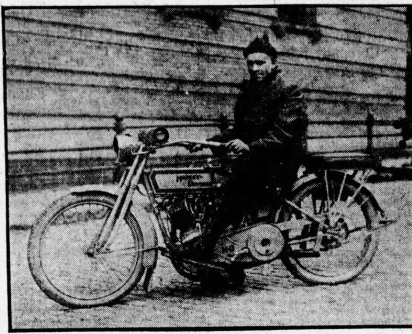

Acting on the power conferred by the American Automobile association rules for the protection of spectators and the general safety of contestants, the Venice authorities, backed by Chairman Kennersell, of the contest board, announced before the race that any automobile reported as smoking, either on the course or on leaving the pits, should be flagged to a stop and the crew compelled to drain the crank case. This precaution worked wonderfully in reducing the amount of smoke on the course.

While several drivers complained bitterly over what they proclaimed a hardship and although the restriction may have eliminated a few cars during the race, it was generally voted that the experiment had been a success.

As a matter of fact, the offensive smoking in to a great extent, a driving trick, used by the crew of a car that is being overtaken to prevent the car following a good enough view of the roadway to enable it to pass. Hitherto such tactics have been deemed legitimate. The more advanced school of engineers and racing experts unite in predicting the elimination of the smoke nuisance.

There is really no excuse for a smoking automobile, either on the race track or in the hands of a private owner on the road," declares Ray Harroun, chief engineer of the Maxwell Motor company, whose cars have been prominent in all the recent speed competitions for their consistent performance and their economical needs of gasoline and oil. "Perfect carburetion and a correct

AIKEN THE WINNER

This photograph shows Johnnie Aiken on his Harley-Davidson motorcycle, after Mr. Aiken broke all records for time on a motor between Birmingham and Atlanta, in the recent Birmingham-Atlanta run.

International Chooses League Arbiters

NEW YORK, April 10.—President Harrow, of the International league, announced today the make-up of his 1915 umpiring staff.

William B. Carpenter, Robert Hart, John Mullen and Peter Harrison have been retained, while the new umpires are A. J. Cleary and Edward Eckman, who officiated in the New York State league last year. Frank Brown, from the Three I league, and "Buck" Freeman, from the defunct Tri-State league, Harrow today completed the league schedule, which is expected to be adopted here Monday and will be made public the latter part of next week.

Noted Swimmer Dies

GLOUCESTER, Mass., April 10.—Peter S. McNally, of Boston, formerly widely known as a long distance swimmer and life-saver, died today of heart failure. He gained international notice by his attempt to swim the English channel in 1897. He was forced to quit when within four miles of the French shore.

Lubrication system are all that is necessary to prevent excessive smoke.

"As a matter of fact, we believe that the lubricating system of any car—racing or touring—should be so designed that excessive smoke will be impossible. A well designed motor does not need to be drenched with surplus oil, even at the highest motor speeds. Our racing experiments have proved this beyond a question. We will welcome any reasonable restriction regarding smoke from our racing cars. I have never seen them smoke in any of their recent races and don't believe it possible for them to become offensive or dangerous, nor have I ever heard a competitor complain about them on this score."

Gotham Folk to Honor Willard

New Champion Arrives in New York Saturday Night—Big Public Reception Awaits Him There

NEW YORK, April 9.—A public welcome and demonstration in honor of Jess Willard has been arranged for arrival of the new world's champion heavyweight here tomorrow night. A reception committee of men prominent in the sporting world will meet him at the railroad station and an escort of paraders headed by a band and including a detachment of Boy Scouts and members of the Kansas society and other organizations will lead the champion's progress up Seventh avenue and Broadway to the St. Nicholas club. There Willard is to box four rounds with Jim Savage, his sparring partner.

Next week Willard will begin a two-week engagement at a local vaudeville theater. As boxing exhibitions are permitted only in licensed athletic clubs, the champion will appear in a sketch.

According to an announcement today Willard will make a theatrical tour of the country which will prevent him from boxing again for nine months or a year. In the meantime, it was thought, the real contenders for his title would be reduced to one or two.

United States District Attorney Marshall said today that if the films of the Willard-Johnson fight are brought to New York from Havana, they will be detained until a judicial ruling has been given on the question of admitting the films of the Ritchie-Welch contest which were brought here from London recently. The collector of the port, Dudley F. Malone, said he would exclude the films from entry.

THE

IN THE

BIRMINGHAM ENDURANCE RUN

422 Miles Without Changing Spark Plug, Tightening a Nut, Bolt or Screw, on the Machine

This run was made under the most adverse road conditions, and the score was made mechanically perfect. The HENDERSON was penalized 12 points through the carelessness of another rider cutting to the right-hand side of the road and running into our machine.

This again proves the perfect mechanical construction and stability of the four-cylinder motor in the HENDERSON motorcycle.

Let us demonstrate this machine to you.

HENDERSON MOTORCYCLE CO.,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL

SOUTHERN FACTORY BRANCH

E. W. Cauthorn, Manager, 90 Edgewood Avenue, Atlanta, Ga.

The Latest White—the finally-perfect streamline body—completely equipped, including White Monoprot, rain-vision, ventilating windshield, speedometer, electric warning signal, trunk rack, Silvertown Cord Tires

The WHITE —a masterpiece

¶ In the Latest White Motor Cars ---so spontaneously admired for their beauty of form and finish--- one will immediately recognize those rare qualities that have always made custom workmanship so plainly apparent and so eagerly sought.

¶ Every vestige of former vogue in body design has vanished in a finally-perfect streamline body.

¶ The conventional back of the front seat---always awkward in appearance---is absorbed in the center cowl, a gentle ripple in the streamline.

¶ This is but one of the individual touches that distinguish every other feature and give the White a character all its own.

¶ The creative treatment of the custom builder is admirably expressed in the richness of finish and equipment.

¶ Critical inspection is invited at the salesroom of

THE WHITE COMPANY

63-65 Ivy Street, Atlanta

Hupmobile CAR OF THE AMERICAN FAMILY

Ask the Woman Who Drives

One woman who drives a Hupmobile, spoke for all others when she said:—

"I feel when I am driving the Hupmobile, as though I were a part of the car—or as though it were a part of me."

She meant, of course, that the Hupmobile responded immediately to every impulse or direction she gave it.

She meant that it is always as easily and completely under her control as her own movements.

She meant that she always feels safe and sure and secure, because she always knows exactly what the Hupmobile will do under any and all circumstances.

A woman knows, for instance, that the Hupmobile motor will not stall—and because it can not, therefore it's safest.

She knows the turning radius of the Hupmobile is remarkably small for a car of its length. That makes it easy to handle.

With a wheelbase of 119 inches, the Hupmobile will circle in a 40-foot street.

The motor is so flexible that she gets along with a minimum of gear shifting. The steering is so easy that a child can guide the car almost without effort.

The driving seat is made with a scientific regard for her comfort—with a high, restful back, and the seat cushion tilted at precisely the right angle.

She gives no thought to emergencies which might require repairs, because she knows that repairs are so few and far between that they can safely be forgotten.

The Hupmobile is always a source of pleasure to the woman who drives—or the woman who rides.

That's why in every Hupmobile home there's a woman who is a Hupmobile enthusiast.

Let us give the Hupmobile merit-test at your convenience.

JOHN M. SMITH

120-122-124 AUBURN AVE.

F. W. NORTHCUTT, Sales Manager

JOHN E. SMITH, President

$1200 f.o.b. Detroit

5-pass. Touring Car or Roadster

7-pass. Touring Car - $1225

SPEAKING OF CHAMPIONS

---BY RIPLEY

Cubs No Longer
Fear Southpaws

Bresnahan is Prepared to Share Righthand Hitters
When Portlanders Oppose
Club

TAMPA, Fla., April 10.—Roger Bresnahan wants it distinctly understood that he will not have a ball club that will be considered soft picking for a right-hand twirler. That's about all that Roger has heard this spring. "A good ball club, yes, but wait until the southpaws get after them," the critics have said. Roger has planned his battle, and this is the way in which he expects to beat that.

Send Pican to second base in place of McElroy when there is a southpaw on the slab.

Send Pete Knisely to center in place of Fred Williams when there is a left-hander opposing the Cubs.

The manager is sincere in one of the outfield positions.

The manager is sincere in one of the outfield positions.

Walter Keating has been informed that he is through as a Cub and will be sent to the Rochester club of the International league. The youngster didn't have a complaint, but said he would rather be with the minors and in the game than with the majors and on the bench.

Bresnahan said that he had sent Keating in the eastern club under an informal agreement, so that Walter may find himself in the majors next season.

Welling, the lightweight who has sprung into prominence through his later work this winter, is after big game. He wants a crack at the champion, and Welling has proved so good this winter that the sportswriters who have been watching his work around Chicago declare that he is the peer of any man in the lightweight division and the coming champ of the welterweights.

Welling, the lightweight who has sprung into prominence through his later work this winter, is after big game. He wants a crack at the champion, and Welling has proved so good this winter that the sportswriters who have been watching his work around Chicago declare that he is the peer of any man in the lightweight division and the coming champ of the welterweights.

Welling, the lightweight who has sprung into prominence through his later work this winter, is after big game. He wants a crack at the champion, and Welling has proved so good this winter that the sportswriters who have been watching his work around Chicago declare that he is the peer of any man in the lightweight division and the coming champ of the welterweights.

Red Tubes Cut
Friction Wear

Process Used in Vulcanizing
Proven by Empire Tire Company to Cut Wear From
Friction Half in Two

Friction is generally recognized as one of the major tire troubles. There are several reasons for friction, the chief of which is, of course, high speed. Heavy loads, winding roads and wheels out of alignment all contribute to generate friction which tends to draw the life and resiliency from the tire.

Tire makers have often experimented in an effort to produce a tire that would offer greater resistance to friction. The Empire Rubber and Tire company, of Trenton, N. J., appears to have succeeded in making a tire of red rubber that is a poorer conductor of heat by 40 per cent than the materials of other tires.

Factory tests made on machines duplicating average road conditions have been made by this concern to determine the wearability of Empire red tires. The tires gave a greater amount of mileage than is common, and one of the reasons advanced was that the tire was found to be almost impervious to heat.

The tires gave a greater amount of mileage than is common, and one of the reasons advanced was that the tire was found to be almost impervious to heat.

The tires gave a greater amount of mileage than is common, and one of the reasons advanced was that the tire was found to be almost impervious to heat.

The tires gave a greater amount of mileage than is common, and one of the reasons advanced was that the tire was found to be almost impervious to heat.

The tires gave a greater amount of mileage than is common, and one of the reasons advanced was that the tire was found to be almost impervious to heat.

The tires gave a greater amount of mileage than is common, and one of the reasons advanced was that the tire was found to be almost impervious to heat.

Ham Reynolds Signs

WAYCROSS, Ga., April 10.—Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Fullerton's Notes

Odd, is it not, that those managers and owners who kicked hardest last year because we remarked that their teams might be strengthened at a glance who are now yelling most loudly about how much they have improved their teams?

Anyhow, they can't cheat Jess Willard out of his share of the purse. He doesn't get anything until Johnson, Tom Jones, Jack Curley and the Cuban cutinsky get theirs.

President Thomas of the Chicago Cubs declares this will be a banner year in baseball. Yes, and the Cubs will be carrying the banner if it gets any worse.

President Thomas of the Chicago Cubs declares this will be a banner year in baseball. Yes, and the Cubs will be carrying the banner if it gets any worse.

President Thomas of the Chicago Cubs declares this will be a banner year in baseball. Yes, and the Cubs will be carrying the banner if it gets any worse.

President Thomas of the Chicago Cubs declares this will be a banner year in baseball. Yes, and the Cubs will be carrying the banner if it gets any worse.

President Thomas of the Chicago Cubs declares this will be a banner year in baseball. Yes, and the Cubs will be carrying the banner if it gets any worse.

President Thomas of the Chicago Cubs declares this will be a banner year in baseball. Yes, and the Cubs will be carrying the banner if it gets any worse.

President Thomas of the Chicago Cubs declares this will be a banner year in baseball. Yes, and the Cubs will be carrying the banner if it gets any worse.

Strong Hurling
Staff Assured
For Dobbs' Pels

Task of Cutting Down Will Be
Puzzler for New Orleans
Manager--Eight Hurlers on Hand and Only Five to Be Retained--Bagby Only Man
Certain of Job

NEW ORLEANS, April 10.—Baseball managers who have a superabundance of talent in the springtime are, of course, envied by their brothers who have little or no talent to work with, and yet it is a question as to which manager has the harder time picking his team.

It is certainly easier for the manager who has little talent to make a distinction. He usually knows at a glance where the talent is and where it is not.

In this particular it is a real task for a minor league manager, with various "limits" to observe, to pick his team without making two or three mistakes that he will be held accountable for by the fans later in the year.

John Dobbs' position in regard to his pitchers is extremely difficult, and it is because he has more good pitchers than he needs that he is in a predicament.

John Dobbs' position in regard to his pitchers is extremely difficult, and it is because he has more good pitchers than he needs that he is in a predicament.

John Dobbs' position in regard to his pitchers is extremely difficult, and it is because he has more good pitchers than he needs that he is in a predicament.

John Dobbs' position in regard to his pitchers is extremely difficult, and it is because he has more good pitchers than he needs that he is in a predicament.

John Dobbs' position in regard to his pitchers is extremely difficult, and it is because he has more good pitchers than he needs that he is in a predicament.

John Dobbs' position in regard to his pitchers is extremely difficult, and it is because he has more good pitchers than he needs that he is in a predicament.

John Dobbs' position in regard to his pitchers is extremely difficult, and it is because he has more good pitchers than he needs that he is in a predicament.

John Dobbs' position in regard to his pitchers is extremely difficult, and it is because he has more good pitchers than he needs that he is in a predicament.

Bagby, Beck, Hovik, Morgan and Smith. And that would be leaving from the club at least two pitchers we all know are good pitchers—Kinsinger and Weaver. They were good last season, and they'll probably be good this season.

So, while Dobbs must credit Beck, Hovik, Morgan and Smith with their splendid performances this spring, he must also give Weaver a little more time to come around, and hold an opening for Kinsinger. "Rube" was called away from the team by the illness of his wife.

Bagby's case is absolutely settled. He may be said to be the only one of the eight pitchers who is a copper-rotted cinder to either stay with the Pels or go higher.

Speaking of Bagby recalls a compliment paid him by Willie Mitchell, Cleveland's star left-hander, who has been in the city a week or two and has looked over all the Pelsians.

"Bagby looks ready now for the big leagues," said Mitchell. "He has everything he needs to make good."

"That Jim will go up after this season seems absolutely certain. He is expected to go up last fall and still is 'sore' because the Cleveland club didn't take him. The only thing in regard to his work last season that militated against him was the fact that he got no part of the season he had to be nursed along. That sounds strange, in view of the additional fact that Jim worked in 38 games, only the four pitchers in the league surpassing him in the number of games. But the records show that all twirlers who worked in from 35 to 41 games pitched many more innings than Jim. Bagby pitched 218 2/3 innings in 41 games; Gaudin 238 1/3 in 41; Hardgrove 252 in 40; Merritt 285 in 34; against Bagby 211 innings in 38 games.

Of new pitchers it looks as though Eddie Hovik is the best bet, and that Cy Morgan and Beck are pretty sure bets. Beck has done extremely well in the exhibitions. Morgan, with his experience and his left-hander, should be a big winner in this league.

Of new pitchers it looks as though Eddie Hovik is the best bet, and that Cy Morgan and Beck are pretty sure bets. Beck has done extremely well in the exhibitions. Morgan, with his experience and his left-hander, should be a big winner in this league.

Of new pitchers it looks as though Eddie Hovik is the best bet, and that Cy Morgan and Beck are pretty sure bets. Beck has done extremely well in the exhibitions. Morgan, with his experience and his left-hander, should be a big winner in this league.

Of new pitchers it looks as though Eddie Hovik is the best bet, and that Cy Morgan and Beck are pretty sure bets. Beck has done extremely well in the exhibitions. Morgan, with his experience and his left-hander, should be a big winner in this league.

Of new pitchers it looks as though Eddie Hovik is the best bet, and that Cy Morgan and Beck are pretty sure bets. Beck has done extremely well in the exhibitions. Morgan, with his experience and his left-hander, should be a big winner in this league.

Face Eruptions Have
Deep Significance
Often They Indicate Impurities Deep in the Tissues.

The results shown by S. S. & S. in clearing the skin reveal how searching and how deeply this famous blood purifier attacks blood troubles. Facial eruptions are more often significant of impaired nutrition resulting from faulty elimination of body wastes. It is not so. There is in S. S. & S. a product of nature that is rated one of the most potent principles known for the complete elimination of blood troubles.

Wherever you go there are people who know this to be true from their own experience. The results shown by S. S. & S. are so clear and so convincing that they are a breath of fresh air to the sufferer from blood troubles. One of the strange things today is that so many people are willing to believe that mercury is the one antidote. It is not so. There is in S. S. & S. a product of nature that is rated one of the most potent principles known for the complete elimination of blood troubles.

Wherever you go there are people who know this to be true from their own experience. The results shown by S. S. & S. are so clear and so convincing that they are a breath of fresh air to the sufferer from blood troubles. One of the strange things today is that so many people are willing to believe that mercury is the one antidote. It is not so. There is in S. S. & S. a product of nature that is rated one of the most potent principles known for the complete elimination of blood troubles.

Wherever you go there are people who know this to be true from their own experience. The results shown by S. S. & S. are so clear and so convincing that they are a breath of fresh air to the sufferer from blood troubles. One of the strange things today is that so many people are willing to believe that mercury is the one antidote. It is not so. There is in S. S. & S. a product of nature that is rated one of the most potent principles known for the complete elimination of blood troubles.

Wherever you go there are people who know this to be true from their own experience. The results shown by S. S. & S. are so clear and so convincing that they are a breath of fresh air to the sufferer from blood troubles. One of the strange things today is that so many people are willing to believe that mercury is the one antidote. It is not so. There is in S. S. & S. a product of nature that is rated one of the most potent principles known for the complete elimination of blood troubles.

Wherever you go there are people who know this to be true from their own experience. The results shown by S. S. & S. are so clear and so convincing that they are a breath of fresh air to the sufferer from blood troubles. One of the strange things today is that so many people are willing to believe that mercury is the one antidote. It is not so. There is in S. S. & S. a product of nature that is rated one of the most potent principles known for the complete elimination of blood troubles.

Wherever you go there are people who know this to be true from their own experience. The results shown by S. S. & S. are so clear and so convincing that they are a breath of fresh air to the sufferer from blood troubles. One of the strange things today is that so many people are willing to believe that mercury is the one antidote. It is not so. There is in S. S. & S. a product of nature that is rated one of the most potent principles known for the complete elimination of blood troubles.

Wherever you go there are people who know this to be true from their own experience. The results shown by S. S. & S. are so clear and so convincing that they are a breath of fresh air to the sufferer from blood troubles. One of the strange things today is that so many people are willing to believe that mercury is the one antidote. It is not so. There is in S. S. & S. a product of nature that is rated one of the most potent principles known for the complete elimination of blood troubles.

Wherever you go there are people who know this to be true from their own experience. The results shown by S. S. & S. are so clear and so convincing that they are a breath of fresh air to the sufferer from blood troubles. One of the strange things today is that so many people are willing to believe that mercury is the one antidote. It is not so. There is in S. S. & S. a product of nature that is rated one of the most potent principles known for the complete elimination of blood troubles.

Wherever you go there are people who know this to be true from their own experience. The results shown by S. S. & S. are so clear and so convincing that they are a breath of fresh air to the sufferer from blood troubles. One of the strange things today is that so many people are willing to believe that mercury is the one antidote. It is not so. There is in S. S. & S. a product of nature that is rated one of the most potent principles known for the complete elimination of blood troubles.

Cubs No Longer
Fear Southpaws

Bresnahan is Prepared to Share Righthand Hitters
When Portlanders Oppose
Club

TAMPA, Fla., April 10.—Roger Bresnahan wants it distinctly understood that he will not have a ball club that will be considered soft picking for a right-hand twirler. That's about all that Roger has heard this spring. "A good ball club, yes, but wait until the southpaws get after them," the critics have said. Roger has planned his battle, and this is the way in which he expects to beat that.

Send Pican to second base in place of McElroy when there is a southpaw on the slab.

Send Pete Knisely to center in place of Fred Williams when there is a left-hander opposing the Cubs.

The manager is sincere in one of the outfield positions.

The manager is sincere in one of the outfield positions.

Walter Keating has been informed that he is through as a Cub and will be sent to the Rochester club of the International league. The youngster didn't have a complaint, but said he would rather be with the minors and in the game than with the majors and on the bench.

Bresnahan said that he had sent Keating in the eastern club under an informal agreement, so that Walter may find himself in the majors next season.

Welling, the lightweight who has sprung into prominence through his later work this winter, is after big game. He wants a crack at the champion, and Welling has proved so good this winter that the sportswriters who have been watching his work around Chicago declare that he is the peer of any man in the lightweight division and the coming champ of the welterweights.

Welling, the lightweight who has sprung into prominence through his later work this winter, is after big game. He wants a crack at the champion, and Welling has proved so good this winter that the sportswriters who have been watching his work around Chicago declare that he is the peer of any man in the lightweight division and the coming champ of the welterweights.

Welling, the lightweight who has sprung into prominence through his later work this winter, is after big game. He wants a crack at the champion, and Welling has proved so good this winter that the sportswriters who have been watching his work around Chicago declare that he is the peer of any man in the lightweight division and the coming champ of the welterweights.

Red Tubes Cut
Friction Wear

Process Used in Vulcanizing
Proven by Empire Tire Company to Cut Wear From
Friction Half in Two

Friction is generally recognized as one of the major tire troubles. There are several reasons for friction, the chief of which is, of course, high speed. Heavy loads, winding roads and wheels out of alignment all contribute to generate friction which tends to draw the life and resiliency from the tire.

Tire makers have often experimented in an effort to produce a tire that would offer greater resistance to friction. The Empire Rubber and Tire company, of Trenton, N. J., appears to have succeeded in making a tire of red rubber that is a poorer conductor of heat by 40 per cent than the materials of other tires.

Factory tests made on machines duplicating average road conditions have been made by this concern to determine the wearability of Empire red tires. The tires gave a greater amount of mileage than is common, and one of the reasons advanced was that the tire was found to be almost impervious to heat.

The tires gave a greater amount of mileage than is common, and one of the reasons advanced was that the tire was found to be almost impervious to heat.

The tires gave a greater amount of mileage than is common, and one of the reasons advanced was that the tire was found to be almost impervious to heat.

The tires gave a greater amount of mileage than is common, and one of the reasons advanced was that the tire was found to be almost impervious to heat.

The tires gave a greater amount of mileage than is common, and one of the reasons advanced was that the tire was found to be almost impervious to heat.

The tires gave a greater amount of mileage than is common, and one of the reasons advanced was that the tire was found to be almost impervious to heat.

Ham Reynolds Signs

WAYCROSS, Ga., April 10.—Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Ham Reynolds, formerly of the Atlanta Southern league team signed a contract with the Waycross Georgia State league team today.

Fullerton's Notes

Odd, is it not, that those managers and owners who kicked hardest last year because we remarked that their teams might be strengthened at a glance who are now yelling most loudly about how much they have improved their teams?

Anyhow, they can't cheat Jess Willard out of his share of the purse. He doesn't get anything until Johnson, Tom Jones, Jack Curley and the Cuban cutinsky get theirs.

Anyhow, they can't cheat Jess Willard out of his share of the purse. He doesn't get anything until Johnson, Tom Jones, Jack Curley and the Cuban cutinsky get theirs.

Anyhow, they can't cheat Jess Willard out of his share of the purse. He doesn't get anything until Johnson, Tom Jones, Jack Curley and the Cuban cutinsky get theirs.

Anyhow, they can't cheat Jess Willard out of his share of the purse. He doesn't get anything until Johnson, Tom Jones, Jack Curley and the Cuban cutinsky get theirs.

Anyhow, they can't cheat Jess Willard out of his share of the purse. He doesn't get anything until Johnson, Tom Jones, Jack Curley and the Cuban cutinsky get theirs.

Anyhow, they can't cheat Jess Willard out of his share of the purse. He doesn't get anything until Johnson, Tom Jones, Jack Curley and the Cuban cutinsky get theirs.

Anyhow, they can't cheat Jess Willard out of his share of the purse. He doesn't get anything until Johnson, Tom Jones, Jack Curley and the Cuban cutinsky get theirs.

Anyhow, they can't cheat Jess Willard out of his share of the purse. He doesn't get anything until Johnson, Tom Jones, Jack Curley and the Cuban cutinsky get theirs.

Strong Hurling
Staff Assured
For Dobbs' Pels

Task of Cutting Down Will Be
Puzzler for New Orleans
Manager--Eight Hurlers on Hand and Only Five to Be Retained--Bagby Only Man
Certain of Job

NEW ORLEANS, April 10.—Baseball managers who have a superabundance of talent in the springtime are, of course, envied by their brothers who have little or no talent to work with, and yet it is a question as to which manager has the harder time picking his team.

It is certainly easier for the manager who has little talent to make a distinction. He usually knows at a glance where the talent is and where it is not.

In this particular it is a real task for a minor league manager, with various "limits" to observe, to pick his team without making two or three mistakes that he will be held accountable for by the fans later in the year.

John Dobbs' position in regard to his pitchers is extremely difficult, and it is because he has more good pitchers than he needs that he is in a predicament.

John Dobbs' position in regard to his pitchers is extremely difficult, and it is because he has more good pitchers than he needs that he is in a predicament.

John Dobbs' position in regard to his pitchers is extremely difficult, and it is because he has more good pitchers than he needs that he is in a predicament.

John Dobbs' position in regard to his pitchers is extremely difficult, and it is because he has more good pitchers than he needs that he is in a predicament.

John Dobbs' position in regard to his pitchers is extremely difficult, and it is because he has more good pitchers than he needs that he is in a predicament.

John Dobbs' position in regard to his pitchers is extremely difficult, and it is because he has more good pitchers than he needs that he is in a predicament.

John Dobbs' position in regard to his pitchers is extremely difficult, and it is because he has more good pitchers than he needs that he is in a predicament.

John Dobbs' position in regard to his pitchers is extremely difficult, and it is because he has more good pitchers than he needs that he is in a predicament.

Bagby, Beck, Hovik, Morgan and Smith. And that would be leaving from the club at least two pitchers we all know are good pitchers—Kinsinger and Weaver. They were good last season, and they'll probably be good this season.

So, while Dobbs must credit Beck, Hovik, Morgan and Smith with their splendid performances this spring, he must also give Weaver a little more time to come around, and hold an opening for Kinsinger. "Rube" was called away from the team by the illness of his wife.

Bagby's case is absolutely settled. He may be said to be the only one of the eight pitchers who is a copper-rotted cinder to either stay with the Pels or go higher.

Speaking of Bagby recalls a compliment paid him by Willie Mitchell, Cleveland's star left-hander, who has been in the city a week or two and has looked over all the Pelsians.

"Bagby looks ready now for the big leagues," said Mitchell. "He has everything he needs to make good."

"That Jim will go up after this season seems absolutely certain. He is expected to go up last fall and still is 'sore' because the Cleveland club didn't take him. The only thing in regard to his work last season that militated against him was the fact that he got no part of the season he had to be nursed along. That sounds strange, in view of the additional fact that Jim worked in 38 games, only the four pitchers in the league surpassing him in the number of games. But the records show that all twirlers who worked in from 35 to 41 games pitched many more innings than Jim. Bagby pitched 218 2/3 innings in 41 games; Gaudin 238 1/3 in 41; Hardgrove 252 in 40; Merritt 285 in 34; against Bagby 211 innings in 38 games.

Of new pitchers it looks as though Eddie Hovik is the best bet, and that Cy Morgan and Beck are pretty sure bets. Beck has done extremely well in the exhibitions. Morgan, with his experience and his left-hander, should be a big winner in this league.

Of new pitchers it looks as though Eddie Hovik is the best bet, and that Cy Morgan and Beck are pretty sure bets. Beck has done extremely well in the exhibitions. Morgan, with his experience and his left-hander, should be a big winner in this league.

Of new pitchers it looks as though Eddie Hovik is the best bet, and that Cy Morgan and Beck are pretty sure bets. Beck has done extremely well in the exhibitions. Morgan, with his experience and his left-hander, should be a big winner in this league.

Of new pitchers it looks as though Eddie Hovik is the best bet, and that Cy Morgan and Beck are pretty sure bets. Beck has done extremely well in the exhibitions. Morgan, with his experience and his left-hander, should be a big winner in this league.

Of new pitchers it looks as though Eddie Hovik is the best bet, and that Cy Morgan and Beck are pretty sure bets. Beck has done extremely well in the exhibitions. Morgan, with his experience and his left-hander, should be a big winner in this league.

Face Eruptions Have
Deep Significance
Often They Indicate Impurities Deep in the Tissues.

The results shown by S. S. & S. in clearing the skin reveal how searching and how deeply this famous blood purifier attacks blood troubles. Facial eruptions are more often significant of impaired nutrition resulting from faulty elimination of body wastes. It is not so. There is in S. S. & S. a product of nature that is rated one of the most potent principles known for the complete elimination of blood troubles.

Wherever you go there are people who know this to be true from their own experience. The results shown by S. S. & S. are so clear and so convincing that they are a breath of fresh air to the sufferer from blood troubles. One of the strange things today is that so many people are willing to believe that mercury is the one antidote. It is not so. There is in S. S. & S. a product of nature that is rated one of the most potent principles known for the complete elimination of blood troubles.

Wherever you go there are people who know this to be true from their own experience. The results shown by S. S. & S. are so clear and so convincing that they are a breath of fresh air to the sufferer from blood troubles. One of the strange things today is that so many people are willing to believe that mercury is the one antidote. It is not so. There is in S. S. & S. a product of nature that is rated one of the most potent principles known for the complete elimination of blood troubles.

Wherever you go there are people who know this to be true

NEW OFFER IS MADE CAPITAL CITY CLUB
TO CLOSE PURCHASE

ARCHITECT BROWN'S DRAWING OF REMODELED BROOKHAVEN CLUB HOUSE

RESIDENTS WILL HELP REPAVE PONCÈ DE LEON

At the Grand theater Sunday night

2nd FLOOR

STAIRS HALL

LOBBY

RECEIVING

In addition to the numbers to be rendered by the chorus, Dr. Kraft has arranged an unusually brilliant program of Mr. Weltner, will address the Bible class of the Rock Spring Presbyterian Sunday school Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Linton Johnson, pastor of the church, will introduce Mr. Weltner.

1

BALANCE AND AUTO RIDE
BROUGHT T. P. A. MEET TO A BRILLIANT CLOSE

Atlanta Meeting Was One of Most Successful and Harmonious in History of Geo-gia Division

NEXT CONVENTION WILL BE HELD AT VALDOSTA

Entertainment Committee of Post B Given High Praise for the Superb Way the Convention Was Handled

The big ball at the Ansley hotel on Friday night and the automobile tour of the city Friday afternoon were the features of the entertainment program which brought to a brilliant close the state convention of the Travelers' Professional association which convened in Atlanta on last Thursday.

The great ball room of the Ansley hotel was thrown open to the guests as early as 8 o'clock when the dancing began and the guests danced from that time until their various trains departed throughout Friday night and the early hours of Saturday morning.

During the intermission W. O. Stamps, head of the dance committee, introduced Carson and Dix Tanner, famous fiddlers of Georgia, who together with a companion who played the guitar, furnished music for an old-fashioned country breakdown, which was particularly enjoyed by the ball I ever attended," were the words upon the tongues of the dancers as they each made their goodbye.

LADIES' ENTERTAINMENT.
Friday afternoon all of the visiting ladies were taken for an automobile tour of the city. The ladies visited C. J.
Kamper's department store, where a most delightful luncheon was served them, and later gathered at Cox college in College Park, where they were entertained with a musical.

The convention delegates after the adjournment of the business session on Friday afternoon got away on their auto tour of the city, visiting the plant of the P. O. Stone Baking company, where they were welcomed with refreshments from the automobile plant, and later the entire party, both ladies and gentlemen, gathered at the Virginia Pines camp where a picnic luncheon was spread under the trees. The ladies were entertained with dances and songs of the country.

The convention was the most successful in many respects that has ever been held in Georgia. It was a harmonious throughout, all the delegates evidencing an enthusiasm and delight for the good of the Georgia division which was marked by every one. The only sharp contest that developed was the election of officers. The delegates of Columbia, and C. H. Harrison, of Montgomery, were the main contestants.

Following the re-election of Mr. Gildine, which was made unanimous on the motion of Mr. Harrison, all the sharp edges smoothed by the contest were smoothed away and the delegates departs for the good of the order during the coming year by every member of this great association.

AMID THUNDEROUS ENTHUSIASM Albert
H. Johnson, president of the Georgia division, presided at the convention.
Valdosta was the convention for 1916.
The following ladies were taken in charge early Thursday morning by Mrs.
H. J. Johnson, president of the Georgia division, and her assistants, and her entertainment committee, and her able assistants, and the pleasure of the visitors was increased by the presence of Miss Anderson and her committee which they carried out their part of the entertainment program.

J. P. Harrison, chairman of the general entertainment committee, is also highly commended for the able manner in which the entire convention was conducted as well as the chairing and members of all the subcommittees, which include R. A. Broyles, chairman of the reception committee, N. P. Pickett, Jr., chairman of the refreshment committee, J. H. Anderson, chairman of the program and entertainment committee, J. H. Anderson, chairman of the program and entertainment committee, and Miss Anderson, chairman of the program and entertainment committee.

The following were the other officers elected by the convention, being presented to the body by the nominating committee:

BOARD OF DIRECTORS—Resident members:
H. J. Frank, M. F. Meyer, R. F.
Litchan, J. V. Burroughs, Fred Neuberger, J. H. Anderson, J. W. Bates,
E. D. McDonald, Max Hammer and Tom Herring.

CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEES.
The following committee chairmen were also elected: Railroad, R. A.
Broyles.

Freshen Up Your Stock
For the Spring trade.
Send your orders for STATIONERY to
The Hirschberg Company
Atlanta—1317 Nelson St.—Ga.

The celebrated GLENDALE LINE

THE ATLANTA JOURNAL

WHEN T. P. A. DELEGATES WENT ON AUTOMOBILE TOUR OF ATLANTA

The picture at the left shows a group at P. O. Stone Baking company, where a stop was made for refreshments. In the center is shown another group at a stop along the way. The party at the right are shown chattering as they passed through the streets of Atlanta.

SALESMEN NOW SMILING; BUSINESS IS BETTER

Lewis Tells of the Reawakening of Trade in Southern States

Editor Firing Line:
There is an old adage that says: "Keep busy and all is well." This being true, the south must assuredly will have one of the most prosperous years in its history regardless of past financial conditions.

Merchants all over the country are buying goods and filling in their stocks with new up-to-date merchandise. The salesman carries a most decided gain on his countenance, and declares business is 50 per cent better than thirty days ago.

The jobbers of Atlanta are realizing a better business now than was experienced through the month of December.
Everywhere, the old world seems to be waking up, wheels that have been idle for months are turning again. They will all be out again in their territories. The happy employee trudges to work with a springing step and a satisfied smile on the river, who said:
"I envy no man, and no man envies me."

Already old mother earth is waking up to the first signs of spring. You may hear the "gee" and "haw" of the farmer boy as he follows his faithful Maud up and down the furrow preparing to plant the seeds that sustain the life of the nation.

The merchants are ever ready to take off their hats to this individual; the producer of hog and hominy, and will gladly exchange their wares for his chickens, greens, etc. He also furnishes us with cotton, which is the money source of the south, and which is steady
by advancing day by day.

We are all many men of many minds,
all working together to promote prosperity, preserve peace and prevent priva-
tion. E. P. LEWIS.

Broyles of Atlanta; Delegates: M. M.
Anderson, Atlanta; press, J. H. Andrews, Atlanta; hotel, Dennis Fleming,
Albany; post, G. W. Bates, Albany; vannab, employment, E. L. Adams, Atlanta; state attorney, Hon. James L.
Mayson, Atlanta; state chaplain, Rev.
R. B. Bell, Atlanta.

Post B, Atlanta—Delegates: J. H. Andrews, Atlanta; post, G. W. Bates, Albany; van, E. L. Adams, Atlanta; state attorney, Hon. James L. Mayson, Atlanta; state chaplain, Rev. R. B. Bell,
Atlanta.

Post B, Atlanta—Delegates: J. H. Andrews, Atlanta; post, G. W. Bates, Albany; van, E. L. Adams, Atlanta; state
attorney, Hon. James L. Mayson, Atlanta; state chaplain, Rev. R. B. Bell,
Atlanta.

Post B, Atlanta—Delegates: J. H. Andrews, Atlanta; post, G. W. Bates, Albany; van, E. L. Adams, Atlanta; state
attorney, Hon. James L. Mayson, Atlanta; state chaplain, Rev. R. B. Bell,
Atlanta.

GEORGIA T. P. A.'S WILL URGE ANTI-TIPPING BILL

Indorse Measure Framed by Dennis Fleming—Other Legislative Matters

The Georgia T. P. A.'s at the convention held in Atlanta last week went on record as favoring an anti-tipping bill to be introduced at and passed by the coming legislature. The bill submitted to the bill presented by Mr.
Fleming was referred to the incoming legislative committee for favorable action.
Mr. Fleming's bill makes it unlawful for any hotel, restaurant, cafe, dining hall, railroad company or sleeping car company to allow its employees to receive any tip or for any patron of any hotel, cafe, and the like, to give a tip; and any employer of such public utilities to receive any tip.

The report of M. M. Anderson, chairman of the legislative committee, stated that the bill for the regulation of hotels which had been introduced by the Georgia
T. P. A.'s in their convention at Columbia last year had been introduced in the legislature but was not reached on the calendar because so much time was consumed on other legislative matters. Mr.
Anderson stated that the bill, however, would be reached early on the calendar
this year, and would undoubtedly pass.
This bill was passed by the T. P. A.'s, the U. C. T.'s and the Georgia hotel-keepers' association and will likely go through without opposition.

Another matter that was referred by the convention to the legislative and hotel committees was the bill for the regulation of the Georgia division, which some sort of law which would compel a hotel when a call was made there for a certain time to see that the guest should be served. The bill was referred to the committee for its action.
Immediately the reason for his acknowledging Albert Ehrlich, secretary of the Georgia division, that some such provision as this was necessary to prevent the repetition of anything like the occurrence which took place in the hotel at Columbia, S. C., last year. A traveling man left a call there for a certain time. He failed to respond to the call of the bellboy and later to that of the maid, and was left undisturbed; and the next morning, twenty-four hours later, he was found dead in his room and had been dead all that time, the hotel having failed to attend to his needs.
The bill was referred to the committee for its action.

ADVANCE FALL SALES GOOD AT JOHN SILVEY'S
"Our advance sales for fall outfits, underwear and cotton goods are exceedingly good," said R. K. Rambo, of John Silvey & Company, "this indicating that the business of the fall will be up to a sound basis and will be very active, in my opinion."

principle of get what we are entitled to;
with pleasure, I assure you, I received the very heartiest co-operation at all times of Mr. H. D. Shackelford, railroad chairman for the U. C. T.'s, and his assistance was invaluable in bringing about the settlement of our knotty problems."

IT'S A PERFECT DELIGHT TO LIGHT
A CIGARETTE

A man of good, sound judgment won't accept
"just as good," for there is none.

ROSENFELD CO. ATLANTA, GA.
MANUFACTURERS OF WINDOW SHADES
We now have ready for immediate shipment, STOCK
SIZE window shades in all grades—SPECIAL SIZES
TO ORDER.

Southern Distributors of
CREX CARPET AND RUGS
Southern Distributors of
BLABON'S LINOLEUM, CORK CAR-
PET AND FLOOR OIL CLOTH
Full and Complete Stock of All Grades of
Rugs, Carpets, House Furnishings, etc.

ROSENFELD CO. Atlanta, Ga.

PAREX PAREX PAREX PAREX PAREX
PAREX PAREX PAREX PAREX PAREX
PAREX PAREX PAREX PAREX PAREX
PAREX PAREX PAREX PAREX PAREX
PAREX PAREX PAREX PAREX PAREX
PAREX PAREX PAREX PAREX PAREX
PAREX PAREX PAREX PAREX PAREX
PAREX PAREX PAREX PAREX PAREX

CAPITAL CITY TOBACCO CO.
ATLANTA, GA.

WE ARE DISTRIBUTORS FOR THE FAMOUS
"Morning Glory" Hams, Bacon
FOR THE OUT-OF-TOWN TRADE.
E. L. ADAMS CO., Atlanta, Ga.

Second Group of
J. K. Orr Travelers
Here for Samples

The second group of J. K. Orr travelers were in during the past week receiving samples for their fall lines. They may hear the "gee" and "haw" of the farmer boy as he follows his faithful
Maud up and down the furrow preparing to plant the seeds that sustain the life of the nation.

The merchants are ever ready to take off their hats to this individual; the producer of hog and hominy, and will gladly exchange their wares for his chickens, greens, etc. He also furnishes us with cotton, which is the money
source of the south, and which is steady
by advancing day by day.

We are all many men of many minds,
all working together to promote prosperity, preserve peace and prevent priva-
tion. E. P. LEWIS.

Broyles of Atlanta; Delegates: M. M.
Anderson, Atlanta; press, J. H. Andrews, Atlanta; hotel, Dennis Fleming,
Albany; post, G. W. Bates, Albany; van-
nab, employment, E. L. Adams, Atlanta; state attorney, Hon. James L.
Mayson, Atlanta; state chaplain, Rev.
R. B. Bell, Atlanta.

Post B, Atlanta—Delegates: J. H. An-
drews, Atlanta; post, G. W. Bates, Albany; van, E. L. Adams, Atlanta; state
attorney, Hon. James L. Mayson, Atlanta; state chaplain, Rev. R. B. Bell,
Atlanta.

Post B, Atlanta—Delegates: J. H. Andrews, Atlanta; post, G. W. Bates, Albany; van, E. L. Adams, Atlanta; state
attorney, Hon. James L. Mayson, Atlanta; state chaplain, Rev. R. B. Bell,
Atlanta.

Post B, Atlanta—Delegates: J. H. Andrews, Atlanta; post, G. W. Bates, Albany; van, E. L. Adams, Atlanta; state
attorney, Hon. James L. Mayson, Atlanta; state chaplain, Rev. R. B. Bell,
Atlanta.

Post B, Atlanta—Delegates: J. H. Andrews, Atlanta; post, G. W. Bates, Albany; van, E. L. Adams, Atlanta; state
attorney, Hon. James L. Mayson, Atlanta; state chaplain, Rev. R. B. Bell,
Atlanta.

Post B, Atlanta—Delegates: J. H. Andrews, Atlanta; post, G. W. Bates, Albany; van, E. L. Adams, Atlanta; state
attorney, Hon. James L. Mayson, Atlanta; state chaplain, Rev. R. B. Bell,
Atlanta.

Richards Co. Orders
Carload of Tablets
For School Trade

H. M. Koppin, of the S. P. Richards company, last week when the Pirin-gia representative called, was busy writing out an order for a carload of tablets to be used by that firm for its fall school trade. The tablets were ordered from the J. C. Blair company, of Huntingdon, Pa. They are expected to arrive in May.

WILDER MADE TRUSTEE FOR JONES BROS. CO.
Prominent Manufacturer Is Elected Permanent Trustee of Defunct Firm

D. R. Wilder, president of the D. R.
Wilder Manufacturing company, who was appointed receiver for Jones Brothers & company by the court, has recently been elected permanent trustee by the creditors of the defunct company. Under the able management of Mr. Wilder the assets of the firm are being managed and disposed of in an efficient manner. Mr. Wilder states that he will be glad to receive orders for any pickles, vinegar and pickle products of the firm from any or all of his trade. Atlanta, Ala., and throughout the territory which is his by his company.

FRANKEL SELLS BIG OPENING RUG BILL
J. M. Frankel, traveler of the Rosenfeld company, succeeded in landing big opening bill of rugs for a department store in Kentucky. Mr. Frankel secured the order for his company over the competition of a fall leading rug concern in the entire country.

UNIFORM BRAND PURE GEORGIA
CANE SYRUP
"BEST BY TEST"

D. R. WILDER MANUFACTURING COMPANY
Atlanta - - - Georgia

Dealers:-
Order Your Neckwear
---DIRECT---
From the Factory

Thereby saving the middle-man's profit for yourself—
We will send an assortment by parcel post at any time for your inspection.

All Star Mfg. Co.
Atlanta, Ga.
Open The "Four-Hand" as served colors, No. 60, 625 per doz. 100 per doz. 100 per doz.
We allow the usual discount.

REPORT OF RY. CHAIRMAN RECEIVED COMMENDATION

R. A. Broyles Made Interesting Report on Settlement of Mileage Question

R. A. Broyles, state railroad chairman of the T. P. A., made a report for his committee on the settlement of the mil-age question to the state convention.
His report was received and he was according the thanks of the convention for his good work.

In recognition of Mr. Broyles' services he was unanimously indorsed by the convention for the national railroad chairman, who will be named at the Omaha convention.

The following is the report submitted by him:

"As reported at Columbia, I (in company with Mr. H. D. Shackelford, railroad chairman for U. C. T.) had an early engagement to meet the national passenger representatives with regard to a settlement of the mileage question, which our association has been vexed for several years. Said conference was duly held and what we (Mr. Shackelford and I) determined a most happy settlement of all grievances was brought about, the principal features of which were the restoration to former status of all forms of mileage, viz.: 2 and 2.5 penny scrip, which at that time had been withdrawn from the state; also the railroads conceded my request for what is known as a "stop-over ticket," allowing a passenger five days within which to reach his destination with the privilege of stopping at any or all intermediate points without any renewal whatsoever.

As the testimony before the Georgia and South Carolina legislatures and railroad commissions showed nine-tenths of the delays and annoyances the traveling men were subjected to, occurred not at the terminals but at the intermediate points where the railroads necessarily kept less experienced agents and the varied duties of agent and telegraph operator to perform the stop-over ticket was my suggestion that our members would be freed from these annoyances and could purchase at the terminal the ticket for the beginning of his trip, a ticket to carry him through the week, without any additional exchanges at ticket windows.

"Besides the above privilege, the Central of Georgia system of railroads as well as the Georgia and Atlanta and West Point agreed to recognize Form Z ticket at face value, which was a great concession as they had in the past required 2 1/2 cents mileage, namely,
Form Z; this was a reduction of 20 per cent in rate.

"Shackelford and I together have cause for congratulation, as we are now on terms to hear and make efforts to ac-cure to our wishes, whenever possible.
This position, I think, could only have been brought about by a disposition on the traveling men's part to remember that we only wanted that which was just,
and that we would not be dominated by the spirit of get what you can but rather give precedence to the higher principle of get what we are entitled to;
with pleasure, I assure you, I received the very heartiest co-operation at all times of Mr. H. D. Shackelford, railroad chairman for the U. C. T.'s, and his assistance was invaluable in bringing about the settlement of our knotty problems."

ROSENFELD CO. ATLANTA, GA.
MANUFACTURERS OF WINDOW SHADES
We now have ready for immediate shipment, STOCK
SIZE window shades in all grades—SPECIAL SIZES
TO ORDER.

Southern Distributors of
CREX CARPET AND RUGS
Southern Distributors of
BLABON'S LINOLEUM, CORK CAR-
PET AND FLOOR OIL CLOTH
Full and Complete Stock of All Grades of
Rugs, Carpets, House Furnishings, etc.

ROSENFELD CO. Atlanta, Ga.

ON THE FINGING LINE WITH THE COMMERCIAL TRAVELERS

R. J. Williams, Jr., specialist representative of the Brower Candy company, continues to have good success on the sale of Brower's medicated cough drops. Last week the company sent a big shipment to a firm in Winchester, Va., the order for which was secured by Mr. Williams on his recent trip.

Ed Skelley, the veteran pipe salesman, representing the celebrated G. P. P. pipes made by Kaufman, Bros. & Bondy, of New York, was a visitor last Wednesday at the Hirschberg company.

R. H. Kimbrough, sales manager for the Union American Cigar company, of Pittsburgh, Pa., makers of the "Pittsburgh Famous" cigars, one of the most popular staples upon the market, was in the city for two days last week visiting the Capital City Tobacco company. This company purchased from Mr. Kimbrough a large quantity of cigars which they will put on the market within the next two weeks.

A. Brower, of the Brower Candy company, last week was in the city over the trip which he had recently made to Columbus, Ga. "Everything was busy as could be at Columbus," said Mr. Brower. "I heard no hard times at all and I had a big sale on our pure sugar stick candy and our medicated cough drops."

Max Samuels, the old war horse of the Hirschberg company, returned last week to headquarters from a trip to Mississippi.

J. E. Schauburger, representative of the Boston garter, was a pleasant visitor in Atlanta last week. Mr. Schauburger has been working the territory adjacent to Atlanta and reports the widely increasing popularity of the Boston garter.

H. Y. McCord, of McCord-Stewart company, who underwent an operation at St. Joseph's hospital three weeks ago, is at the office on last Wednesday for the first time since his operation, regaining his strength rapidly and will be back at his desk in a short time.

The March business of the H. L. Sinner company was decided in increase over March of 1914.

"Trade in Atlanta has been fine," said W. O. Stamps, of Palm & Stamps. "Whether this is due to the good weather or to the spirit of optimism brought to the city by the convention, I do not know, but I do know that business has been unusually good."

H. A. Sewell, traveler for Kelley Brothers company, who has headquarters at Temple, Ga., has bought a new Ford automobile. Mr. Sewell declares that during the week he will sell the Serv-us line of goods furnished by his company and that on his return he will ride in his automobile; he declares the combination of Serv-us and Ford is unbeatable.

Felix Kohler, the new salesman of the Dixie Paper company in Alabama, sent in a good lot of orders last week.

H. W. F. Chapman, one of the leading fancy grocers of Savannah, S. C., was a visitor last week at the Hirschberg company. Mr. Chapman reports things as looking much brighter in his territory and that there is no reason why business this fall should not be practically up to the normal level.

W. P. Price, of the E. L. Adams company, who recently underwent an operation at the hospital, last week was able to be taken to his home and be back on his sales rounds in a short while.

W. S. Gaston, of Palm & Stamps, is spending the week end with his parents at Carrollton, Ga.

Martha Manley, the little daughter of B. H. Manley, had the misfortune to break her arm last week. She is, however, rapidly recovering from her injury.

Among the travelers of John Silvey & Co., who had splendid business during the past week were Sam Johnson, P. H. Jeter, and Banks Whitman.

W. T. Culpepper, hereafter, will cover the territory formerly covered by W. Y. Talley for Palm & Stamps. This will put Mr. Culpepper upon the road all the time now. Hereafter he has been spending three days covering the territory along the West Point road.

R. K. Rambo, of John Silvey & Co., will leave next Tuesday for New York, where he will be gone until the 15th. On a buying trip for the dry goods department of his firm, Mr. Rambo, is a section buyer for the firm, has been in New York for several weeks and will return to Atlanta, the latter part of this week.

Lynn Fort of the Lamar & Rankin Drug Co., was away the latter part of last week attending the meeting of the Southern Drug club at Mobile, Ala.

Among the patrons of the Lamar & Rankin Drug company during the past week were Dr. J. Z. Henry, Ellenwood, Ga.; Dr. C. C. Brooks, Covington, Ga.; Mr. Wilson Williams, Woodbury, Ga.; Dr. McDaniel, Duluth, Ga.; Dr. Evans, Griffin, Ga.; Dr. J. T. Wages, Windsor, Ga.; Dr. A. R. Scott, McDonough, Ga.; Dr. Hodges, Marietta, Ga.; Dr. L. G. Garrett, Austell, Ga.

LUNCEFORD REPRESENTING UNDERWEAR AND HOSIERY
E. M. Lunceford & Co. are now located at 922 Healey building, Atlanta, and are manufacturers' agents for hosiery and underwear. They have all the new shades in silk hose and these are selling rapidly. Mail orders are promptly filled by them. Mr. Lunceford is a prominent member of the T. C. T. and was for a number of years secretary of Atlanta Council 18. All his wide circle of friends will be for him his success in his new agency.

Serv-us
BRAND

Market For Georgia Farm Products.

Ship us peas, corn, meal, canned goods, potatoes, hams, bacon, lard, syrup, sorghum, hides, tallow, feathers, anything of value raised in Georgia. Market for merchant or farmer.

Georgia Products Co.
68 S. Forsyth Street.

GROUP OF VISITING LADIES in attendance on the state T. P. A. convention. The picture was taken just before the ladies left Friday morning for their automobile tour of the city, during which they stopped at C. J. Kamper's Peachtree store for luncheon, and at Cox college, at College Park, where they were given a musicale.

NEWS AND NOTES OF BIG T. P. A. GATHERING HERE

Sayings and Doings of the Persons Who Made Up Annual Convention of Georgia Division.

Max Krauss, of the Savannah delegation and the oldest Travelers' Protective association member in Georgia, was presented with a cane by the Savannah delegation at the theater party on Thursday night. He was given the cane nineteen years ago at the convention in Atlanta. The Savannah delegation secured it from him on Thursday and took it to a jeweler bearing a golden heart and the inscription, "The same old love from the same old boys." The cane was given to Mr. Krauss at the theater, and he received with a graceful speech.

Rev. S. R. Bell, state chaplain of the Georgia division, was re-elected unanimously to that position and was also elected to the position of national chaplain made vacant by the recent death of Dr. Homer T. Wilson at San Antonio, Tex. Dr. Bell is very popular with the Georgia Travelers' Protective association and it is certain that they will go to the Omaha convention primed to land him for the national office. He conducted a touching memorial service on Friday morning in honor of the deceased members of the Georgia division and also in honor of the memory of Dr. Wilson.

E. L. Adams, as chairman of the employment bureau, submitted a report on that subject to the convention. Mr. Adams' services were so satisfactory that he was re-elected as chairman of the employment bureau, and was also named as delegate to the convention at Omaha.

M. F. Meyer, of the Savannah delegation, was reading clerk and performed every one.

Dr. Dennis Fleming, of Albany, formerly state president, was a leading figure in the floor of the convention hall. His resonant voice was heard raised in all of the important debates that were had on matters before the convention.

K. P. Allen, secretary of post D, of Savannah, on the auto ride Thursday was thrown from the machine in which he was riding and his arm was badly fractured. He is taken to an infirmary. It will be several days before he can return home. The automobile rounding a sharp curve turned into an obstruction, causing Mr. Allen to be thrown out.

Tom Sherman of the Augusta post, was one of the prominent members on the convention floor. He took a leading part in all the proceedings.

Max Banner of Post C, of Columbus, known as the "old war horse" of the Georgia T. P. A., played a prominent part in all the deliberations of the meeting.

The report of Albert Ehrlich, state secretary, showed that the Georgia division is in fine shape, financially and in regard to members. The membership has increased largely during the past year and now numbers between seven and eight hundred members, about 60 per cent of the increase in the past year.

The report of Albert Ehrlich, state secretary, showed that the Georgia division is in fine shape, financially and in regard to members. The membership has increased largely during the past year and now numbers between seven and eight hundred members, about 60 per cent of the increase in the past year.

The report of Albert Ehrlich, state secretary, showed that the Georgia division is in fine shape, financially and in regard to members. The membership has increased largely during the past year and now numbers between seven and eight hundred members, about 60 per cent of the increase in the past year.

The report of Albert Ehrlich, state secretary, showed that the Georgia division is in fine shape, financially and in regard to members. The membership has increased largely during the past year and now numbers between seven and eight hundred members, about 60 per cent of the increase in the past year.

The report of Albert Ehrlich, state secretary, showed that the Georgia division is in fine shape, financially and in regard to members. The membership has increased largely during the past year and now numbers between seven and eight hundred members, about 60 per cent of the increase in the past year.

The report of Albert Ehrlich, state secretary, showed that the Georgia division is in fine shape, financially and in regard to members. The membership has increased largely during the past year and now numbers between seven and eight hundred members, about 60 per cent of the increase in the past year.

The report of Albert Ehrlich, state secretary, showed that the Georgia division is in fine shape, financially and in regard to members. The membership has increased largely during the past year and now numbers between seven and eight hundred members, about 60 per cent of the increase in the past year.

E. S. MORRIS TELLS GOOD ONE ABOUT SERV-US LINE

E. S. Morris, city salesman of Kelley Brothers company, says that Serv-us goods are the things the people want. "The other day we happened to be out of a certain article in the Serv-us line," said Mr. Morris, "and I sent out to a customer an article of another brand. When I went out to see him later, however, the merchant said that if I did not have the Serv-us line he would be content with the other but he certainly wanted me to take up the other brand and supply him with the Serv-us line as soon as we had a stock on hand. This shows how the Serv-us line is considered by dealers—they know they are good because they sell rapidly."

BIG SKIRT COMPANY OPENS BRANCH HERE

The Scherr Manufacturing company of New Orleans, makers of ladies' skirts, have opened a branch in Atlanta in the Greenfield building, on Marietta street, plant on Monday. This company is one of the largest makers of ladies' skirts in the entire country and it is likely that by the first of next year they will be employing several hundred employees here. The main branch of the plant may be moved here later if the success attends this branch that is expected for it.

J. C. Harrison, president of Post B, and the defeated candidate for the state presidency, aroused a great deal of enthusiasm and applause by the graceful speech in which he asked that the election of Mr. Giddens, his successful opponent, be made unanimous. Mr. Harrison declared that he would serve notice upon the convention that next year Post B would have as many members that it would have the controlling voice in the convention.

J. C. Mason, of the Albany post, was one of the active members of the convention. He was here with his two little daughters who enjoyed the social features of the convention. On Saturday Mr. Mason spent the day with his firm, the Dixie Paper company.

N. Eisenberg, of the Savannah delegation, was one of the active and conspicuous convention workers.

During Friday's session by special invitation the convention was addressed by Senator Hoke Smith and W. J. Harris, newly elected member of the federal trade commission. Senator Smith told how the reserve banks, emergency currency law and marine insurance act had prevented a panic in this country since after the war began. Mr. Harris told of the aims and purposes of the new commission.

C. F. Holt, of the refreshment committee, was one of the busiest men during the entire convention. He saw that everybody had a good time and all the refreshments that they wanted.

S. N. Johnson, Savannah representative of the Typewriter company, was one of the live-wire members of the Savannah delegation.

Post A of Savannah sent the largest delegation to the convention. It numbered thirty-four representatives. They were much in evidence both in the lobby of the hotel and on the convention floor. They had one corner of the hotel lobby decorated with flags and likewise their corner of the convention hall was decorated with banners bearing the name of Savannah. They also distributed to Atlanta is available to the merchant who buys an adequate bill from the members of the Merchants' Association.

Write to H. T. MOORE, Secretary Chamber of Commerce Bldg. Atlanta, - Georgia

to Atlanta is available to the merchant who buys an adequate bill from the members of the Merchants' Association.

Write to H. T. MOORE, Secretary Chamber of Commerce Bldg. Atlanta, - Georgia

to Atlanta is available to the merchant who buys an adequate bill from the members of the Merchants' Association.

Write to H. T. MOORE, Secretary Chamber of Commerce Bldg. Atlanta, - Georgia

to Atlanta is available to the merchant who buys an adequate bill from the members of the Merchants' Association.

Write to H. T. MOORE, Secretary Chamber of Commerce Bldg. Atlanta, - Georgia

to Atlanta is available to the merchant who buys an adequate bill from the members of the Merchants' Association.

Write to H. T. MOORE, Secretary Chamber of Commerce Bldg. Atlanta, - Georgia

to Atlanta is available to the merchant who buys an adequate bill from the members of the Merchants' Association.

Write to H. T. MOORE, Secretary Chamber of Commerce Bldg. Atlanta, - Georgia

to Atlanta is available to the merchant who buys an adequate bill from the members of the Merchants' Association.

Write to H. T. MOORE, Secretary Chamber of Commerce Bldg. Atlanta, - Georgia

to Atlanta is available to the merchant who buys an adequate bill from the members of the Merchants' Association.

We Don't Mean to Be "Geographical Snobs"

Someone said that the "Made-in-America" campaign savors of geographical snobbishness.

That may have been a far-sighted remark. And then again it may NOT.

We manufacturers whose names are affixed to this advertisement are standing strong and long for the use of HOME GOODS by HOME FOLKS.

That has been our slogan this ever so long. We are not geographical snobs.

We know, and know well, that what our section of the country needs more than anything else is to STAND TOGETHER—producer and consumer, manufacturer and merchant, seller and buyer.

The sooner the South sees what a power she is in production of world-needed staples, both food and clothing, the sooner will she develop her resources.

We have only just begun to skim the surface, so to say.

The first thing is to show the world that we can feed and clothe ourselves, make our own utensils and furnishings, and produce our own necessities.

And then we must USE what we produce. We must patronize the industries that turn out these utilities.

We have the factories already—lots of them.

The average consumer does not know the scope and the strength of the factories that are running in ATLANTA alone.

The manufacturers whose names are affixed to this advertisement are producers of goods that ought to be used in ATLANTA, in GEORGIA, and in NEIGHBORING STATES.

Our products are second to none.

The logical place for them to be bought and used and popularized is HOME.

It is, in a way, a matter of neighborliness.

It is, in a very large and important way, a matter of HOME PROTECTION.

The people are coming to see the light in this connection.

The merchants are the men who have the largest opportunity for really constructive and patriotic work in this field.

There are merchants who still insist on going to the north and east for goods—no whit better or more reasonable than our goods.

WHY? They just have not THOUGHT it out.

Merchants, we put it up to you: You are the man most to be helped by an active campaign for HOME GOODS.

Why not work for yourself?

Why not pitch wholeheartedly into this effort to build up your own town and community by giving the glad hand to the goods produced right there?

It isn't for the sake of sentiment. It is for the plain matter of more money for THIS SECTION—for you and for us.

It is SOUND SENSE. It is RIGHT. It is PROFITABLE.

BUY YOUR STOCKS AT HOME AND SEE THE MONEY STAY WHERE IT BELONGS!

Atlanta Agricultural Works

Manufacturers of All Kinds of Farm Implements
1200 MARIETTA STREET

FRANK E. BLOCK CO.

Crackers and Candies
ELLIOTT STREET

McCord-Stewart Co.

"Uno Coffee"
A. B. & A. FREIGHT TERMINAL.

J. K. ORR SHOE CO.

"RED SEAL SHOES"
30 AUBURN AVE.

White Provision Co.

Packers Cornfield Brand Products

MONTAG BROTHERS

Manufacturers of Tablets, Box Papers
Envelopes and School Supplies.
10 NELSON STREET

A. M. ROBINSON CO.

Manufacturers of the Famous "Aragon" Brand Shirts.
59 N. PRYOR STREET

You will instantly realize what it is to smoke the highest quality cigarette in America

ALL KINDS OF COTTON BAGS
Tents, Tarps, and Awnings, Hay and Wagon Covers.
Phone 17 8224. Photo E. F. 22.
Atlanta Tent & Awning Co.
BOX 974-K. ATLANTA, GA.

Reach's Base Ball Goods
Wholesale
Stationery and Druggists'
Sundries
The S. P. Richards Co.
ATLANTA, GA.

OUR-NEWEST PRODUCT. Be sure you include in your order this week a case or so of our FAVORITE BRAND SYRUP With Maple Flavor. A Beautiful, Clear Color and Delightful Flavor
Dixie Pickle & Preserving Company

STOP THAT HACKING COUGH
And Get What is Coming to You—
A GOOD NIGHT'S SLEEP—BROWER'S
MEDICATED COUGH DROP
BROWER CANDY CO.
ATLANTA, GA.

SECTION OF The Atlanta Journal. WEEKLY

SUNDAY, APRIL 11, 1915.

Der Capain's Noives

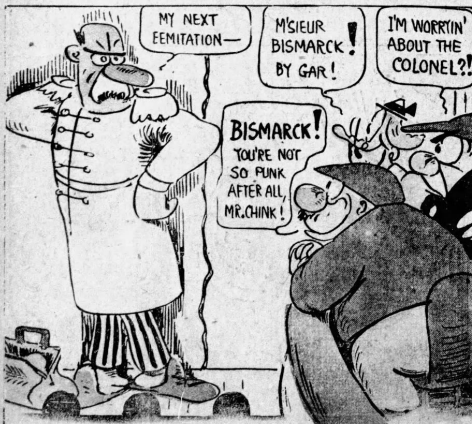

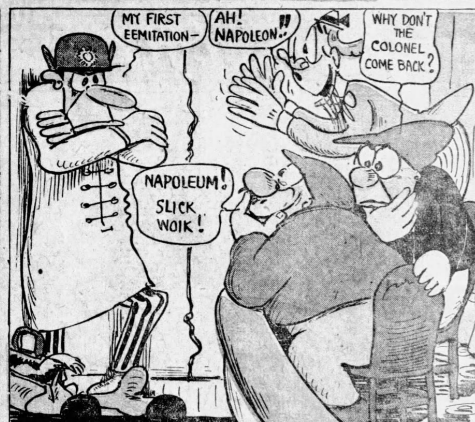

By R. Dirks

Originator of the Katzenjammer Kids

Hawkshaw the Detective---The Great Rescue Scene

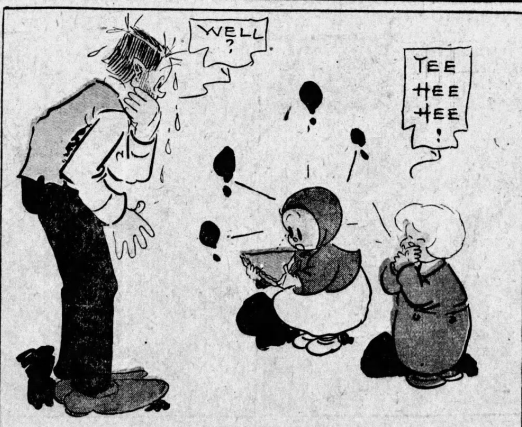

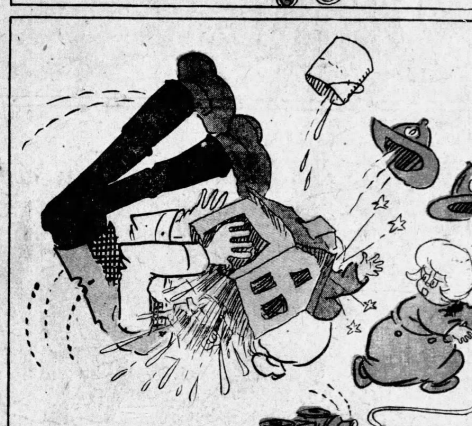

Nippy's Pop Made Sammy Cry, but It's All Right Now

Copyright, 1918, Press Publishing Co. (C. V. World)

LADY BOUNTIFUL

It Wasn't the Fault of Her Little Friends That They Didn't Find Toto

By Gene Carr

